LAST AND BEST.
THE MODEL COOK,
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen the consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when desired.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome oppositions as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that disease can only be cured by the slow, "cooperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need only repeat that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strums, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shaking Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an invaluable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Failing of Weariness, Aching of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Face, Neck, Arms, Hands, Skin, Blotches, Pimples, Ulcers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum.

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. Such cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will cure effectually. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a pulsating swelling under the Breast), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions.

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Dyspepsia, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unsightly and annoying to the young lady. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an enlarged or torpid condition of the liver, that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

Morning Chronicle.

THE FOOTSTEPS OF DECAY.

Translation from an ancient Spanish poem.

Oh! let the soul its slumbers break—
Arouse its senses and awake
To see how soon
Life, in its glories, glides away,
And the stern footsteps of decay
Come stealing on.

And while we view the rolling tide
Down with our flowing minutes glide
Away so fast,
Let us the present hour employ,
And deem each future dream a joy
Already past.

Let no vain hope deceive our mind—
No happier lot is hope to find
To-morrow than to-day.
Our golden dreams of yore were bright,
Like them the present shall decay—
Like them decay.

Our lives like hasting streams must be,
That into one engulphing sea
Are doomed to fall—
The sea of death whose waves roll on O'er king and kingdom, crown and throne,
And swallow all.

Alike the river's lordly tide,
Alike the humble rivulet's glide
To that sad wave;
Death levels poverty and pride,
And rich and poor sleep side by side
Within the grave.

Our birth is but a starting-place;
Life is the running of the race,
And death the goal;
There all our glittering toys are brought—
That path alone, of all unsought,
Is found of all.

See, then, how poor and little worth
Are all these glittering toys of earth
That lure us here!
Dreams of sleep that death must break,
Alas! before it bids us wake,
We disappear.

Long ere the damp of earth can blight,
The cheek's pure glow of red and white
Has passed away.
Youth smiled, and all was heavenly fair—
Age came—and laid his finger there,
And where are they?

Where is the strength that spurned decay,
The step that roved so light and gay,
The heart's blithe tone?
The strength is gone, the step is slow,
And joy grown wearisome, and we
When age comes on!

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which INDOAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be secured in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and tea heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth; do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every lam fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged. Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In government of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

THE ART OF WALKING.—In a graceful human step the heel is always raised before the toe is lifted from the ground, as if the foot were a part of a wheel rolling forward; and the weight of the body, supported by the muscles of the calf of the leg, rests for the time on the fore part of the foot and toes; there is then a bending of the foot in a certain degree. But when strong wooden shoes are used, or any shoe so stiff that it will not yield and allow the bending of the foot, the heel is not raised at all until the whole foot rises with it; so that the muscles of the calf are scarcely used, and in consequence, soon dwindle in size and almost disappear.

Many of the English farm servants wear heavy, stiff shoes; and in London it is a striking thing to see the drivers of country wagons with fine robust persons in the upper part, but with legs that are fleshless spindles, producing a gait which is awkward and unmanly. The brothers of these men, who are otherwise employed, are not so misshapen. What a pity that, for the sake of a trifling saving, fair nature should be thus deformed! An example of this kind is seen in Paris; there, as the streets have few or no side pavements, and the ladies have to walk almost constantly on them, the great action of muscles of the calf has given conformation of the leg and foot to match which the Parisian belle proudly challenge all the world—not aware, probably, that it is a defect in their city to which the peculiarity in their form is in part owing.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions not possessed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charge for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Some of the rebel papers are apprehensive of an attack on Savannah, as a base of operations against Charleston.

New Orleans advices report that the occupation of Indianola, unopposed, by Gen. Warren, is confirmed. The town of Madisonville, La., on the north side of Lake Ponchartrain, has been captured without resistance and garrisoned by our forces.

☞ Gen. Banks had issued a proclamation for a State election for Governor, &c., of Louisiana, on the 22d of February, being fully assured that more than a tenth of the population desire the earliest possible restoration of the State to the Union. The General also appoints a convention for a revision of the constitution, to be held on the first Monday of May next. Arrangements will be made for an early election of members of Congress.

☞ A San Francisco dispatch states that on the 18th of December, the Mexicans attacked Orizaba, occupied by the French and Mexican traitors, and captured the city and garrison by assault. The traitors taken prisoners were shot. Orizaba commands the French communications with Vera Cruz. The Franco-Mexican papers in the city of Mexico abuse U. S. Minister Corwin, on account of his supposed sympathy for the Juarez government.

From old Virginia.—Richmond papers report the passage by their Congress of the bill to conscript all the men who heretofore furnished substitutes. This will prevent the working of the railroads. The Enquirer says all the Virginia Railroad iron is worn out, and so are the men working the roads.

The Enquirer says there is no prospect of any considerable crops this year in several of the fertile counties of Southwestern Virginia. In view of the foregoing law, farmers have hired their field hands to railroad or manufacturing companies, or sent them to cities and towns for employment.—No corn will be raised, and but little oats or wheat, which will hardly suffice for home consumption.

The conscription of all the old soldiers in the rebel armies, whose terms will shortly expire, is urged in a memorial to the rebel Congress by Generals Hardee, Cheatham, Breckinridge and others.

Prize Money.—Among the recent prize cases sent by the Navy Department to the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury, for the distribution of the prize money accruing to the captors, is that of the steamer Kate Dale, captured some months ago by the United States steamer R. R. Cuyler. This case was condemned in the prize court at Philadelphia in November last, and a decree of distribution entered about the 1st of January, decreeing that the R. R. Cuyler was the only vessel entitled to share in the said prize, and that the amount to be distributed was $355,798.12. Each seaman in this case will receive $712,77; first-class firemen, each $1,187.93; second-class firemen, each $237,94; coal-heavers, each $712,77; landsmen, each $475,18.

Washington Items.—The Ways and Means' Committee reduced the Naval appropriations four millions, thus stopping the construction of all iron-clads requiring one year to complete.

The Arkansas reconstruction delegation have had an interview with the House Reconstruction Special Committee. They favor the gradual abolition of slavery. They are to have another interview with the President.

By the Conscription Bill, drafted clergymen who are opposed to bearing arms are detailed to hospitals as non-combatants.

☞ The Naval bill, as reported from the Committee on Ways and Means, appropriates for the ordinary operations of the Navy proper about $37,000,000 in addition to the usual appropriations for the several bureaus of the Department and for Navy Yards, Docks and miscellaneous expenditures. The pay of officers, seamen and engineers requires $19,423,000, and for construction and repairs $20,600,000; for armor plated vessels $3,600,000; hemp and other materials $700,000; fuel $3,840,000; equipment $3,000,000; provisions $6,416,000; construction and repairs of machinery $28,212,000; Surgeons' appliances and necessaries $8,500,000; navigation apparatus and supplies $126,000.

— A large steamer cotton loaded has been captured off Mobile by the gunboat Kennebec, and was aground on the bar.

— The Committee on Elections have decided against the claims of Segar of Virginia and Fields of Louisiana to seats in the House.

— The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch says that the Secretary of War has ordered the discontinuance of the premium of $2 to or for accepted recruits for volunteer regiments.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Boston, Jan. 18th, 1864.

Editor Chronicle:—The event of the past week was the arrival of the 32d regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers, who have re-enlisted for three years. They were the first re-enlisting Massachusetts veterans to arrive home, and most cordially were they received. The 32d arrived at the Worcester depot at 11:30 o'clock in the forenoon; about 35 men of the 23th, and 150 of the 23d arrived early in the morning and joined with the 32d in their march from the depot to Faneuil Hall. It was a warm and pleasant day, and the streets were crowded with the respectable citizens of the city, anxious to do honor to those brave men who, neither discouraged nor disheartened by two years of a soldier's life, renew their pledge to sustain the unity of their country. Many flags were displayed from private residences along the route, and the windows and balconies were filled with ladies, waving their handkerchiefs in a most enthusiastic manner. At the head of the column reached Tremont street, the guns of the 1st Mass. battery added their voice of welcome to the cheers of the multitude.—Arriving at Park street, the column halted to "prepare for review." Soon with fixed bayonets and at shouldered arms they marched past the State House, counter-marched, wheeled into line, and, on the appearance of Gov. Andrew, presented arms as only old soldiers can do. A large crowd had assembled at this point, as it was expected our worthy Governor would address a few words of welcome to the returning veterans, but much to their disappointment he took position quietly in the column, accompanied by some of his staff, and the procession proceeded to Faneuil Hall, which was appropriately decorated with flags, mottoes, and military devices; but the most appropriate decorations to the hungry soldiers were the well-filled tables, which, at the order of Mayor Lincoln to "attend to your rations," were attacked in force, soon leaving a clear field to the veterans. They were then welcomed with an address from Gov. Andrew, whose eloquent words frequently aroused his hearers to the utmost enthusiasm. Col. Prescott, of the 32d, then addressed them with a few words of good advice, after which they were dismissed, to assemble at Faneuil Hall at 12 M., on the 16th of February. Such a Sunday was not seen in Boston before, I venture to say, and still no one will say that the day was desecrated in the least. The 32d were detained at Fall River, so that they could arrive in Boston "between meetings," so as not to interfere in the least with religious worship at the churches; this much was due the Sabbath. The 32d has served with the army of the Potomac. The 23d and 25th were with Gen. Foster in his expedition to North Carolina; the 23d went to Port Royal last Spring, and returned to North Carolina at the siege of Washington. This regiment was first commanded by Col. Kurtz, now Chief of Police in this city, and formerly a drill master in New Hampshire, with the rank of Major. Quite a number of the men of the 32d belong in this city, but there is no Boston company in the regiment.

An explanation from the War Department says that by three-fourths of a regiment, in the order governing re-enlistments, is meant three fourths of all the men on the rolls, including conscripts and recruits. As many of our oldest and best regiments have of late received many of these two classes, and as they cannot re-enlist as veterans, this decision will prevent many of them returning on furloughs. It was originally supposed that the "three-fourths" referred to meant that proportion of the number in a regiment entitled to re-enlist as veterans, and the men re-enlisted with that understanding. As such a decision is an evident injustice, it will, no doubt, be revoked by the War Department. Recruiting in this city was dull last week, but 90 recruits being obtained. About ten per cent. of the recruits sent to Camp at Readville are thrown out on examination by the Surgeon there, and many of them are from Boston. It is expected the returning regiments will make recruiting more lively, as each man will try to fill his company, and thus become a recruiting officer, and a good one, too.

The 4th Mass. Cavalry now lacks about 600 men. It is expected they will go out in about a month as a Battalion, and that the unattached battalion of the 1st Mass. Cavalry now at Port Royal, will be attached to the 4th.

Col. N. B. McLaughlin, 1st Mass., lately tried by Court Martial, on charges brought by Gen. Prince, Division Commander, has been honorably acquitted, and the charges declared "frivolous and groundless." Col. McLaughlin rose from a private to the rank of Captain in the U. S. Army, and was granted leave of absence to take command of the 1st, on the promotion of Col. Cowdin to be Brig. General. Jealous and ambitious officers cause more demoralization in an army than defeats ever can. It is a favorite scheme with the latter class to bring up some frivolous charges against superior officers, and although such charges usually come to naught, still the very fact of being court martialed, to a proud spirited man is apt to result in disgust for the service, concluding with a resignation, or retaliatory court martials, causing dissensions where there should be unity and harmony.—Friends at home should bear in mind that the best officers sometimes have to endure the vexations of a court martial, on charges as groundless as they are contemptible.

I understand authority has been given to recruit the N. H. battalion in the 1st R. I. Cavalry to a full regiment. Such a movement would be popular in New Hampshire, and the regiment would be speedily filled with as good men as have enlisted from the Old Granite State.

Last Tuesday, Col. John H. Jackson, 3d N. H. Vols., arrived from Concord with 111 recruits for the 3d, 4th and 7th N. H. regts. The Colonel was quite sick, and against the advice of two surgeons insisted on joining his regiment, the gallant Third, members of which have written him many letters of late, requesting him to return. An effort will be made by some of the Colonel's friends to have him transferred to the Invalid Corps, but he is anxious to remain with his old command if possible. Thursday afternoon he left here for Port Royal, having, in addition to the N. H. recruits, 20 men for the 24th and 40th Mass. regiments, and 130 for the 54th and 55th (colored). A more quiet and orderly squad of recruits have not passed through this city.

By last accounts from the 3d, Captain Randlett, of Nashua, was again in command of the regiment. Four companies were on Post Guard, 4 on Provost Guard, and 2 chopping wood on Broad Island, near Folly Island. Not a man had been killed or wounded on Morris Island for two months. Col. Davis, 104th N. Y. Regt., was in command of Morris Island. Col. Bell, 4th N. H., is commanding a brigade in which are the 3d and 4th N. H. Regts. A brigade of Western troops were re-enlisting almost to a man. Massachusetts and New Hampshire regiments were not re-enlisting very rapidly. Mr. Charles G. Robinson, 24th Mass., clerk at Gen. Stevenson's headquarters, has arrived home on furlough, and will visit his family at Portsmouth this week.

The Price of Butter.—A price current in Richmond papers, with other information, shows that in the Richmond market flour is selling at $150 a barrel; apples at $80 a barrel; butter $5 a pound; beef $1 a pound, &c.

This item shows two things, viz: the scarcity of food, and the poor quality of Confederate money. It also reminds Uncle Toby of the fact that Col. George, in his eloquent speech at Concord on the 8th of January, made the price of butter one grand means of carrying the election! He was very severe on the freedom shriekers, abolitionists, war democrats, and other such pestilent heretics,—and when he met them and heard their provoking talk, he always felt like asking them, What's the price of butter?

We have heard of some people who wish their bread buttered on both sides, and possibly Col. George may be one of these. If he had made his butter speech here, where mechanics buy butter at 31 cts a pound, there might be some small political capital made of it,—but when you ask among farmers who sell the article, What's the price of butter?—they may tell you thirty cents, and say truly, We never got such a price before! They don't think it bad to take.

It used to be a common trade in our shops, 55 years ago, to give a pound of butter for a pound of common brown sugar.—To-day, in the midst of war, a pound of butter buys nearly two pounds of such sugar, of a better grade.

Fifty years ago, in war time, it took three pounds of butter to buy one pound of sugar in our shops,—so that the farmer in New Hampshire to-day, gets about six times as much sugar for his butter as he or his father got fifty years ago.

Wages of laborers and mechanics here are double what they were then, and the prices of imported groceries not near so high, many of them not half so high. And everybody gets work now, that will work—but then, our mechanics and laborers, by the hundred, for want of employment, had to go privateering, and sell or pawn their shares, to get food for their families.

If the Colonel meant his butter speech for argument, it works against him,—If he only said that, because he knew not what else to say, he is to be pitied for his poverty of thought.

It is probably the Colonel's style of treating opponents, and shows what the District lost, by not sending him to Congress. It is hardly supposable that butter will carry the election here,—but there is no telling what might have happened in Congress, if he had put such a question to the House when they were passing the bill for keeping up the army to keep down the rebellion.

But what a sorry picture the man draws of himself, and what a miserable pattern he sets for his ignorant followers! Sober men ask him anxiously, to serve the country by supporting the administration, crushing the rebellion, and establishing liberty throughout the land. He answers, as a mere clownish trifler, What's the price of butter?—and if he, a lawyer, and a would-be statesman, meets his opponents with such trash as this, we can hardly expect anything better from his disciples.

☞ The Nashville Gazette says that a company has formed in that city for the purpose of bringing to market houses already built. All that is required to put them up is a few screws, and when you desire to remove your residence to a neighboring county, all you have to do is to take it down again as you would a portable wardrobe.

☞ The will of Elias Boudinot of New Jersey, just sent to the office of the Recorder of deeds in Philadelphia, contains the following curious item: "I give to the President and Managers of the New Jersey Bible Society $200, to be laid out in the purchase of spectacles, to be given by them to poor old people, it being in vain to give a Bible to those who cannot obtain the means for reading it."

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. ☞ Mr. Davis' Singing School Concert, at the Temple last evening, was a musical festival indeed—a perfect ovation. The varied and interesting exercises passed off to the satisfaction of all. Misses Morse, Wells and Marcy, of Concord, added greatly to the entertainment—and the rich programme, diversified with fairies, goddess of liberty, decorations, flags, mottoes, and what not, made out an evening's delight for all. Mr. Morey was agreeable and effective as usual, at the piano.

The young ladies of the High School, on Wednesday morning, at the school, presented Mr. Davis a large and elegant silver pitcher and goblet, suitably inscribed—"Presented by the Girls' High School, &c."—and which were among the attractions of the evening, at the concert, on exhibition.

The Boys' High School, per Master Edward Ball, a pupil, also bestowed an elegant gold mounted Baton, as a token of their regard, at the opening of the concert—of all which more anon.

The Portsmouth Chronicle says that unless something soon turns up to employ the men in the Navy Yard, there will be a general suspension of mechanical and other descriptions of labor there.

Would it not be well to have some of the work now ordered at the Charleston Navy Yard, sent down east? The workmen at Charlestown were not satisfied with large pay and few hours work, but struck and left the Government in the lurch.—Bath Times.

If Navy Yard mechanics should be thrown out of employ, there will be less sympathy with them than if they had not taken advantage of the necessities of the Government, and combined to extort unreasonable terms—to the serious delay and injury of our naval operations.—Salem Gaz.

The workmen at Portsmouth Navy Yard have not done this—and some folks would like to see every man who did, elsewhere, shoved into the ranks of the army at once, where they would get less pay and more work, but could hardly growl louder.

For several years the line-of-battle ship Franklin was lying at the Navy Yard at Portsmouth, N. H., in progress of conversion from a sailing vessel to a steamer.—Work ceased on her for five or six years, and it was feared that she would never be finished. Some months ago, however, the present Navy Department resolved to finish the work, and sent orders to the commanding officer of that Navy Yard to have it executed without delay. The vessel is now nearly ready for sea, and, it is said, will be reported fit for active service on the 10th of February. The Government has changed her name to the New Hampshire. This is the famous vessel that Omar Pasha (Rear Admiral of the Turkish Navy) and suite traveled all the way from Washington to Portsmouth, in 1858, to visit, upon the invitation of the Maine and New Hampshire Senators. The constructing engineer attached to the Admiral, and the Admiral himself pronounced it the best model and most beautiful specimen of naval architecture they ever saw. The cost of the conversion has been very large—probably as much as $300,000.

Portions of the above are true of the ship of the line Alabama, whose name has been changed to the New Hampshire; and other portions are true of the steamer Franklin, whose name has not been changed, and, we trust, will not be. But the New Hampshire we apprehend, never will see the day when she will be "in progress of conversion from a sailing vessel to a steamer." The Franklin is on the stocks, and her machinery is being manufactured. The Turks admired the Franklin, not the Alabama.

☞ Among the nominations before the Senate for confirmation is that of Elliot Coues, of New Hampshire, to be an Assistant Surgeon in the Regular Army.

☞ Rev. Mr. Hammond, a noted revivalist, is preaching to great crowds of people in Haverhill, Mass., and last Sunday evening about 1200 persons tarried after sermon, for conversation and prayer. H. is, we believe, a Trinitarian Congregationalist.—Another revivalist, Rev. Mr. Earle, has been doing a similar work in Dover, South Berwick, Great Falls and Salmon Falls,—and is now laboring in Manchester.

— Gov. Curtin of Pennsylvania, was inaugurated on Tuesday.

— Hon. Richard H. Vose, a distinguished Maine lawyer, died in Augusta on Tuesday morning.

— A recent order prohibits civilians from wearing uniforms, or parts of uniforms, of U. S. soldiers, on pain of arrest.

— A ten-cent subscription is organizing in Ohio for Mr. Vallandigham and his family, who are said to be in pecuniary need.

— Accounts of disaster by the terrible gale which swept over the English coast early in December, continue to be received. The number of lives lost in wrecked vessels, etc., was very large.

— Sutlers in the Army of the Potomac charge 80 cents per lb. for candles, 40 for cheese, 60 for butter, 30 for sausages, 60 cents per dozen for eggs, and 50 cents a quire for note paper.

— The Boston Post states that Capt. Sims, of brig Piccadilly, from Port Elizabeth, South Africa, has been fined $500 for breaking the Custom House seals in the cabin of his vessel.

— Stephen C. Foster, a well known composer of Ethiopian melodies, died in New York last week. The most popular of his melodies was "The Old Folks at Home." He has written many more, however, both Ethiopian and sentimental.

THE BOUNTY QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, January 16, 1864.

To J. A. GILMORE, Governor of N. H.,

The agreement announced in telegram, from Provost Marshal General, dated November 5th, to the effect that if the State of New Hampshire or the towns should pay the bounties offered by the U. S., and take an assignment from the recruit, that the Government would pay these bounties to the State or town, instead of to the men—will be carried out in good faith, and General Hinks will receive orders accordingly.

Experience has developed difficulties in this connection, which were not foreseen by the Department; and the arrangement will terminate on the 15th of February next.

(Signed) EDWIN M. STANTON,
Sec. of War.

SOLDIERS, ATTENTION!—Pain, disease and exposure, with a hot climate, muddy water and bad diet will be unavoidable, but armed with Holloway's Purifying and Strengthening Pills you can endure all these and still retain good health. Only 25 cents per box. 220

A WONDER FOR THE WORKSHOP.—The mechanic, of whatever kind, should always have at hand a box of Grace's celebrated Salve, as it is a ready remedy for accidents, such as cuts, bruises, contused wounds, burns, scalds, poisoned skin, tulons and eruptions caused by operations in the bake-house, the dyery and the like. Men engaged in lumbering should be provided with it, as a timely application in the forest will save pain and pence. It cures the stings of insects, mosquito bites, and for piles it is invaluable. Only 25 cents per box.

WHOOPING COUGH OR CROUP, however severe, may be alleviated and cured by the use of Madame Zadoc Porter's Curative Balsam.

This invaluable medicine possesses the extraordinary power of relieving immediately Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, Huskiness, and Tickling in the Throat. It loosens the phlegm, and will be found very agreeable to the taste. It is not a violent remedy, but emollient — warming, searching and effective. Can be taken by the oldest person or the youngest child. For sale by all Druggists, at 25 cts. per bottle.

IMPORTANT.—We would respectfully direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Coe's Cough Balsam, to be found in another column of this paper. This season of the year is a time when all are constantly liable to sudden attacks of fever and constant annoyances from hard Colds, Coughs, and the foundation of pulmonary complaints, which terminate in Consumption. No mother should rest in safety until she has provided herself with a good remedy to protect the lives of her children from Croup and Colds—and no family should consider their household completed until it is provided with proper remedies and powerful antidotes for the speedy and effectual cure of all such attacks, thereby insuring the health of the family and avoiding expensive Doctor's bills.—Coe's Cough Balsam, an article prepared by one of our most reliable Eastern Drug Houses, at the low price of 25 cents per bottle, is just the thing required by those who wish an immediate cure for Coughs, Croup, stubborn Colds, Tickling in the Throat, Asthma, and Consumption. It can be found at any Drug Store. ja23 1idaw

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT STOVE, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York state Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumas, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatisms.

(Arthritis), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourex.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its allied affections. The most intensive pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or virulous, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all effects of Mercury, thus removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twelve years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart also all Diseases of the Liver, or other important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Constitutions, Delicate Children, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin, Hot Sensations, Nervous Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to lassitude, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

EXE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—it affected her legs very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some of your valuable bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no doubt, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a hundred of my acquaintance, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She has applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the diseases above named. I am, &c. CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and seal iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of the valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this highly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"Boundlo no party—to no sect confined:

Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ A merchant in St. Louis sent a dispatch to the office for New York, directing a large quantity of salt to be sent by "sail." The dispatch was sent, "send by rail." The salt was sent by railroad, costing the merchant $1024 more than if sent by sail, and the St. Louis Court of Common Pleas has awarded him that amount and interest.

☞ The great families of Russia have conceived rather a pretty idea, which has become the Muscovite mode, that is, to present to the visitors to their country residences a souvenir of their sojourn, an album which contains a photographic illustration of the happy days they spent—photographs of the personages who formed the society, of the mansions, the sights and scenes, the stables, the horses, the principal episodes and events during the aristocratic entertainment.

A young officer of the British House of Commons wore a tremendous pair of moustaches, on which one of the members said: "My dear fellow, now that the war is over, why don't you put your moustaches on the peace establishment?" "Had you not better put your tongue on the civil list?" was the prompt retort.

"FRIENDSHIP," in ill luck too often turns to mere acquaintance. The wine of life, as we have heard it called, goes into vinegar; and folks who hugged the bottle, shirk the cruet.

A poor fellow sent to prison for marrying two wives, excuses himself by saying that when he had one, she fought him: but when he had two, they fought each other.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,) 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

Instead of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them the utmost favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made no fewer than twenty applications SIXTEEN APPEALS. EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

THE REBELLION.

A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror states that on Tuesday, Jan. 11, Gen. Gilman Marston, with one hundred picked men from each of the three N. H. regiments at Point Lookout, Md., and two hundred cavalry, crossed the Potomac into Virginia on a reconnoitering expedition, and returned on Friday with one hundred and fifty captured horses and mules, and also two officers and fourteen privates, belonging to the 40th Va. regiment, who were home on furloughs. The boys improved the opportunity to procure the material for a choice dish, and came back with chickens, ducks, turkeys, and even live pigs strung over their shoulders. The only casualty was one man, belonging to the cavalry, accidentally killed by his own men.

The Hilton Head correspondent of the N. Y. World, speaking of the new movement from Charleston, says that past inaction is to be followed by a fiery engagement not less important than any which have occurred on the Mississippi or the Peninsula. A large force, land and naval, is to participate in the affair. Its destination seems to be not definitely known.

A report having gained ground that the rebels had evacuated Richmond, Gen. Butler ordered a reconnoissance in force. The force went within 27 miles of Richmond, and returned reporting that the city had not been evacuated.

A Washington dispatch says Gen. Grant telegraphs that Gen. Foster is ill and asks to be relieved. He solicits that Gen. Schofield or Gen. McPherson be ordered to fill the vacancy.

The rebel wholesale conscription is creating great excitement in the western portion of North Carolina, where preparations are being made to resist it. Public meetings are being held, some of which openly repudiate the Southern Confederacy and favor a return to the Union.

A "gentleman," who says he left Richmond on the 15th, reports that one or two divisions of Lee's army had gone to Longstreet, who is said to be marching on Knoxville.

The World's Chattanooga letter, dated 7th inst., says: "When the spring campaign opens the battle-ground will be found in East Tennessee. Gen. Grant is believed to be prepared. Gen. Sherman is to concentrate an army at Huntsville, Ala.—Nearly all our cavalry are with him. The reader can draw his own conclusions."

FROM NEW ORLEANS.—The New Orleans Era gives statements of a Union refugee just from Mississippi. He says fully one-half of the population of the State left at home, are strong Union, and the women especially, against Jeff. Davis. Hundreds of Mississippians were, in the woods to escape the conscription.

The Era has intelligence from Texas through Rev. Wm. McRae of Port Lavacca, who says there is an overwhelming Union sentiment in Western Texas. A number of Union men have been imprisoned by order of Magruder for publishing a book called "Common Sense." Fears for their safety were entertained, as the sons of the South had voted to hang them. Much mutiny exists among the rebel soldiers in Western Texas. Magruder is concentrating his forces on the Brazos river, 30 miles from the coast, and is entrenching.

BLOCKADE RUNNERS.—The rebel steamers Alzo and Little Sila are at Havana waiting a chance to run the blockade.

The steamers Syren, Fannie, Scotia and Hansa had arrived at Nassau prior to the 6th inst. from Wilmington, reporting that the difficulties of running the blockade there had increased, but a successful way is still open. The Bahama Herald mentions that the rebel steamer Don had undoubtedly been caught or destroyed by the Tioga.

The rebel steamer Isabel and a schooner—both laden with cotton—arrived at Havana on the 15th inst., from Mobile.

Key West advices state that the rebel steamer Gray Jacket, with 500 bales of cotton and a quantity of turpentine and resin, was captured Dec. 31 by the gunboat Kennebec, off Mobile.

The British schooner Don Jose, from Nassau, barque Roebuck, from Havana, for Mobile, and sloop Hancock, have been taken on the Florida coast by the gunboat Sunflower. All had valuable cargoes.

— Charles A. Dana, formerly of the N. Y. Tribune, has been nominated Assistant Secretary of War.

— Dispatches from the Nevada Territory say the State constitution has been rejected by a vote of 4 to 1. Dissatisfaction with the candidates for State officers, and a general unwillingness to have the mines taxed as required by it, are the reasons assigned for the large negative vote.

— Hartford will give a piano-forte made from the Charter Oak, to the N. Y. Sanitary Fair.

LETTER FROM CALIFORNIA.

[From an Occasional Correspondent.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29th, 1863.

Dear Chronicle and Gazette:—I had nearly forgotten you in the busy hum of business, but as it is never too late to pay the printer I send you the enclosed, hoping that you may have many such to enrich your basket and store. Since I last wrote, our glorious State has been progressing onward; she is preparing for the great and eventful future. Agriculture, mining and railways are among the most prominent things that have made their mark on the page of history. Our scientific miners are solving the "country" or primitive rocks, and we have already heard of indications of the precious metals being found throughout the entire State, from Crescent City to the Washo County, including the whole breadth of the State, which is interstratified diagonally at certain intervals with ledges, enclosing silver and copper. Nature has placarded on the croppings of these mineral deposits the sulphurets and carbonets in peacock colors. The dips and angles are not fully ascertained, and this will take long years to develop, but the lucky miner has already in many instances struck good paying veins, and wherever these are found, the crevasse enclosing them has a perpendicular dip, down into the bowels of the earth, enclosing fabulous treasures. The form in which copper is found (the oxides and sulphurets) is the most comeatable one found in the world, and can be easily worked, and millions of tons, if need be, can be raised to the surface. No one need fear that the market will be glutted, for many of the old Cornish mines are giving out, and still the Arts and manufacturing interest of the world are steadily demanding copper, and this accounts for the advance in the price of this commodity The silver-bearing ledges are constantly being worked, and soon untold millions of wealth will yet find its way into many an empty pocket of dame fortune's favorites.—Household wares can now be made from gold, silver and copper, without any fear of exhausting the supply of the raw material. Bricks are now being made here of silver, but as yet none have been used for the exterior walls of our palatial dwellings, as they are used as yet, exclusively, for lining the interior of Bank vaults; there is no telling how soon they may come into common use.

We have made encouraging progress in railways. The San Jose (Hosay) railroad is now nearly completed, and is in running order to within 5 miles, and ere you get this they will be through. To connect with this a road is under way to Stockton, and thence to Sacramento. From Sacramento we have the Sacramento, Placer and Nevada railroads. From Marysville we have the California Northern Railroad. To connect with Stockton and San Jose road is the Pacific railroad, which is to connect the great Mississippi with the Emporium of the Pacific shore. Rails for these last named roads are on the way, and once started, they will soon make tracks eastward, and every fifty miles of this portion will pay as soon as finished, as they traverse our silver hills and gold regions. By the time this war is over, we shall connect our rails to those of the eastern slope, and then we'll have a ride down east to see the folks at home. As we will sojourn here till that event, we will speak of the prospects of this city for the future. It is only ten years since this city was made up of some score of blocks of dwelling and stores, but now we can count in one direction some thirty blocks or squares, and two thirds as many in an opposite one that is already built up; and the Survey of the city extends for some two miles beyond, with ample room for enlargement in the adjacent country. Our city railroads, (some seven routes) half of which extend some 3 miles, and are still in the city limits, including one line which goes by steam, and this runs on Market street alone, are all well patronized. This last is the only city railway, I believe, in the United States, which does not go outside of the city proper, but goes steaming through the city. The fares are 5 and 10 cents for Part and whole distances, and this cheap mode of travelling enables many thousands to live long distances from places of business.

During the past year real estate has received more attention, and as it promises safe and sure investment, thousands are building houses in frame and brick, where no landlord can knock and make them afraid. The War at the East has something to do with this, for capitalists are investing are largely in real estate, and our city, under these impulses, is growing rapidly. We have a large number of Hotels, and among them we find three first class hotels, equal to any in the world,—but as we wish to be a little ahead, we are now building one to be called the Adelphi, and which is to be the finest and most superb hotel on the Continent. Together, these four hotels completed would cover a square formed of the plot bounded by Congress, Fleet, State and Pleasant streets, four stories high, and capable of accommodating some of the travelling public—say about 5000 or so. In speaking about railroads, I omitted to state that we have a Steam Paddy and railroad, which we keep constantly employed in levelling sand hills in and around town. It is a great institution, and our city is assuming shape and form through the manipulations of this Paddy.

The morals of our city are improving, and the church going public are erecting some very fine churches, and among them all there is none prettier or more commodious than T. Starr King's. There are many public buildings, in the shape of school houses, Orphan and Blind Asylums, which add much to the beauty of the city.

I suppose you have heard ere this of the sinking of the "Acquila," with the Monitor Camanche on board. As yet nothing has been done to raise her, but to pump out a little water into the Bay. It is reported that contractors from New York are coming out to raise her.

The enrollment is going on quietly, and is scarcely noticed,—and if a draft is needed, I think it would be cheerfully met.

Yours truly, J. E. W. C.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Wolfborough News is informed that the liquor dealers in that town have a new drink, known as rifled whiskey.—They invariably require pay in advance.

—— The Mirror states that Jacob Emery, of Pembroke, breathed his last on the 16th inst., at the ripe old age of 93 years, 10 months. Mrs. Betsy Bamford, also of the same town, died on the 15th inst., aged 78 years. Another old citizen, Mr. Philbrick, of Allenstown, closed up a long earthly pilgrimage of 90 years on the 17th inst. And Mr. Theophilus Currier, of Deerfield, also of the advanced age of 90 years, died the day previous—the 16th inst.

—— Among the nominations before the Senate for confirmation are the following from this State:—for Assistant Quartermaster, Arthur N. Nesmith; for Commissioner of Subsistence, Edward M. Emerson; for additional Paymaster, Wm. H. Allen.

—— A Farmington correspondent of the Dover Enquirer, narrates the following tale:

I had nigh forgotten to mention a small affair near home, upon the upper Cocheecho. Samuel built a mill which David occupied. Now Samuel consulted with his counsellors and chief men, and concluded to drive David from the mill. But David never knew fear, and with his faithful servant converted the mill into a fort, and like David surnamed Crockett, at Alamo, resolved to "do or die." Now Samuel collected an army, a la Posse Comitatus, but the glittering broad axe keep of David, looking eager to taste flesh, like the Angel's flaming sword, stood in the way. Thus affairs when night fell. Now Samuel keeps bees and thought how he had smoked the fellows out at night; so ordering a brave subaltern to the chimney's top he wished that escape valve closed, when lo! crack, crack, went something which too strongly reminded of Col. Colt and powder.—Night faded into day and, as in many other instances, hunger compelled the brave garrison to surrender, and Samuel reigns king of the saw, placating his worthy foe by amicable adjustment.

—— Nearly 50 operatives at the Manchester and Amoskeag Mills have been detected in a long-continued practice of secreting and carrying off for their own and their friends' benefit, the goods upon which they were at work, such as yarn, sheetings, delaine, cloth, &c.

—— The trial of Samuel V. B. Bennett, for the murder of Mary Ann Gibney by administering strychnine, is now progressing at Manchester.

—— Surgeon Wm. H. Thayer, of the 14th N. H. regiment, has been dismissed from the service.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, for February contains articles by Holmes, Hillard, Agassiz, Edward Everett Hale, Wasson, Mrs. Stowe, Mrs. Akers (Florence Percy,) and other popular writers.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Supreme Court of Massachusetts have recently decided in the case of Wood vs. Bullens, arising in Hampden county and argued last September, that the plaintiff in an action upon a promissory note payable on demand in specie, can only recover judgment for the amount of the face of the note and interest thereon, although he offers to prove that at the time when payment of the note was demanded specie was worth a premium above par.

☞ In the famous will case now on trial in Bridgeport, Ct., Andrew Jackson Davis, the "Seer," was brought upon the stand. He testified that Mr. Winslow called upon him several years since, and asked him if he could give the price of certain stocks prospectively. Davis declined to render the information, on the ground that spirits did not give facts that led to no good end. He said also that when clairvoyants examined sick persons, the patient appeared to them entirely transparent, flesh, bones and all, and wherever there was disease, a dark or black spot appeared, or inflammation, or decay. He said that clairvoyants used minerals in their prescriptions, and he named iron, gold, silver, magnesia, &c. Judge McCurdy asked him if they administered "brass." He thought not. But the plaintiffs thought the Judge had insulted their witness. He was on the stand about two hours, and underwent a searching examination.

— The Montgomery (Alabama) people were busy on the 4th inst. taking in ice an inch thick.

GUN COTTON IN FRANCE.—Inventions sleep but do not die. The use of cotton, as an explosive material, has been revived in Europe, and it is claimed that the means of employing it on a grand scale to supersede gunpowder, have been discovered by an Austrian officer, General the Baron Von Denk. The General's process is regarded as so satisfactory and its results so important that upon a request of the Emperor Napoleon he has just received from the Emperor Francis Joseph permission to visit Paris at the expense of the French Government, for the purpose of trying his experiments on a great scale. All considerations of ordinary etiquette, always so stringent in Austria, were waived to expedite the General's mission. Should his invention be adopted and applied, as it seems not unlikely to be, we may look for a still more excited cotton market than the world has yet seen. Two years' peace consumption of this great staple will scarcely equal its absorption in a single year by the insatiable maw of war.

DEATH OF MAUNSEL WHITE.—Maunsel White, an old and much respected citizen of New Orleans, died on the 17th inst., in his 80th year. He was the first citizen of Louisiana, we believe, though a large slaveholder, to substitute free for slave labor. The Era says of him:—

"As a planter and the owner of a large number of slaves, he was a model for humanity and was idolized by his people. He was never an advocate of slavery, and was a slaveholder by the force of the circumstances which surrounded him, rather than from choice—a fact that was sufficiently demonstrated by his emancipating all his slaves as soon as it was safe to do so under the laws of the State; for he set them all free shortly after General Butler's arrival in this city, and has worked his plantation by free labor since that time more successfully than he did before by slave labor."

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S STYLE.—Mrs. H. B. Stowe, who ought to know what good writing is, writes as follows:

His rejection of what is called fine writing was as deliberate as St. Paul's, and for the same reason—because he felt that he was speaking on a subject which must be made clear to the lowest intellect, though it should fail to captivate the highest. But we say of Lincoln's writing that for all true, manly purposes of writing, there are passages in his state papers that could not be better put—they are absolutely perfect.—They are brief, condensed, intense, and with a power of insight and expression which make them worthy to be inscribed in letters of gold. Such are some passages of the celebrated Springfield letter, especially that masterly one where he compares the conduct of the patriotic and loyal blacks with that of treacherous and disloyal whites. No one can read this letter without feeling the influence of a mind both strong and generous.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 5 to 8 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Dacotah left the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Thursday morning, and dropped below (at the Lower Harbor) to await the arrival of her officers, after which she will proceed to sea. Much condemnation has been expressed here in regard to the manner in which the boilers of the Dacotah were repaired, in Baltimore, prior to her coming here, being patched up in the most slovenly and bungling manner, and pronounced by the constructing engineer to be "good for one year's service."—New boilers were made for her in Boston, but for some reason they have not been put in.

☞ The bills of the First National Bank in this city have made their appearance.—The Tens have on their back the scene of De Soto discovering the Mississippi, and are handsomely engraved.

Webber combines the qualifications of a cotton spinner, dyer and bleacher, and had good experience as a manufacturer in Lowell, Lawrence and Manchester. THE SMALL NAVY SCREW SLOOPS.—The N. Y. Tribune says that a letter from the U. S. steamer Nipsic, which was put in commission some time since at the Portsmouth (N. H.) Navy Yard, says that the vessel has had a severe and critical trial, which resulted in her complete success.—She can make ten knots an hour easily, which is about twelve ordinary miles, and can do this for any length of time. Her success derives its importance from the fact that she is the first of a new fleet of screw sloops constructed for the Government at the Navy Yards. They are most substantially built, and probably no ships ever received so much care in their construction. The Pequot was tried recently, also, at Boston, alongside of the wharf. These vessels are properly termed screw gunboats, and designed for blockade service. Their length is 180 feet, breadth 30 feet and depth 12 feet. They will carry an armament suitable for their size, and one which will enable them to overhaul any blockade-runner.

S. J. COURT, Exeter.—The Court came in on Tuesday morning, Judge Bellows presiding. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Nason. No trial was commenced on Tuesday. On Wednesday morning, No. 44—Jonathan G. Webb v. Stephen Scammon—an action to recover money agreed to be paid in consideration of the conveyance of certain real estate to deft's wife, was commenced. Frink & Bell for plf., Wood for deft. Present indications are that the session will be a short one.

"If there was ever a time when hope seemed necessary, it is now; we need an unwavering faith that our present is nothing more than a gradual maturing of falsehoods, or compromises, of treacheries sown long ago. Let us prophesy for a moment,—now that we are safe in knowing it will be fulfilled. We speak often and rhetorically of the May Flower,—of the destinies which came with it; of the stern virtues of the Puritans, overspreading and lifting up a whole people. There is foundation for much rhetoric and much truth, but there is little said of another vessel, which about the same time bore with it equally great destinies to this continent.

The thoughtless captives may gambol on the green shores of Virginia,—but that was the heaviest freight that ever came over the ocean. That vessel bore with it all the national troubles which have been ours since. There were bound with those few captives, angry debates in Senate halls; Mexican wars, and compromises, and all the sacrifices and sorrows of the present war—it was all there. One can see it, now; and after all that slavery has done in the past, one would think it could have been seen then, but it was not,—and we have the natural consequences; but hope comes to us that as before, God has renowned a nation's life upon the ruins of its folly—so it will be with us.

History is a sad comment upon humanity, and yet sad as it is, there is nothing to teach us hope so well as history: there is nothing which assures so well that like causes produce like effects, as history; nothing which promises so surely that if we change the cause, the effect will change also."

GREEN?—The New Haven Journal tells a story of a countryman named Barker. Mr. C. W. Bradley had been showing his rural friends a package of 5-20 bonds, with coupons attached, and lost a $500 bond. There was a great search instituted at once and the police and telegraph were brought into requisition, when the countryman Barker was informed of the loss.

"Do you mean them things you were showing us this afternoon?" Mr. Barker was informed that "those were the things." Mr. Barker explained: "Well, I guess I put one in my pocket! I supposed they were some new kind of handbills, and I thought I would take one home and read it! I guess it's in one of my overcoat pockets!" And he immediately felt and found it. In common with the rest of the party he did not know its value, having never seen one before.

☞ Rev. H. D. Moore, of Portland, stated in an address to his society, that he had preached the past year fifty-one Sabbaths of the fifty-two, and that he had occupied his own pulpit forty-eight Sabbaths during the year.

☞ Last week a man named Alonzo D. Lewis, a deserter, employed in a saw mill in New York State, was engaged in edging boards with a buzz saw, and attempting to remove the edging, the saw caught his sleeve, instantly severing his right arm, at the same time drawing him down upon the saw, almost severing his body at the breast, separating the great arteries, and killing him instantly.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Bambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

LAST AND BEST.
THE MODEL COOK.
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!
At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.
The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.
The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.
A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.
In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.
It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.
We family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.
We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!
What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.
Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.
During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.
Rapidity of Cure.
Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply: THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.
Paralysis,
Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.
It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.
Dyspepsia.
Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.
Scrofula.
Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Scalt Rheum.
This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.
Rheumatism.
[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.
Where is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, of years of standing, of 30 or 50 years standing, have been cured by us.
Nervousness.
Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.
Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.
Mercurial Diseases.
Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.
Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.
Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like
ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.
And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.
CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,
Either of the Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depend upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.
All scrofulous humors suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will cure in a few days. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extreme effort. The tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.
Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.
Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions,
Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Confusion of Thoughts, Dizziness, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Loss of Vigor of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose, Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.
MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon derangement of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.
In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from disease peculiar to their sex, are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.
THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.
PURE BLOOD produces healthy man and women; and if the constitution is broken down in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.
TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.
It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 25, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for no benefit; syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed any full cures effected by it since I have been agent for the sale of it." JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with diseases at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief, until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of R. S. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1861.

DR. SWEET: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1860, she had been confined for a number of months, without a near natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to row worse till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I think the medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweet's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26

PORTSMOUTH.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never yet been first introduced to them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal, and impotence in the impotency, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Tumors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases of early secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted persons soon rejoice in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1847, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. to advise upon all difficulty and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

N. B.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room, and the annoyance of blowing out the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be overhauled day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off into the flue, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the same side of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Bise, and others.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth; do good; be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

DIRGE FOR A SOLDIER.

IN MEMORY OF GENERAL PHILIP KEARNEY.

Close his eyes, his work is done!
What to him is friend or foeman,
Rise of moon, or set of sun,
Hand of man, or kiss of woman?
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? he cannot know;
Lay him low.

As man may, he fought his fight,
Proved his truth by his endeavor;
Let him sleep in solemn night,
Sleep forever and forever.
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? he cannot know;
Lay him low.

Fold him in his country's stars,
Roll the drum and fire the volley!
What to him are all our wars?
What but death, bemocking folly?
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? he cannot know;
Lay him low.

Leave him to God's watching eye;
Trust him to the hand that made him.
Mortal love weeps idly by;
God alone has power to aid him.
Lay him low, lay him low,
In the clover or the snow!
What cares he? he cannot know;
Lay him low.

PLEASURES OF LIFE.—The loftiest, the most angel-like ambition, is the earnest desire to contribute to the rational happiness and moral improvement of others. If we can do this—if we can smooth the rugged path of one fellow traveller—if we can give one good impression—is it not better than all the triumphs that wealth and power ever attained?

—Queen Victoria's edict has drawn forth the following:

WHITE FROM WINDSOR.
The wish from every breast proceeds
That's loyal to the Throne—
Since she prohibits others' weeds,
Soon may she drop her own!

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the act of 1837,) 46 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The numerous testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

Hence, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, he has full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and can more safely trust him to attend to business in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 23, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A bill has been introduced into the rebel Congress repealing the act authorizing "partisan rangers."

Texas advices state that the rebels destroyed their gunboat J. G. Carr in Matagorda Bay, fearing it might be captured by our troops. A late expedition from Brownsville to Rowa captured a large amount of cotton. A rebel steamer has been destroyed in Suwanee river by a boat's crew from one of our vessels.

Gen. Sedgwick commands the army in the absence of Gen. Meade.

The Newbern correspondent of the Boston Traveller says he has authentic intelligence that the men who compose the present State Government of North Carolina, including Gov. Vance, are doing all they can to get their State back into the Union.

Gen. Schofield has been ordered to Knoxville, to take the place of Gen. Foster, and Rosecrans has been sent to Missouri in Schofield's place.

LIBBY PRISON—REBEL ACCOUNT OF OUR PRISONERS.—The Richmond correspondent of the Atlanta Appeal describes a recent visit to the Hotel de Libby. He says that he found the passages and ante-rooms of the prison piled up with boxes and bales of clothing and provisions which had just been received from the North by a flag of truce. Upon ascending to the upper stories of the building occupied by the prisoners, he saw the greatest profusion of comforts and luxuries in the way of provant that even a riotous imagination could conceive. Hams, smoked beef, Bologna sausages, hung from the rafters; tin cans of potted meat, oysters, sardines, green peas, &c., were arranged on shelves against the walls; while the finest pippins rolled along the floor. Immense packages of new publications, sets of chess-men, backgammon boxes, &c., which had apparently just been opened for distribution, proved that the Yankees did not intend their unhappy brethren should die of ennui.

The prisoners themselves were variously occupied, some lying at full length on the floor, deeply involved in the tragic incidents of Miss Braddon's novels, others playing whist and euchre, or deeply pondering the gambits, others asleep, others again eating their dinners. Brigadier General Neal Dow was lapping up the soup furnished by the prison cook, with evident satisfaction. One man only was reading the Bible. All looked in fine health and seemed remarkably cheerful. The receipt of boxes from home had no doubt something to do with their good spirits, but before these creature comforts began to arrive, they were contented and hearty.

☞ A gentleman from Nassau, who is said to be well informed in regard to blockade-runners and running there, states that seamen are paid sixty dollars a month, in gold; that freight to Wilmington, where most of the vessels go, is one hundred and forty dollars a ton, payable in gold, and in advance; that those who successfully make one round trip, which occupies, on an average, three weeks, can afford to lose vessel and cargo on the next, so immense is the profit. All the blockade-running vessels are painted lead-color, and all are piloted by Northern pilots, whose pay is enormous. Since the active and successful efforts to prevent shipments from New York have been taken, the plan has been adopted, and is being carried out, to ship goods thence to Canada per railroad. Large quantities have recently, it is stated, been forwarded to St. Johns, whence they are shipped to NASSAU.

☞ It is a received opinion in the best informed circles in England, that Calcutta must be abandoned as the seat of government for India, because it has a vitiated atmosphere, emanating from innumerable human and other carcases, torn to shreds by vultures, floating with every turn of the tide under the drawing-room windows of this city of palaces—where every green park is an open privy—where cesspools, graveyards and dung heaps, foul drains and open sewers, pollute by percolation the drinking water and contaminate by deleterious gases the pure air of heaven.

COFFEE.— Many substitutes are now proposed for coffee, the price of that being so high. "But," says a writer in the Boston Courier, "if merely the flavor and taste of coffee are sought for, or something approximating to them, a number of vegetable seeds and roots may be roasted for the purpose, and will supply a tolerable substitute. But the peculiar stimulant effect of coffee, which has alone rendered it so universal a beverage, is found in some of them. Four vegetable productions alone, so far as is now known, contain the substance which produces this peculiar exhilaration. These are coffee, tea, cacao, and the mate or tea of Paraguay. All of them have been instinctively selected by man to make a drink "cheering, but not inebriating," and all are found by chemists to contain the principle to which the name of Theine or Caffeine has been given, a principle to which they undoubtedly owe their special action upon the human economy."

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Removal of Gov. Belcher, in 1741.—The modus operandi.

The party in opposition to Governor Belcher, by their industry and perseverance, effected his removal, in 1741. Thomlinson was indefatigable in all his undertakings; and he had penetration to discover every thing, which would favor the cause of his employers. Belcher's conduct was examined very minutely, and, whatever could be construed to his disadvantage, was urged against him, with great address. His situation was critical; at the head of two governments, whose interests were continually at variance, he was certain of being condemned by one or the other, and in some instances, his intentions were misrepresented. He was very open in censuring his opponents, and often treated them with contempt and abuse, especially in his letters to his friends. William Shirley succeeded him, as Governor of Massachusetts, and Benning Wentworth, his most warm antagonist, as Governor of New Hampshire.—Belcher was afterwards appointed Governor of New-Jersey, where he spent the remainder of his days in tranquility.

That the reader may see a little more plainly, how the change of Governors was brought about, we go back a little, to 1738, and quote from Belknap.

The new agent of Massachusetts, Edmund Quincy, died of the small pox, soon after his arrival in London. The affair was then left in the hands of Wilkes and Partridge, neither of whom understood so much of the controversy as Thomlinson; who was also far superior to them in address. In his letters, to his friends in New Hampshire, he frequently blames them for their negligence, in not sending to him the necessary papers in proper season; and when sent, for the want of correctness and regularity in them. But their deficiency was abundantly compensated by the dexterity of his solicitor, Parris; who drew up a long 'petition of appeal;' in which, all the circumstances, attending the whole transaction, from the beginning, were recited, and colored, in such a manner, as to aspersa the governor and assembly of 'the vast, opulent, overgrown province of Massachusetts;' while 'the poor, little loyal, distressed province of New-Hampshire' was represented as ready to be devoured, and the king's own property and possessions swallowed up, by the boundless rapacity of the charter government. Concerning the manner in which this masterly philippic was framed, and the principal object at which it was directed, there can be no better evidence, than that which is contained in a letter, written by Parris to Thomlinson, and by him sent to New-Hampshire. "Two nights ago, I received a heap of papers from you, about the lines; and have been four times to the colony office, and board of trade, to discover what I could in this imperfect affair; but cannot see the case, till after Tuesday next. Notwithstanding which, I have, as well as I can, without proper materials, drawn up a long petition of appeal. to his majesty; and as the Massachusetts have not yet presented theirs, I send you the draught of it, and hope we shall have our appeal, as well as the petition, from the New-Hampshire assembly, in, before the Massachusetts get theirs in. Had your principal considered the great consequence of being first, surely, in all this time, they would have sent you a copy of their proceedings, in order to have enabled us to be first; but, as it is, I am forced to guess at matters, and affirm facts at adventure, or upon dubious passages in letters; which is a sad way of proceeding, and I wish we do not mistake some facts.—They oblige us to make bricks without straw. Above all, why did they not send a copy of their own appeal? For want of it, I have been forced to guess what that appeal was, from loose passages in Mr. A.'s letters. Beg them, immediately to order an exact copy to be made of all their votes, from March to October last. Had these votes come over regularly and authentically, his Excellency would have been shaken quite down, in a few weeks by them. You'll observe, I have laid it on him pretty handsomely, in my petition to the king."

Thus the petition of appeal became a petition of complaint, against the governor and assembly of Massachusetts. Copies were delivered to these agents, and the governor was ordered to make answer to the allegations against him. At the same time, Thomlinson advised his friends in New-Hampshire, to prepare their proofs, as silently as possible; and by no means to give any offence to the governor; assuring them of the favorable disposition of several lords of the privy council, as well as the board of trade, toward their cause; and that they had need to be in no pain, about the event.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Timothy Sargent, 55 years of age, was killed in Plaistow on Saturday evening, by falling from a bridge to the ice on the stream below, a distance of 35 feet.

—— The stockholders of the First National Bank in Nashua met on the 12th inst, and chose the following Board of Directors: Thomas Chase, President, E. P. Emerson, C. H. Nutt, E. H. Spalding, of Nashua, and S. D. Greeley, of Hudson.—John A. Spalding was chosen Cashier.

—— An amusing incident, happening in the Second N. H. Regiment, during the battle of Gettysburg, shows the coolness of Yankee boys, and their love for the "Almighty Dollar." One of our boys, thinking of a small debt due him from one of his comrades, and likewise of the uncertainty of life and all earthly things, during the fiercest of the contest, when the air was full of bursting shells and whistling bullets, left his place in the ranks and went to the colors, where his comrade was actively engaged in protecting the flag of his country, and sustaining the honor of the Old Granite State; and, apologizing for the intrusion, said he might not have another opportunity to meet him, and that he would consider it a great favor if he would pay the debt.—Having received his due, he coolly returned to his place in the ranks, with the evident satisfaction of one who had done his duty to himself, his country, and all mankind.—Strange to say, neither of the above were injured in the battle.

—— Daniel Don, a young man some 18 or 20 years of age, of Hollis, was severely, and, probably, fatally injured, on the 21st inst. He was on the last inward train over the Worcester and Nashua railroad. As the cars neared Lancaster, Mass., he stepped upon a platform, took hold of the railing, swung off to get a better view, and was knocked to the ground by coming in contact with a bridge.

— Judge Black has resigned the lucrative position of Law Reporter to the Supreme Court.

— The five-twenty loan closed on Thursday, the entire amount of $500,000,000 having been subscribed.

— The French have gained decided victories in Mexico. The Juarez party is prostrate.

— One day this week, sixty-two shoe dealers from abroad visited Haverhill, Mass., to purchase their stocks.

— The newspapers mention a very unusual number of accidents from falls on the ice, in all parts of the country.

— The Lawrence, Mass., Sentinel says that never since that city was settled was there such a demand for operatives in their manufacturing establishments.

— Luther S. Moore, a member of the York County Bar, has been indicted for forgery by the Grand Jury of the Supreme Judicial Court at Saco, Me.

— Hon. S. P. Barter, a member of the Kentucky Senate, was burned to death at Frankfort, Ky., on Thursday morning.—His clothing caught fire, and he was too weak from long sickness to save himself.

— The New Orleans Picayune, speaking of the recent cold weather in that section, says "serious if not irreparable injuries to the sugar plant, to the orange trees, to all kinds of tropical productions, follow this unusual visitation of the elements."

— Gen. Birney has written a letter to a prominent member of the Maryland Legislature, denying the charge that negroes have been forced into the military service; on the contrary, he says he could not restrain them from rushing to his camp.

☞ There has been trouble among the reporters in Washington, and the correspondent of the Boston Herald thus explains it:—

Quite a sensation prevailed in the House to-day, especially in the Reporters' Gallery, on it being discovered that a superannuated old man who pretended to represent a paper published in Washington Territory, was in reality the Chaplain of the small-pox hospital here and only appropriated stationery as a reporter to write his prayers on. Most of the correspondents became much alarmed, as they had sat very near him for days in succession. The Tribune men turned pale, the Associated Press trembled as if in ague fit, the N. Y. Herald alone was calm, being too honest to take anything, and the World man without the fear of the flesh or anything else akin, only hitched his chair back, the Times people have had it, while the long haired Western correspondents never having taken anything but office, only sneered at the contagion but walked on. The thin men of the Boston press gyrated in the hall to stir the fresh air, and thus drive off the disease. Speaker Colfax, however, had the small pox chaplain expelled from the building, and peace was restored.

BAD FOR THE COW.—When Gen. Stephenson was presenting the claims for the first locomotive to the British Parliament, he was sneered at by many members. Said one of them :—"Well, Mr. Stephenson, see how absurd your idea is. Suppose it were possible for you to run your carriage twenty miles an hour on straight rails, so that it could not get off.—What if a cow should get on the track, and you could not turn out for her?" "Well, my Lords," said Stephenson, "It would be bad for the cow!"

CHANCE FOR A LAW SUIT. — The schooners E. C. Dennison and Stranger, of Sandwich, with cargoes of oil and coal tar for the Boston and Sandwich Glass Works, have been frozen in the ice off North Falmouth for the past two weeks. Both crews assisted each other as necessity demanded, often leaving one of the vessels without anybody on board, they being firmly frozen in, anchors down, &c., but of course moving with the ice. Last Thursday night the crew of the Stranger, when the easterly gale came on, went on board the E. C. Denison, and assisted in getting her into port, but when they returned to the Stranger in the morning, found two men on board, who claimed that they boarded the vessel in the bay, adrift, and had prevented her going ashore and being wrecked. She was, however in nearly the same position as left the night before, and the Captain went to her from the shore on the ice. The two men brought her to this port, arriving yesterday, and of course claim salvage, which the owners do not seem disposed to pay under the circumstances.—New Bedford Standard.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT AND LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be accred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS —The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the physician so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best tested by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, ILLIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spuo

Local.

☞ We believe we never saw the old Temple, (the temple of the muses, arts, sciences and what not,) more closely packed full of humanity, than at Mr. Davis' musical festival, the other evening. We might occupy a column very agreeably to ourselves, at any rate, in detail of Mr. Davis' musical movements here, and this happy culmination of the same; but they are already familiar to most of those really interested in the matter, and other duties press. [Besides, what with this exhibition, and concerts, sleigh-rides, Greenland festivals, and so forth—a fellow can hardly collect his critical senses, if he has any, this superb winter weather.]

But we must say a word of the highly-commendable public spirit and enlightened devotion of each and all our High School teachers (by no means omitting the patriotic lady connected therewith,) for the real interest they, in common with teachers of our other schools, are manifesting in the welfare of their pupils, in ways not actually demand of them, nor recompensed for in other manner than their own self satisfaction. Especially has this been evinced in the course of events which have had already so pleasant results, and must be permanently beneficial to all concerned. The appreciation and good feeling which so voluntarily and cheerfully bestowed the beautiful presents on their teacher—entirely unexpected by him, show a good degree of interest in the cause of music, on the part of parents, no less than of the pupils and teachers.

As we have before stated, the Girls of the High School surprised Mr. Davis, by the presentation of a large and very richly chased silver pitcher and goblet—which were neatly inscribed, and tendered him, by the Principal, with a note from the whole School, on the occasion of his last visit there.

The Boys' School also bestowed an elegant silver-mounted Baton—the presentation speech being very neatly delivered by Master Edward Ball, in the name of his fellow pupils—at the opening of the Concert. If anybody is entitled to swing the pendulum, we think B. B. Davis can be safely trusted, for he might well be surnamed Metronome.

We have before alluded to the beautiful performance of the trio of young ladies who came from Concord to assist—and certainly not less worthy of appreciation and commendation were the services and exertions of several of the best of our resident singers, ladies and gents. The stage decorations and arrangements, under charge of Mr. Head, were universally praised.

☞ In reply to a very general desire that Mr. Davis should repeat his exceedingly successful musical entertainment of Wednesday evening, so that the other hundreds who desire to attend may have opportunity—he requests us to say that the affair requires so much time and labor of himself and others in preparation, that his other numerous engagements will not permit any repetition at present, notwithstanding the very flattering results of the first.

And in regard to another Singing School in Portsmouth, he will say that after a few weeks' respite, he may probably resume his day class for the juveniles, but can hardly continue his evening class.

THE STATE MUSICAL CONVENTION.—We would again call the attention of our musical readers to the Musical Convention to be held in Concord next week. All who love to sing or hear good singing will be most agreeably entertained if they attend; and choirs and singers will derive much benefit from the exercises. The expense is a mere trifle—half fare on the railroad only—as the whole Concord people, so to speak, will keep "open house" for all visitors at this time. The affair is in the hands of the most wealthy, influential and public-spirited citizens of the place, and this will be a carnival of music, the like of which New Hampshire never saw. The Convention extends from Tuesday to Friday. Mr. B. B. Davis or Mr. J. H. Morey will provide agreeable stopping places for all Portsmouth ladies or gentlemen who make seasonable application. Several representatives of our city have already "given notice of intention" to be there—and Mr. Davis will be very glad to greet all who go.

☞ We notice an item going the rounds of the papers, respecting the "Prince Imperial Quadrille"—and stating that it was probably danced for the first time in public at St. Louis, recently. That's news, down east here, sure. Ask Lamprey if two sets didn't go through with it in good shape at a Social Assembly in Irving Hall, a couple of years ago? Lat the Imperial is old, this way.

☞ Rev. B. F. Bowles, of Manchester, will preach at the Universalist Church tomorrow (Sunday) and lecture in the evening. Evening service at 7 o'clock.

☞ Rev. H. J. Gordon, of Haverhill, Mass., will supply the pulpit of the Court street Christian Church to-morrow.

☞ The U. S. steamer Sacramento, which was built at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, sailed from Boston on Friday.

THAT SLEIGHING PARTY.—We suppose we must put something on record about the third annual excursion of the G. S. R. Party to Rye Beach—but really we are so full of the subject, that we hardly know where to begin; and we fear we shall find it as hard to leave off as the participants therein did. Such a day! and such a night! Who says June has all the "perfect days?" And the sleighing—was ever there better? How could it be beat, except you had a faster horse? And the party—was any one thing lacking about it? Wasn't the music fine? and the dancing lively? and the supper tip-top? and all things lovely?

The three dozen couple who congregated at the Atlantic House about sundown,—proceeded thither as to each seemed to him good, and as to his team seemed good. But they were all there—save one only who had 'passed on' since the last excursion, and a few who were kept at home by sickness of themselves or families.

Several drove round by way of Greenland, and accepted the invite of Hon. Albert Blaisdell, to call at his elegant and hospitable residence—where an hour was passed most agreeably; though the tempting lunch here spread was calculated to somewhat interfere with the fullest enjoyment of the early supper at the hotel, but for the exhilarating and appetizing sleigh ride afterwards.—"Open your house—we're all coming back."

But of all the doings on this joyous occasion, are they not written in the pleasantest memory of every one present—not forgetting the usual courtesies extended to their friends and to all, by mine host Philbrick, his efficient and attentive clerk, Mr. Lougee, and by the A. B. at the head of the table? Then that drive home—and the racing, and trotting, and running, [alas! it's true!] was there ever the like before? Will there ever be again? We hope so,—and may we be there to see! Thus endeth the third chapter of the chronicles of the mysterious annual alphabetical sleigh-ride.

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depot, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases long considered of hopeless incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks; and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and sensible to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cures.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, all are healthy, like a well-balanced scale, in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause downpoises one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and all diseases (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration amongst the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation. Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with sickly misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourex.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly relieved—and swelling of joints are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Mem'ry, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing, restoring their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Pains in the Bones, the Blotches, Blotches and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome, Discharging Sores, and the disfigurements of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to the swellings from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease now in the glands of the Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly obstinate and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Disturbance and Loss of Blood, Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all Uterine Cutaneous Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to langnor, distinctness of vision, weak stomach, or a diseased or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, are cured. Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND YOUNG MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

THE LAUNCH OF THE NEW HAMPSHI

The last Ship-of-the-Line which will eve launched on the Piscataqua, will to-day a o'clock, issue from the house in which she quietly rested for forty-five years, and greet waves which have so long been playing aro her. The venerable Naval Constructor of Yard, SAMUEL M. POOK, Esq., was an apprentice and aided in laying the keel of the New Hampshire—but probably not a half a dozen of hundred men who were then engaged in the w are now living. She was built on the most proved model of that day—before steam pow was used on the Atlantic—and on dry land l outlived the day when vessels of her class can brought to the practical use of these times. T beautiful Steam Frigate Franklin, yet in l house on the yard, although a thousand tons l ger, could visit Europe and back again, ere New Hampshire gets half across the ocean.

The first Line-of-Battle Ship built in Ameri was launched on our river, Nov. 5, 1782: in 18 the Washington was launched,—and to-day w be witnessed the launching of the last that wi ever be built of this class of vessels.—Journal.

CITY COUNCIL—EXPULSION OF MEMBER

In Common Council, on Thursday evening, th special committee upon the contested seats of th members from Ward Three presented their repor as follows:

To the Common Council of the City of Portsmouth.

The Committee to whom was referred the petition of William G. Nowell, Charles W. Gardner, Charles E. Lord, Jacob Woodsum, Charle E. Blunt and Jeremiah Johnson, to be admit ted to seats at this Board and recognized a members of it, in place of those who have re ceived certificates as members from Ward No. 3 without being legally elected thereto, respectfully report:

That after due notice to the contestants an the incumbents, they proceeded to hear the ev dence offered; from which it appears that at th municipal election on the 24th day of November A. D. 1863, the whole number of ballots cas for members of the Common Council, in sai ward, was 333, requiring 167 votes for a choic By the affidavits of 168 men, it appears th they each voted for Messrs. Nowell, Gardner Lord, Woodsum, Blunt and Johnson. In ad dition to this number of votes, it appears b affidavit that one man voted for all the abov named gentlemen except Mr. Lord, anoth for all except Mr. Nowell, and another vote for Messrs. Lord, Woodsum and Blunt. I addition to these, five voters have sworn th they voted a ticket given them by another pe son, which was shown to be a ticket with th names of the contestants upon it. Witho reckoning this last number of five votes ho ever, and excluding all testimony but the di rect sworn statement of the persons voted for it appears that Mr. William G. Nowell ma have received 169 votes, Mr. Charles W Gardner must have received 179 votes, Mr Charles E. Lord must have received 170 votes Mr. Job Woodsum must have received 17 votes, Mr. Charles E. Blunt must have re ceived 171 votes, and Mr. Jeremiah Johnson must have received 170 votes. It appears by an examination of the check list used on tha occasion that the persons giving the affidavits referred to voted. A count of the check list shows that 336 men are checked by the Town Clerk as having voted. This would allow th highest vote on the whole ticket, and if there were 336 votes cast for Councilmen, or 3 more than the record of the Clerk of the meeing shews, it would require for a majority, 169 votes, being a number which each of the contestants has received. The votes cast were not produced and indeed no evidence was furnished upon th part of the sitting members. In view of th fact, the committee are of opinion that the petitioners were duly elected Members of this Board at the late election, and are entitled to the seats as members from Ward No. 3.

The Committee beg to submit the following resolution:

Resolved, that Samuel Langdon, Jr., William S Willey, Thomas O. Green, Augustus Walden, Nathaniel Foster and John E. Townsend, are not entitled to seats in the Common Council; and that William G. Nowell, Charles W. Gardner, Charles E. Lord; Job Woodsum, Charles E. Blunt and Jeremiah Johnson are entitled to seats as Members of the Council from Ward No. 3, and that they be admitted accordingly. Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. HACKETT,
MOSES WHERREN,
STEPHEN L. MARSTON,
ANDREW J. MCINTIRE,
Committee.

Portsmouth, N. H. Jan. 21, 1864.

Mr. Langdon of Ward Three moved that the subject be laid over one week in order that the members from Ward 3 might appear before the Board with counsel. The motion was discussed at some length, and negatived upon the ground that the Council could attend to their own matters without calling in foreign aid, and that the members from Ward Three having been notified of the sessions of the committee had not appeared before it, and had stated to the Committee that they should not do so.

The Council then resolved itself into committee of the whole, when the matter was freely discussed by Messrs. Davis of Ward 1, Wherren, Hackett, Edny, Staves and Townsend.

Upon the rising of the committee, the question was taken upon the resolution accompanying the above report, and it was adopted.

The seats were then vacated, and Messrs. Wm. G. Nowell, Job Woodsum, Charles E. Blunt, and Jeremiah Johnson being present took the prescribed oath, and were admitted to seats in the Council.

Whereas the Naval Retiring Board has heard with deep regret, the demise of its late President, Rear Admiral GEORGE W. STORER, of the U. S. Navy:

Therefore, Resolved, That in the opinion of this Board, the Naval Service has sustained a loss which can be appreciated only by those who enjoyed the good fortune of his acquaintance, and esteemed him as blending the amenities of the gentleman with whatever decision was necessary to maintain the dignity of the officer. That his social virtues were so genial as to make him no less beloved, than his just sense of official duty made him respected—that in his zeal and devotion to the service, in which he passed a life honorable and useful as it was lengthened, he always waived considerations of private interest to public duty, and well illustrated this self-abnegation by his late services as President of this Board, which were rendered to the prejudice of feeble health and the sacrifice of domestic comfort.

Resolved, That we tender our sympathies and condolence to his bereaved family, and forward them a copy of these resolutions.

Resolved, That the foregoing be published in the New York Times, New York Herald and the Portsmouth, (N. H.) Journal.

(Signed,) WM. MERVINE,
President of the Board.

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1862. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla syrups, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Sweet's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's for removing the system of all humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of the Panacea."

JERAH CHERLEY.

Portsmouth, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicines failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of Dr. S. Sweet's Panacea, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From Elder I. Cherley, Lee, May 31, 1861.

Dr. Sweet—My wife wishes to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1860, she had even consumed the number of bottles, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow worse. She commenced using your Panacea and Humor Wash. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I consider your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." Israel Cherley

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Sweet's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, No. 2 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest things of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, nervous foreboding, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or more weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Dr. Dow has no doubt, had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel; and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of fresh air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have been now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert H. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

☞ PIANO-FORTES FOR SALE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only; to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

ESTABLISHED 1852. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY JAN 25 1864 VOL. 24. NO. 21.

The Chronicle.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

"MISCEGNATION."—A curious book, under the above title, has just been published in New York. The word is from the Latin miscere, to mix, and genus, race. It is intended to replace the word amalgamation, which signifies merely the mixture of metals with quicksilver. The mixture of the different races of men has now found a word which exactly expresses the idea.—The author of this book boldly takes the bull by the horns, and advocates a general mingling of all the races of men, including, of course, the union of whites and blacks.—He denies that the white is the most perfect specimen of the human race, and insists that the "Miscegen" of the future, the highest ideal of manhood, will be brown or yellow, and will represent African and Asiatic, as well as Caucasian blood. Its novel views are said to be argued with singular eloquence, and to display a great mount of curious learning. It is expected to cause a sensation in scientific as well as political circles.

LARGE FEET.—The feet of the Greeks and Romans were larger than are those of the Celts and Americans. This is proven by the two chef d'œuvres of ancient and modern sculpture—the Venus de Medicis and the Greek Slave. The foot of the Slave are much the smallest in proportion to the whole figure, and more beautifully arched. Another fact may be learned by consulting these celebrated statues. The head of the Venus is not so large in proportion as that of the Slave. These facts show that the moderns have larger heads and smaller feet than had the ancients. In these latter days, men do more labor with head than with the feet and hands, while with the ancients the reverse was the case.

George Washington had the largest feet and hands of any man in Virginia; therefore he was the swiftest runner and best wrestler at his school. His intellectual qualities, and all that ennobles man, were in keeping with his large understandings. Napoleon I. had firm and goodly-sized feet, while those of Napoleon III. are not diminutive, but rather flabby—thus warranting the saying that he is rather shaky on his pins. Metternich, Richelieu, and nearly all the great statesmen, warriors, and jurisconsults of England and Scotland had large feet. The reader probably remembers the account of how Talleyrand offended Madame de Stael, by alluding to her large feet as the pedestal, instead of the pedal.—Genio C. Scott.

☞ The following bill having passed both Houses, now only awaits the President's signature to become a law:—

Articles of clothing being manufactured of wool, cotton or linen, and compressed in a package not exceeding 2 pounds weight, addressed to any non-commissioned officer or private serving in the armies of the U. S., may be transmitted in the mails of the United States, at the rate of 8 cents (to be in all cases prepaid) for every four ounces, or any fraction thereof, subject to such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe.

☞ Copperheadism is getting to be aristocratic and is putting on airs. The Washington correspondent of the New York Atlas, a copperhead member of Congress, speaks of the passenger cars in which congressmen ride, being "filled with filthy soldiers." Such refined gentlemen would put the soldier out of the cars as they have the well-behaved colored man, and class him with Senator Hammond's mud-sills and another Southern aristocrat's "greasy mechanics."

THE REBELLION.

Perley states that it has been positively ascertained that a large portion of the Tredegar Iron Works at Richmond has been removed to Columbia, S. C.

The Times' Washington dispatch says sharp musketry firing, continuing for several minutes, was heard at 3 o'clock, Thursday morning, among the rebels over the Rapidan. It was supposed to be occasioned by a concentrated attempt to desert.

A Washington dispatch states that it is not positively decided that Gen. Rosecrans goes to Missouri, though every indication points to that conclusion.

A New Orleans correspondent writes that the light draft river fleet is fitting for active duty, and things that they and the troops returning from Attakapas are intended for a combined advance up Red river.

Our troops have re-occupied Jacksonville, Fla.

NAVAL.—The loss of the screw steamer Iron Age is confirmed. It appears that on the 11th inst. she got ashore on a falling tide, and the gunboats that attempted to haul her off, fouling their propellers, were forced to withdraw or run the risk of grounding also. Left thus at the mercy of the enemy, her commander fired the vessel, to prevent her falling into their hands.—It was blowing very fresh at the time, and her officers and crew had to slide down a hawser to get into the boats. All hands escaped to the screw steamer Gov. Buckingham. The Iron Age was fitted out in a superior manner. She sailed from the Charlestown Yard Sept. 4, 1863, and proceeded direct to the headquarters of the Wilmington blockade. She is one of the purchased steamers, and has seen much service since she has been in commission.—Her crew numbered seventy-two men. Her battery consisted of six eight-inch guns on the gun deck, three thirty-pounder Parrott rifles pivoted on the spar deck, and one twenty-four-pounder howitzer.

Within the last six weeks the following enormous sums have been paid over by different lawyers and paymasters to sailors: One foretopman got $6784; a maintopman got $7644; two able seamen belonging to the forecastle got nearly $20,000—one receiving $9000 and the other $11,000. Marines have received as high as $4000, and landsmen have got as much.

FRED. DOUGLASS ON THE IRISH.—On Wednesday evening last, Fred. Douglass, in the course of his lecture at Cooper Institute, took occasion to apostrophise Ireland as "glorious Old Ireland, that respects the black man on her own soil, and only oppresses him when upon Yankee soil."—When he was a slave it was an Irishman that advised him to "cut and run," and he was received on the platform of Conciliation Hall by the noble O'Connell himself. The Irish have been duped into the notion that work will be taken from them and given to the blacks. This is a mistake. The blacks will all rush for the South the moment slavery ceases to exist.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's dispatch says the statements as to reduction in navy appropriations are likely to be misinterpreted. The Ways and Means committee took the ground that the naval bill should only cover estimates for current expenses and work on hand and likely to be completed during the year. The building of iron-clads or additional steamers is to be made the subject of special appropriation.

— The feeling South is said to be decidedly in favor of an exchange of prisoners, and it is confidently believed that the consummation of the exchange will soon be brought about.

— There are strange stories afloat about a religious society in Connecticut that recently hired Dosticks to deliver his lecture on "Cheek," in several towns in that vicinity, ostensibly for the benefit of the soldiers, and then pocketed the receipts.

— A conductor on the Reading, Pa., railroad has been convicted of embezzling the funds of the company. The President testified that twenty-three conductors had been detected in embezzling in the last 3 months.

— A servant girl in Portland was last week discharged for larceny. Before she left she filched the tea-kettle for breakfast, and the water was afterward found to be so strongly impregnated with arsenic that a cup of coffee made from it would have killed the person who drank it. The girl has been arrested.

—A New Orleans letter of the 9th inst. says: "All the past week the weather has continued very severe—frost almost uninterruptedly. All the tender evergreens, acacias, jessamines and delicate roses will certainly be killed; the sugar-cane, too, will without doubt, be nearly all destroyed. The ground is frozen, an event which has not happened here for many years."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— James H. Trask, of Keene, was put off the cars at Hartland, Vt., Dec. 3d, since which time he has not been heard of.

—— The house of Mr. Joseph Morrison, in Londonderry, taken down the past season, was built 135 years ago.

—— The Nashua Cadets are to give a levee shortly. Hall's Band, of Boston, furnishes the music and Col. Wm. Beals does the decorating.

—— The late Reuben Dimond, of West Concord, had eleven children—ten of whom still live, the youngest at the age of 69 years.

—— The three churches of Wilton, Unitarian, Trinitarian and Baptist, united in observing the recent Centennial Anniversary of the organization of the first named church.

—— The Peterborough Transcript states that Moses Cheney, Esq., of Stratham, an experienced paper manufacturer, has recently purchased an extensive water privilege at West Henniker, and is to establish, immediately, a manufactory for brown paper and pasteboard.

—— Information has been received of the decease of John D. Palmer, Co. A, 12th Mass. regiment. His dead body was brought to the Campbell Hospital in Washington, he having died while on his way there from his regiment. He is supposed to belong in Hampton, N. H.

—— At Laconia, on the 15th inst., Edward Whipple, a boy about 15 years of age, was shot by William Shepherd, a photograph artist, the ball lodging at the lower part of the spine, making a dangerous wound. Shepherd claims that he did the act in defending himself and property from a mob.

—— A pocket book, with a check for $70 and a large roll of "greens," was found near the depot in Concord a few days since. When promptly returned to the owner, he kindly thanked the finder and asked if he wouldn't "take a little of something"—in the "fluid" (not paper) line.—Finder thanked him and said he "wasn't dry."

—— The Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes:—

The Judiciary Committee will probably report in the case of Mr. Hale very soon. I hear that nearly all the evidence—all except that of McKay, is in Mr. Hale's favor. The man who employed the Senator testified that he paid the $3000 as a retainer. Mr. Hale's ability as a lawyer was called in question, and Mr. Sumner was called before the Committee to testify in reference to the reputation of Mr. Hale as a lawyer in Boston in criminal cases, and his testimony was very favorable to the N. H. Senator. The report and verdict will exonerate Mr. Hale.

— Gen. Frank Blair has resigned his position in the army.

— Dickens, the novelist, is a very gray grandfather now.

— The dead-lock in the Pennsylvania Senate continues.

— The carriers of Salem and Danvers, Mass., are on a strike for increased wages.

— The War Department is about to increase the powers of Gen. Dix as commander of his department of the East.

— The wife of a London bankrupt had over fifty-two yards of silk in one dress.—Comment is unnecessary.

—An English farmer had early in December 10,000 geese for the London market at Christmas.

— There is a libel suit in the Court of Exchequer, London, about a plate of bean soup.

— The Mobile Register says the Confederate army is naked, hungry and ill-equipped.

— Rev. Starr King paid for his new organ—$4500—by the proceeds of lectures in San Francisco.

— A horse was killed in Portland on Thursday by running against a pung, one of the shafts of which pierced his breast.

— Gail Hamilton was a teacher in Hartford, Conn., before she commenced her literary career.

— They successfully counterfeit every kind of precious stone in Paris, except the opal.

— The owner of the steamer Kiu Kiang has accepted a challenge to race against the gunboat Estaw, provided the expenses are paid by the Navy Department.

— Occasionally, when a storm prevented Prescott, the historian, from taking his daily walk, he would saw and chop fire-wood, being read to all the while.

— The Richmond Examiner says that barbers in the rebel capital charge from fifty cents to a dollar for shaving, and from one to two dollars for blacking boots.

— The Portland Argus asserts that an old lady who was admiring the beautiful picture called "Saved," remarked "It's no wonder, that the poor child fainted after pulling that great dog out of the water!"

— A merchant of Philadelphia, who a few years ago was reported to be wealthy, and making annually from five to ten thousand dollars, is now a driver on a passenger railroad car at nine dollars per week.

PEACE PROSPECTS.

Within the last two or three weeks, we have had news from various quarters indicating an early return of peace. The movement in Arkansas for the reorganization of that State as a loyal, liberty-loving member of the good old Union, is the most important. Its leader Edward W. Gantt, was chosen to Congress as an independent Democrat in August, 1860, beating Mitchell, the regular Democratic candidate in the IInd (Southern) District, by 3,572 majority.—The secession of his State prevented his taking his seat, and he became a Rebel General. Sick of the Rebellion, he is now in Washington, at the head of a strong delegation, to arrange for the resurrection of Arkansas as a loyal Free State. And it is plain that a very large majority of the people of that State are with him in heart and aim.

Louisiana is preparing to resume her place in the Union as a Free and therefore immovably loyal State. No one imagines that, being Free, she can evermore be other than loyal. A very large proportion of her white freemen are actively enlisted in the movement, and they expect to poll a majority vote of the resident electors when their first election takes place. Extensive planters are ardently engaged in the work—satisfied that Slavery, whatever it may or might have been, has ceased to be useful, or even possible, in their State. One of the planters most active in the movement was worth Three Millions of Dollars when the State seceded, and was in the Rebel army at Shiloh; he thinks he is worth One Million still, if we can have an early peace on the basis of Free Labor, for which he is working. He is astonished by the fact that he can actually make Cotton and Sugar cheaper by Free Labor than he ever could by Slave.

Tennessee is preparing to reorganize under the President's Proclamation. She will be fully represented in Congress as a Free State, we trust, before the end of the present Session.

As to North Carolina, we presume no one doubts that she would to-day vote herself back into the Union under the President's Proclamation of Amnesty if she only had a chance. She never really seceded; yet her Unionists have been conscripted by tens of thousands to fight for the Rebellion and been placed in the hottest fore-front of the battle! More North Carolinians have died for the Rebel cause than ever were heartily in favor of it. And now her people are calling for Peace in tones that must make the ricketty usurpation at Richmond totter to its foundations.

Intelligent men from Texas assure us that there has been a strong Union feeling in that State ever since the rebellion broke out, though it could not show itself to us during the reign of terror. Now it shows itself to Gov. Banks, and to us.

These are but samples of the universal drift. Thousands of the bitterest Secessionists of '62 frankly admit in '64 that the Rebellion is 'gone up.'

And yet, here at the north, as a cotemporary truly says,

"The very men who were crying in our streets, one little year ago, that the Rebel array could never be put down by force, now assert that it is down, and should be let up. They declared that the Proclamation of Freedom had ruined the Union cause; and now they assert that the President has but to say so and the revolted States will all come back and resume their old places in the Union! Did they pretend any thing like this before that Proclamation was issued? Could they?

What sort of Peace men are they who suppress where they can and belittle everywhere else the evidences pouring in from every side of the swift approach of a true and lasting Peace? Is Peace the real object their desire? Are they not, on the contrary, signaling the Rebels to hold out, and run for luck in the next Presidential Election?"

We commend these thoughts to the consideration of every candid man; and suggest the foregoing facts as ground for devout thankfulness in the heart of every christian patriot, who desires an honest, enduring peace. U. T.

☞ The Biddeford Journal learns that Valentine Wayland, a recruit from Saco, wrote to his mother who lives in Biddeford, that he should be at home Wednesday, 13th, and get some of his bounty money for her. He came up from Augusta on that day, went to Mr. Moses Lowell, one of the Selectmen of Saco, and obtained an order on the York Bank for $75, drew the money, and since then there is no trace of him. Inquiry at the depots in Biddeford and Saco elicits the fact that he did not leave the cars at either place.

☞ Gen. Foster was severely injured on the 23d ult., near Knoxville, by being thrown from his horse. The horse stumbled and fell while he was riding, throwing him upon the frozen ground; and, falling upon him, severely injured the same leg in which he was wounded during his Mexican campaign, from the effects of which he had never entirely recovered. The injury is of so serious a nature that it was feared he would not be able to resume the duties of his command. He has asked to be relieved on account of his disability.

— Gen. Meagher delivered a funeral oration on Gen. Corcoran in New York on Friday night, before the Fenian Brotherhood.

— Five persons lay dead in Belchertown, Mass., on Sunday week, all heads of families, and all from congestion of the lungs, brought on by hard colds.

— W. W. Treadwell, Cashier of the People's Bank of Hudson, Michigan, absconded on Thursday with $60,000 belonging to the bank.

HUNNEWELL'S TOLU ANODYNE.—This justly celebrated preparation, which has so truly earned the name and fame of a TRUE ANODYNE by results in cases which had baffled every other attempt at relief in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Nervous Head Ache, Tooth and Ear Ache, Cholera Morbus, Pains in the Stomach or Bowels, Hysteria, Distress after Eating, Loss of Sleep, General Nervous Debility, Paroxisms in Asthma and Whooping Cough, now declared to be largely Nervous, and for the pains in Monthly Menstruation, also declared to be one of the most important points in medicine. A lady writes from New York: "Were it ten dollars a drop, I would not be without it in my family. "Who would be without it."

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pills so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. LAUNCH OF THE "NEW HAMPSHIRE." The U. S. ship-of-the-line New Hampshire (late Alabama), which has been on the stocks in the ship house at Portsmouth Navy Yard for nearly half a century, was at last got ready and allowed to glide into the water on Saturday forenoon. It was a beautiful sight, and an entirely successful launch; and crowds of men and women were present from far and near, to witness it.

Afterwards, Capt. Pearson, Commandant of the Yard, received his friends with his usual bountiful and cordial hospitality at his residence, where a large number of visitors improved the opportunity to pay their respects to himself and family, forming quite a brilliant levee.

We were also indebted to Mr. Childs and Mr. Palfrey, for various courtesies and attentions. The Clerks in the various Departments of the Yard had finely fitted up and decorated a large hall in one of the store houses, and with the aid of Lamprey & Haines' band, passed a social hour on the light fantastic, very agreeably.

Capt. Murray and all the officers of the Yard, and of the ship, paid every possible attention to visitors.

☞ The Fair gotten up by the ladies of Greenland, in aid of the Sanitary Commission, closed on Friday evening. The hall was crowded on both nights, and every one was pleased with the triple entertainment of readings, tableaux and singing. That mysterious goose caused much merriment. We learn that the receipts were quite large and will be the means of relieving the sufferings of many of our brave soldiers.

The hall was beautifully decorated with evergreens, flags, pictures and mottoes and presented a fine appearance. The whole affair was a success.

AID AND COMFORT from a Secesh FOR OUR SOLDIERS.—One of the most enjoyable features of the Festival at Greenland in aid of the Soldiers, was the exhibition of a noble fat goose, styled "The Mysterious Goose"—and thereby hangs a tale. A well-known Packer of Pork, &c., who has made himself quite notorious for his secesh proclivities, was asked the day before the Fair if he had contributed anything to the Soldiers' Aid Society of his town. "Not I," says he, "you don't catch me doing anything for this infernal war." On his way to market next day, with his sleigh packed with provisions, a very large fat goose rolled from his sleigh, unperceived by him, and on he drove. Two young ladies, who were on their way to attend the Levee, picked it up, carried it to the house of a friend near by, dressed it well, roasted it, and carried it to the Fair, where, besides administering comfort to many a hungry stomach, it gave aid to the soldiers by the handsome sum of five dollars for a sight at the "Mysterious Goose." P.

P. S.—Nobody can take a joke better than he who lost the goose, and who makes such a goose of himself on the subject of the rebellion; he enjoyed the whole affair as much as anybody. The lady poachers referred to, were from this city; and on reaching their destination, the house of Capt. Geo. Ball, at Greenland, with their prize, which they had picked up on the snow just after passing the provisioner referred to. Capt. B. at once suggested the plan which was so well carried out; and the bird, as well as the whole scheme, was soon "done up brown."

☞ Miss Cluer will give her entertainment of readings at Armory Hall, Kittery, this (Monday) evening. The Mozart Glee Club of Portsmouth will assist in the exercises of the evening. We trust the citizens of Kittery will give Miss Cluer a crowded house.

☞ In the miscellaneous appropriation bill just reported in the U. S. House of Representatives, is the following item:—for erecting a Naval Hospital at Portsmouth, N. H., twenty-five thousand dollars.

☞ At the Provision Store of Mr. G. V. Rowe, may be seen, among the profusion of other good things, a huge pork, which weighs, dressed, 780 pounds. It was raised by Mr. John Cubby of Kennebunk, and is twenty months old.

☞ Atlantic Engine Co. No. 6, will hold their Assembly on Tuesday evening Jan. 26, at Irving Hall. It was postponed from last week, on account of foul weather.

NOVEL STEAMER.

SALEM, MASS., Jan. 22d.

To the Editor of the Portsmouth Chronicle:—Passing through your city a few days since, my attention was arrested by the building of a vessel at Messrs. Toby & Littlefield's ship yard, and curiosity led me to stop and look at her. Although a stranger, I was received and treated with the most gentlemanly courtesy. The location for a ship yard is one of the best I have ever seen. With the railroad running directly through it, every article of material used is easily transported; indeed, there is every facility that could be desired for the building of ships; and I should judge, too, from the short interview, and from the workmanship being displayed in their present productions, that the right men are in the right place. I was informed that the ship, or steamer, in course of construction, was under contract with Capt. R. B. Forbes, of Boston; that she is to be a steam propeller, so constructed that she can be used for a war vessel if needed; and if I am allowed to express my opinion as to what is requisite for a war vessel in these times, or what is most needed by our Government, I should say that this vessel, modeled as she is for speed, (for truly there can be nothing sharper) and so arranged internally as to protect boilers and motive power, differently from anything yet constructed—is completely adapted for the work, as she can either fight or run away.

In noticing a structure of this kind outside the precincts of Uncle Sam, it is natural to the observer to scrutinize carefully the material and workmanship. Now, Mr. Editor, as I have seen nothing in public print in relation to the building of this vessel, I have to conclude that the proprietors of the journals of your city are ignorant of this, I may say, great curiosity; and I would most respectfully, as one who appreciates such, invite your attention to it.—[This Chronicle has spoken of this fine craft several times before. We fear H. M. S. don't take the papers.—ED. CHRON.] If it be said it is nothing new—that our government is building just such vessels continually—let me say that it is not so. Our government has not such a ship afloat or on the stocks, of such a peculiar model; and whoever will take the pains to compare the material and workmanship with that at our Navy Yards, either at Portsmouth or Boston, must admit, unless ruled by prejudice, that in every respect it is fully equal, and I should say, not speaking disparagingly of Government work, that in many respects it is superior to that,—and it is reasonable to suppose this would be the case; for, while Government has no reputation to gain or lose, strictly speaking, these men have the high reputation gained by building some of the finest and best ships in the world to maintain.

Capt Forbes is a gentleman of wide experience and great discernment, and is highly popular, and, doubtless, has some prominent place in view for this model craft. Hoping to see such credit as is deserving to the parties concerned in this vessel, in your columns, I am, very truly, Yours, H. M. S.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cure which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have continued with unbelief and overcome opposition as heroism as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the equilibrium, the balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrotula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a specific, it is in Rheumatism and its hundred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly is weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purifies the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curling the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin.

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are also subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female DROPSY OF THE OVARIES and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the scorbuh, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indition, weak stomach, or an enlarged or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Weak Back, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of DR. Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. SWETT'S in removing the worst kind of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully convinced me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humour, and that previous to you visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she has been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow worse. But all she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and she says she will pay her medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if no worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S SWETT, No. 1 High street, Portsmouth, N. H. promptly attended to. mav26

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability or inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice and facilities for obtaining twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and more capable of advantageously of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

WILD ROSES.

Suggested by seeing them bloom beside the railway track.

On its straight iron pathway the long train was rushing,
With its smoke and its smoke and its great hot-iron load;
And I saw where a wild rose in beauty was blushing,
Fresh and sweet, by the side of the hot dusty road.

Untrained were its branches, untended it flourished,
No eye watched its opening or mourned its decay,
But its leaves by the soft dews of Heaven were nourished,
And it opened its buds in the warm light of day.

I asked why it grew there, where none prized its beauty?
For of thousands who passed none had leisure to stay;
And the shower came sweetly, "I do but my duty,
I was told to grow here by the side of the way."

There are those on life's pathway whose spirits are willing To dwell where the busy crowd passes them by;
But the dew from above on their leaves is distilling
And they bloom 'neath the smile of the All-seeing Eye.

They are loved by the few;—like the rose they remind us,
When tempted from duty's safe pathway to stray,
We too have a place and a station assigned us,
Though it be but to grow by the side of the way.

☞ Messrs. William Carter & Brother, Boston, have recently published a volume of Poems in the Dorset Language, by William Barnes. Dorset is a maritime county of England, on the English Channel. The inhabitants speak a dialect peculiar to themselves, which Mr. Barnes has given, by a mode of spelling which preserves the Dorset pronunciation. For example:

FALSE FRIENDS-LIKE.

When I wer' still a bwoy, and mother's pride,
A bigger boy up cke up to me so kind like,—
"If you do like, I'll treat ye wi' a ride
In those wheel-barrow here." So I were blind-like
To what 'e had a worken in his mind-like,
An' mounted yor a passenger inside;
An' comes to a pudule, perty wide,
He tipped me in, a-purtendin' behind-like.
So when a man do come to me to thick-like,
An' sheak my hand, where once 'e pas'd me by,
An' tell me he would die for me, I think-like,
I can't help thinken o' the big bwoy's trick-like,
An' then, for all I can but wag my hat
An' thank 'un, I do feel a little shy.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases of weakness by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the best and most enlightening the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by such habits are—Nervous Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, and other signs of disorganized functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Pieces!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and its less time also

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven door lined with tin, and jackets (thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be supplied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook.—

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall Stock of Stoves, especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and drum heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. The top of the oven and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would invite those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for ventilation, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part or your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 40 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, by which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

A NEW WINTER SPORT.—Amongst the orts on the ice at St. Louis, the Democrat that city gives the following:—

Some enterprising genius had placed a e duck in a box, leaving about six inches its head and neck out, and this box was aced in a hole cut in the ice, the upper rtion, showing the duck's head, being exsed to view. He had a stick about two et long, and charged ten cents for the privilege of throwing the stick at the duck's ad—the lucky individual who struck and lled the duck to have the fowl as the re-ard of his skill. Many persons, struck th the novelty of this trick, and not doubt-g that they could knock the duck's head
f in three throws, invested their money, d hundreds gathered around to witness e sport. Now, the duck is one of the ost artful dodgers extant, and he saved s life several hundred times by the quick-ss with which he drew in his head at the proach of the murderous stick. The prorietor of this institution pocketed about irty dollars in a few hours, and when we ft the stick was still whirling, and the uck was saving his neck with a certainty at gave promise of a long and eventful fe.

[St. Louis seems fated to bring out old musements as novelties. First it was the Prince Imperial Quadrille," and now it is he rejuvenescence of an old game, familiar o the frequenters of the watering places on he shores of Lake Pontchartrain, where he box is placed in the earth instead of in he.]

STRENGTH OF THE PEACE PARTY.—
Gen. Green Clay Smith of Kentucky has he credit of "smoking out" the peace men n the House of Representatives and of put-ing their real strength on record. He introduced on Monday the following pithy esolutions:

"Whereas, A most desperate, wicked and bloody rebellion exists in this, the jurisdiction of the United States, and the safety and security of personal and national liberty depends upon its absolute and utter extinction, therefore,

"Resolved, That it is the political, civil, moral and sacred duty of the people to meet it, fight it, and for ever destroy it, thereby establishing perfect and unalterable liberty."

This caused a good deal of uneasiness.
A motion to adjourn received 33 votes; a motion to lay on the table received 27, but being pressed, Mr. Smith's resolution was carried, 112 to 16. Messrs. Rollins and Patterson, of this State, voted for the resolve, and Mr. Marcy against it.

☞ The San Francisco Bulletin says, upon the authority of trustworthy statistics, that the population of that city, amounting to about 100,000 persons, consumes daily ninety-seven thousand eight hundred and fifty-two pounds of meat. It adds, that San Francisco probably consumes more animal food than any city of the same size in the whole country.

THE CONTINENTAL MONTHLY, for February, contains among other interesting articles, the following:—Thomas Jefferson, as seen by the light of 1863; the English
Press; the Treasury Report and Mr. Secretary Chase; Buckley, Draper and a Science of History; and North and South.

—The lease of the revenues of eight of the New Orleans city markets brings $209,550 this year, against $257,550 in 1861.

— A Western paper asserts that in a late gale "birds were seen hopping about with all their feathers blown off." That must have been before the cold snap.

— It is said that some of the recent stories of terrible railroad accidents have been set afloat by persons interested in depressing certain railway stock.

A POPPING AFFAIR.—Mr. Popp, of Poppville, in Popp County, fancying himself to be very popular with his lady love,
"popped the question" to her under the poplar tree, when she referred him to her
"popy," who, when asked for his consent, laboring under the influence of ginger pop, popped him out of door to the tune of "Pop goes the Weasel."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

There is a rumor that Longstreet offered to surrender his forces, but the terms offered him were such he would not accept them. We give the rumor for what it is worth,—probably not a rush. For the rebels after all don't seem inclined to rush into our lines in that way. One of our officers reports that Longstreet has been reinforced with 20,000 men, and is advancing on Knoxville, pushing Granger's forces before him.

A Frenchman in the rebel army has written a letter in which he makes some remarkable statements,—among them: Lee will probably be made Dictator, and has expressed his willingness to accept the position; Davis is very unpopular, having kept Bragg in command so long, and is also on bad terms with Lee; Davis' plan is to keep the rebel armies on the offensive, but Lee says that with their present miserable condition in regard to clothing and provisions, it is impossible to do so; Beauregard has expressed the opinion that he can not hold Charleston much longer, as Gen. Gilmore's guns can reduce it to ashes in a few hours, and his own troops are dispirited and mutinous. John Morgan has been given command of Magruders's army. Bread riots occur almost daily in the South, and the people are getting disgusted with the war.

A Chattanooga dispatch states that the rebels have sent one division to reinforce Mobile. The rebel order requiring soldiers to serve three years or more is causing hundreds to desert. 51 came in in one squad in one day.

Louisville is again agitated by rumors of a rebel invasion of Kentucky.

The President has instructed Gen. Steele to order a State election in Arkansas on the 28th of March. Enlistments in that State have rapidly increased, and three full regiments are in service, and two others are rapidly filling up.

The shelling of Charleston is continued night and day at intervals of ten minutes. The city is gradually crumbling under the incessant bombardment.

Gen. Butler has issued an order that "all prisoners heretofore held by the Confederate authorities, whether civilians, officers or soldiers, received at City Point before the 20th inst. from the Confederate Commissioner are hereby exchanged."

Morgan is reported to be at Atlanta, organizing an expedition to cut the Chattanooga railroad.

☞ In the Confiscation debate in the House, Mr. Morris of New-York made a point that traitors cannot claim the protection of constitutional immunities which they have deliberately renounced—a doctrine which considering that it has been asserted by Daniel Webster, is not so often insisted on in these days as might be expected.

☞ Gen. Pleasanton has issued an order that no excuse will hereafter be accepted for surprise or capture, under plea that the enemy is in our uniform, as no persons will be allowed to approach within rifle shot until their character is ascertained. Officers surprised will be recommended for dismissal, and privates will be tried by court martial should they prove responsible. Rebels wearing our uniform caught in the act of making war against our forces, are ordered to be hung on the spot.

☞ $3000 have been raised in the Navy Department to pay expenses of a race between the gunboat Estaw and the steamer Kin Kiang, the race to be from Fortress Monroe to New York. The N. Y. Herald says the race will probably take place in a few days, and it is expected that the Naval Committee of the House and Senate will be aboard the Estaw. After the race the Estaw goes on the Wilmington blockade.

S. J. Court, Exeter.—No. 79, Samuel H. Tarlton v. William Neal, action to recover $35, money loaned, and $8.50, goods delivered him: confession filed as to the goods sold, and general issue as to the money, which deft. contends was paid to him for Mr. Drown, and also that the claim was adjudicated in another suit between these parties. The case occupied the entire day Friday. Verdict for plf. for $40.25, over and above the amount confessed.

No. 104—Moses E. Emerson, Guardian of Edmund Morse, v. Nathaniel K. Leavitt, replevin for articles of personal property, including carriages, sleigh and harnesses, rum, gin, whiskey, &c., attached by deft. as a Deputy Sheriff upon a writ in favor of Darius Towle vs. James S. Frye, and claimed by plf. in his capacity as guardian of Edmund Morse, an insane person. This action was commenced on Saturday.

— The examination of Gustavus D. Smith at Holmes Hole, for the murder of Wm. C. Luce, has resulted in the commitment of the accused for trial.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The 6th regiment, having re-enlisted, arrived at Cincinnati on Friday.

—— A writer in the Mirror urges an increase in the pay of the lady teachers in Manchester. Two years ago their salaries were reduced $25 each.

—— A few days since six men met by chance at a store in Hooksett, whose combined weight was 1314, or an average of 219 pounds. The heaviest one was 259, and the lightest 195.

—— On Friday the express train north, over the Northern Railroad, when near the West Canaan Station, was thrown from the track by a broken rail, producing a disaster which came near being a serious one. One passenger car went down an embankment of fifteen feet to the river and rested on the ice, which fortunately was strong enough to support the car. The passengers were thrown about rather unceremoniously, and quite a number bruised, but we do not learn of any one receiving a severe injury.

—— Our regiments in the field are now filled, with the exception of the 12th and one or two others.

—— It is stated that Hon. E. A. Rollins of this State, Cashier of the Internal Revenue Bureau at Washington, will probably be appointed Assistant Commissioner.

—— Parley states that Capt. Joseph J. Ladd of the 8th N. H. regiment, of Manchester, has been dismissed from the service for speaking disrespectfully of his superior officer.

BOOK NOTICES.

Rebellion Record.—Part 39 of this invaluable record of the war contains fine portraits of Generals Gilmore and Zook.—Mr. C. T. Evans' interest in the Record and works connected therewith, ceased in December last, and all orders should, therefore, be addressed to G. P. Putnam, 441 Broadway, New York.

Mr. Putnam has also issued the first of his red, white and blue series,—entitled "Lyrics of Loyalty," and containing many of the finest lyrics written during the present war. It is got up in a neat style, is of a convenient size, and contains poems from the pens of many of our first lyric poets.—Among others we notice T. B. Aldrich's "Pro Patria," dedicated to the 2d N. H. regiment. Two other volumes will complete the series. The volumes will be a most acceptable present to the soldier in the field or to any of his friends at home.

Godey's Lady's Book, for February, contains patterns from the celebrated house of A. T. Stewart & Co., and Brodie. The steel plate in this number is "St. Valentine's Day," and the colored fashion-plate contains six figures. Marion Harland and Miss V. F. Townsend have stories in this number.

Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston, have issued in a little pamphlet, "Marjorie Fleming, a sketch," being the paper entitled "Pet Marjorie, a story of child life 50 years ago," by John Brown, M.D. It is uniform in size and style with "Rab and his Friends," by the same author, which was so popular a few years ago.

Hall's Journal of Health, for February, contains two prime articles on Consumption, and Recuperative Power.

☞ A dispatch from New York, announced that "an extract of a letter from Maximilian to Gen. Almonte is published, stating that he does not hesitate about accepting the Mexican crown; this dissipates all doubt on the question." The letter itself, which is dated the 4th of November last, will hardly bear the interpretation thus put upon it. The Prince assures Gen. Almonte that he, the Prince, "only awaits, in order to take the reins of government, the fulfilment of the conditions which not only my dignity, but the highly important interests of your own country, have obliged me to stipulate." The history of this note from the Austrian Prince is a little curious. It appeared in the New York Herald's Havana letter on Thursday last, was translated and published in the Courier des Etats Unis on Saturday morning, was retranslated for a New York evening paper, and then despatched by telegraph in the version given above.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch states that the Navy Department has had no loss or risk whatever in the iron-clad Comanche, which sunk in ship Acquilla, on the Pacific coast. The vessel had not been turned over to the Government authorities at all, and would not be until she was completed. The Navy Department is informed, however, that the contractors had the craft insured for over three hundred thousand dollars, and that the insurance brokers have contracted with some parties to proceed to the Pacific, and raise the vessel. These parties have gone, but no news has been received from them as yet. It is well to state that the Comanche was built in the United States in sections, to be transported on ship-board to her destination. A portion of the hull was sent overland.

— Brig. Gen. Getty has been assigned to duty as Chief of Artillery on Gen. Meade's staff.

— The small pox is subsiding in Washington, and promises soon to disappear.

— Five seats in Congress from Missouri are contested.

— The Louisville Journal is disposed to invoke Free Masonry to put an end to the war.

— A large and formidable battery is to be constructed, facing Fort Lafayette, in New York harbor.

— Recruiting is to be continued in Newburyport,—the surplus men to go to the credit of the city on any future call.

— Gen. McClernand has tendered his resignation as a Major General in the volunteer service.

— George W. Curtis, heretofore an editorial contributor, has now become editor of Harper's Weekly.

— Several boys have lately been injured and one killed, in Portland, while sliding down hill.

— About 3000 barrels of Irish Moss is gathered annually at Scituate, Mass. It is worth, at first hands, from $5 to $6 per barrel.

— Charles Curtis of Litchfield, Mass., on Monday evening, cut a hole in the ice, took off his clothes, jumped in, and drowned himself.

— The ladies who are managing the Sanitary Commission Fair, Washington, have determined to give a grand ball on the 22d Febuary, proximo, in their building on Pennsylvania avenue.

— A large six-horse team containing casks of powder from the Gorham Powder Mills, on turning a corner in Portland on Friday last, upset and scattered the entire load.

— There is some talk of introducing a resolution into the House requiring Government officers to write their signatures so that they shall be legible, as much delay and confusion are otherwise caused.

— The swiftest steamboat ever built is said to be the Mary Powel, running between New York and Poughkeepsie. She lately made the run between the two cities at the rate of 25 miles an hour, running time.

— A Boston oyster dealer, recently found, in a cargo just arrived, a live oyster firmly attached to a German pipe, holding it gracefully and firmly, and in the right position for smoking.

— About 300,000 pounds of unginned cotton has been shipped from Hilton Head, which is the larger part of the crop raised on the government plantations this year. Much more has been raised on the leased plantations.

— Mr. DeBow has published an article in his Southern Review which has carried him to a prison and stopped the publication of his Review. He said it was "all day" with the Confederacy, and advised the rebels to knock under.

— By order of the Secretary of War, all enlisted men now in the regular army, whose term of service expires during the present year, are permitted to re-enlist any time before the 1st of March, 1864. On re-enlisting they will be entitled to extra bounty of $300.

— The Figaro-Programme publishes the following curious detail; "Alexander Dumas, the novelist, is no longer paid by the line, but by the letter. Yes! the San Felice, which is now being published, is paid for at the rate of a centime a letter.—We can guarantee the exactitude of this fact."

— St. Paul, Minnesota, claims to be the greatest fur market in the world, and supports that claim by the following list of furry animals killed this season: 3,500 buffaloes, 850 bears, 1,650 red foxes, 28,000 mink, 250,000 muskrats, 2,258 otters, 540 fishers, 1,600 marten, 76 cross fox, and 3,500 wolves.

— The editor of the Portland Price Current states that on Friday he sent a dispatch to Boston by telegraph and in four minutes from the time he sent the dispatch from his office, he received an answer. And the editor of the Press states that he has received an answer by telegraph in less than two minutes.

☞ In the Provost Court at New Orleans, on the 12th inst. another result of the experiment of hired negro labor was elicited. Some Lafourche planters were brought before this court on a charge of having failed to comply with the terms of their contracts with the negroes on their plantations. The hands on one plantation in one case had received ten dollars per month for the rolling season, but claimed fifteen, with food and clothing, and every Saturday to themselves. On this plantation twelve hundred hogsheads of sugar were made two years ago; this season the same number of hands made forty-seven hogsheads. On another plantation, belonging to the same gentleman, the service laborers claimed half of the sugar and molasses, after one hundred hogsheads were given to the proprietor for expenses. The proprietors were simply required to conform to the terms of the agreement made between them and Gen. Banks, in relation to the working of their plantations.

The highest compliment we can pay to a person is to say that he grows.

There are no rapid strides in human progress.

Great Steamship Speed.—The steamship Scotia, of the Cunard line, on her late passage from New York to Liverpool, made the quickest Atlantic trip on record. From New York to Queenstown, Ireland, the passage was but eight days. To the Mersey the time was but eight days and 21 hours, including stoppages.

Two eyes hath every soul; one into Time shall see,
The other bends its gaze into Eternity.

EASTERN RAILROAD.

The annual report of the Directors of this corporation to its stockholders has been issued, being for year ending Nov. 30, 1863. From it we learn that the receipts have been $812,556.65, and the expenditures $519,632.26: net income $292,924.39.—The number of passengers carried is 1,462,282.

The income is the largest of any year in the history of the road. The earnings, notwithstanding the heavy amount paid for taxes of all kinds, have been sufficient to pay 6 per cent. in dividends, besides paying the $75,000 income bonds, the last of which will be paid this year, which will leave more than ten per cent. to be added to the dividend. The debt of the company is now $1,894,100.00, from which deduct mortgage, bonds, &c., held, $291,030.74, leaves actual indebtedness, $1,603,069.26. A few years since the debt was $3,000,000.

During the year 593 tons of new rails, also 1,862 welded rails, equal to 269 tons more, have been laid down on the road and branches, and 21,599 sleepers; besides 695 welded rails, equal to 100 tons, and 2,176 sleepers, on the Essex Road; and 315 welded rails, equal to 46 tons, and 2,630 sleepers, on the South Reading Branch Road; and the gravel trains have been employed almost constantly, throughout the season. Considerable amount of pile bridging has been changed into solid embankment, and 1-5-8 miles of additional side track have been laid. Improvements have been made at East Boston—the peculiar advantages of the depot property at this point are discussed. The controversy with the Fitchburg R. R. has been adjusted. The cost of the new station in this city is stated at about $25,000. The Directors have applied to the Massachusetts Legislature for authority to unite with the New Hampshire road.

The Mass. Hospital Life Insurance Co. hold some of the bonds of the company payable on time in London or Boston.—Since the suspension of specie payment it has occurred to the officers of the Insurance Co. that it would be as well to be paid in London as in Boston, and they have notified the Road that they should require payment there. The matter has given rise to some interesting correspondence, and the piquant rejoinder of the President shows the animus of the affair in a clear and, to the Insurance Co., not a very creditable light.

The stockholders seem to have emerged with their property from the dark times of the past, and to have a good prospect of a remunerative investment. The Road is in excellent condition, its depots and rolling stock second to none in the country, and its liabilities provided for in such a manner that both bondholders and stockholders can reap the benefits of the large business of the line. The Eastern is the avenue over which a large amount of transit daily passes which cannot be diverted from the line.—As a route to Maine, it is the shortest, most pleasant and best equipped road, while its officers are constantly studying new features in travelling that will tend to the comfort and convenience of the patrons of the road.

The annual meeting occurs on Monday next, Feb. 1st.

☞ At the meeting of the Board of Engineers, holden on Tuesday evening last, the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, There having existed in this Board of Engineers the past two years, the best of social feelings and harmony of action in all that relates to our official duties, we wish to express to each other our strong attachment as friends and associates, therefore be it

Resolved, That in all the transactions of our future lives we shall look back with feelings of pleasure, and also of pride, to the past two years, in which we have been associated together as members of this Board of Engineers; and at all times will endeavor to retain toward each other those same social and friendly feelings that have on all occasions during our official intercourse so characterized our meetings and made our otherwise arduous duties so pleasant and agreeable.

And after some time spent in social exchange of friendly feeling and respect for each other, the Board dissolved.

FELINE SAGACITY.—A neighbor of ours about two months since obtained a cat for his store, from a friend in Greenland. She was brought to this city in a basket covered with a blanket, and, of course, could see nothing on the way. She was, moreover, not brought directly to the city, but was taken in the sleigh round through Rye.—On Tuesday last old Puss made her appearance at her old home in Greenland,—having made a journey, alone and unprotected, of about five miles, if she took the shortest cut.

☞ Hubbard's New Polyorama of the War, with auxilliary attractions will be on exhibition at the Temple on Friday and Saturday evenings, Jan. 29, 30, also on Saturday afternoon. It has recently been exhibited in Boston and other New England cities and our exchanges recommend it highly.

☞ A lad named John Lewis was knocked down against a stone post at the corner of Water and Charles streets, on Sunday afternoon, by a sleigh containing three persons, which afterwards ran over his legs, scarring him up pretty well, though he received no wounds of a serious nature.

☞ We learn that the buildings on Penhallow street, formerly occupied by Messrs. Swasey & Rowell, have been purchased by Mr. Edward D. Coffin, who is favorably known as a young man of much ability and good taste as a painter. Mr. Coffin stands high in his business, and we bespeak for him a liberal patronage in his new situation. By the way, Penhallow street seems fast becoming a Painters' Exchange.

☞ Orders have been received at the Portsmouth Navy Yard to construct a screw steamer of about 285 feet length of keel, and upwards of 300 feet over all. She is to be named the "Contoocook," and will be built in the shiphouse from which the New Hampshire was launched. It is understood that this latter vessel is to be sent to Port Royal to relieve the Vermont, which is in need of extensive repairs.

The steam frigate Colorado, Commodore Thatcher, is daily expected to arrive from off Mobile Bar. She sailed from this Navy Yard in December, 1862.

The Dacotah has not sailed—as certain Boston papers have it,—but will in a few days, or as soon as her officers arrive, why she is absent at Philadelphia, attending a court martial being held there.

PORTSMOUTH DIRECTORY.—The new Directory is now on sale at the Bookstores, and of course everybody who is anybody, will want one.

☞ We are glad to learn that Miss Haskell, said to be a competent teacher of the new gymnastics—gradutate from Dr. Lewis' Institute—is to open a class in Portsmouth, immediately. There is need enough of it, here as well as everywhere else.

☞ Atlantic Engine Co. No. 6, will hold their Assembly on Tuesday evening Jan. 26, at Irving Hall. It was postponed from last week, on account of foul weather.

Diving and finding no pearls in the sea,
Blame not the ocean, the fault is in thee!

O square thyself for use; a stone that may Fit in the wall, is not left in the way.

SOLDIERS, ATTENTION!—Pain, disease and exposure, with a hot climate, muddy water and bad diet will be unavoidable, but armed with Holloway's Purifying and Strengthening Pills you can endure all these and still retain good health. Only 25 cents per box. 220,

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sanduci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by W. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Resident Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the equal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumo, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are every subject to Disease from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen; all in the female Diseases of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart, Cases and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Nervousness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! upon the health, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Costiveness, Piles, Fever, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases at the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food.—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend, and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 25, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended in the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla, Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief. I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of its Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with ulcerses at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after taking it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may25

American and Foreign Patents.

H. B. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity of any patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any of Patents furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any that can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

Thus, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure patents, is thus obviated, and at reduced rates, they are confident inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, I do not hesitate to recommend to all who may have occasion to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

A THE HEAD OF RAILROAD TIME.—Postmaster Sidney informs us that during the intense cold and heavy gale of Saturday, a woman, wife of a small carrier, entered the Post Office with the Two Rivers mail, on time. Her husband, benumbed and exhausted, had been obliged to stop, and she had drawn the mail in five miles on a hand-sled, in order that it should not be behind time. While the Walls family carry that mail it will be sure to come, if steam freezes. No other carrier, from the railroad companies down, dared to venture out on Friday and Saturday.—Green Bay (Wis.) Advocate.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that never fail to cure, and are free from mineral, and are unsurpassed in strengthening the system and restoring the sufferer to perfect health.

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all forms of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of the loins, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Bubones, (right) Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotine, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate cases are cured in one or two, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of females and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one, at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood, Summer or Winter, and is excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of their customers to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would take these about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, it cannot by its presence produce headaches so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of fresh air through tubes in the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

The heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Boundto no party—to no sect confined;

It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—s common and continual mischief is sufficient to ake it the interest and duty of a wise people to iscourage and restrain it. In governments of e popular form, it is seen in its greatest rank. ess, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washing. n's Farewell Address

REV. BARON STOW, D. D., of Boston, is well remembered here as an early pastor, and, in a large degree, the founder of the Baptist Church in Portsmouth; and is well known now as one of the most eminent Baptist ministers in New England. His sermon o the National Thanksgiving, in November, has been published by request of the two societies who heard it that day,—and it may be found in the Traveller of Saturday, Jan. 23. It is worthy of being sent all over the land in a cheap pamphlet. We have room for only a short extract,—but this is of such a character as to make the reader wish to read the whole sermon:—

The point to which I would invite your attention lies not in the muddy pool of party politics, but it is high up on the dry solid ground of Morals and Humanity. That you may get a definite idea of that point, however near or remote, I would ask you to read and intepret

The Prophecy of Events. If I do not mistake, events, as they have been passing, and are still passing, before us, are distinctly prophetical with reference to one subject of surpassing importance. I think I see, and I would have you see, the evident bearing of God's providential administration upon that radical evil which you believe underlies all the questions of difference between the North and the South. The Confederates are fighting for independence for the sake of slavery. The Unionists are fighting for the supremacy of the Government over the whole territory and the whole population. The former insist upon being a nation by themselves, that they may retain, undisturbed, and extend, unrestricted, their cherished institution. The latter insist that the country shall not, for any reason, or by any line, be divided, but shall continue as our fathers made it, and intended it should be, one and inseparable. Now, I am not cognizant of any evidence showing how Divine Providence regards these questions of political organization; but I do see evidence abundant that when the war commenced, God put his hand to that gigantic iniquity of more than two centuries growth, and emphatically said, "Its days are numbered. You are dismayed by the magnitude of the deeply rooted evil, and perplexed by the problem, how to dispose of it. You shall see how I can effectuate its extirpation. My wisdom and power are equal to that service, and you may not expect that I shall withdraw my hand until the result is attained." Such, in the beginning was the interpretation given from this pulpit, and then committed, through the press, to the wider public. It was not a conjecture; it was the deliberate conclusion of a calm, conservative mind that had not sought to read the indications of Providence all sending to this issue. My appeal now is, not to your prejudices or your passions, but to your cool, considerate judgment. How stands the matter before your common sense? If more than three years of rapidly occurring events, significantly marked in all their aspects, can prove anything, they seem to me as clearly indicating that God will permit no peace until, in some way, provision shall be made for the thorough and permanent extinction of that pestiferous evil which has long been at once our crime and our curse; an evil that has corrupted the principles, political, commercial, religious of this nation; an evil that has perverted the consciences and debauched the morals of millions, South and North; an evil that has involved unto death incredible abuses of the rights of humanity; an evil that has been, and still is, defended in the name of Him who is the Father of all mankind!

Good night!—now follows gentle sleep,
And tears that fall like gentle rain;
Good night!—O, holy, blest and deep
The rest that follows pain!
How should we reach God's upper light
If life's long day had no "good night?"

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1864

THE REBELLION.

It is reported that Quantrel recently attempted to cross the Mississippi near New Carthage, La., with 1500 men and 6000 stand of arms, to co-operate with Forrest, but was prevented by one of our gunboats, and the arms captured in a flat-boat.

The rebels are collecting forage and conscripting everybody in the northern part of Mississippi, anticipating a desperate if not final struggle in Northern Georgia in the spring.

The Confederates to the number of 4000, under Ross, are scattered along the Mississippi from Bolivia to Greenville. They have six pieces of artillery, and it appears to be their intention to fire into steamers and prevent trade with the people on both sides of the river. There are also 2000 on the Arkansas side who act in concert with Ross.

The excitement regarding Knoxville was totally unfounded. The demonstrations of Longstreet were apparently intended only to recover the forage ground taken by Gen. Foster, and the latest information is that he is retiring. Our troops are in winter quarters. Gen. Foster anticipates no attack, and is able to repel any Longstreet can make. There are reasons to doubt the report that Lee has reinforced Longstreet. No active movements in that vicinity need be anticipated for weeks.

An official dispatch from Gen. Butler, at Fortress Monroe, Jan 25, states that, by his direction, Brig. Gen. Graham went with 3 armed transports, and a competent force, to the Peninsula, made a landing on the James river, 7 miles below Fort Powhattan, known as the Brandon Farms, and captured 22 of the enemy, seven of the signal corps, and 79 negroes. They also destroyed 24,000 pounds of pork, and large quantities of oats and corn, and captured a sloop and schooner with 240 boxes of tobacco and 5 Jews preparing to run the blockade, and returned without the loss of a man.

In Gen. Meade's army of the Potomac, our pickets near Racoon Ford were driven in a few days since by 60 rebel cavalry, who crossed the river, but were compelled to retreat in confusion. A large force of rebels are visible on the other side of the Rapidan.

Deserters say Lee's army is scattered, but do not believe that any portion of it has been sent off; that forage is scarce, and horses are reduced in numbers and efficiency; that no supplies are received in Lee's army in advance of its necessities. Among the deserters are guards who were assigned the duty of watching the rebel pickets.

On Saturday the rebels in front of Gen. Kilpatrick's cavalry undoubtedly had a fight among themselves. Heavy firing was heard there.

It is reported that Gen. Longstreet is to come back from Tennessee to lead an army against Gen. Butler's command.

A great loyal meeting was held in Nashville, Jan. 22—2000 people being present. Resolutions passed recognizing the authority of the National Government to secure a republican government in rebellious States by appointing military governors; denouncing slavery as an evil in itself, and as the cause of the rebellion; advising a reorganization of the State Government by a constitutional convention, composed of delegates pledged to immediate and universal emancipation. The resolutions commend Gov. Johnson, and request him to call such a convention. A committee was appointed to select delegates to the Southern Free State Convention in Louisville. Governor Johnson made a speech in favor of the abolition of slavery, and the restoration of Tennessee as a free State.

Messrs. Oakley & Tompson, plate engravers and printers, announce their removal from Washington street, to the large rooms in Simmon's Block, corner of Water and Congress street, where they will execute orders for lithography, plate and card engraving, bill heads, checks, diagrams, marriage, visiting and business cards, &c., as neatly, promptly and well as the work can be done in the city. The establishment was founded in 1828, and was the first in the United States. We commend the advertisement in another column to public attention.—Boston Post.

☞ The principal of a public school had been sending circulars to the parents, asking for written authority to "inflict such punishment, corporal or otherwise," as may in his judgment be proper. The following answer proves that one of the parents, (a step-father) at least, was pleased with the idea:—

Dear Sir: Your flogging cirklar is duly received. I hopes as to my son John you will flog him jus as often as you like. Hees a bad boy is John. Although I've been in the habit of teaching him miself, it seems to me he will larn nothing—his spelling is spesfull ottragously deficient. Wallup him well, sur, and you will receave my hearty thanks. Yours, MOSES WALKER. P. S. Wal accounts for John being such a bad scollar is that he's my sun by my wife's first husband.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Printers in Concord have recently formed themselves into an association, to be called the Concord Printers' Union.

—— Col. Harriman, it is stated, is to leave for his regiment (the 11th), the early part of this week. He will take out a sufficient number of men to fill the regiment to the maximum number. Recent letters received from the 11th, represent them in a very destitute condition in regard to clothing and rations.

——Diptheria appears to be spreading to an alarming extent in some portions of this State. In some instances whole families have been swept off by it. An exchange states (we know not how reliably) that "the only remedy that appears to be of any avail is the Dolorsolatio, which we are told, will always arrest its progress when used in season. Physicians are recommending that it should be used daily as a preventive by persons in all sections of the country where diptheria prevails."

—— A man in Rockingham County, who was a noted democrat formerly, and who is now a notorious copperhead, said to a political associate, when the civil war first broke out, "None but republicans will go to the war,—and then we can do as we please!" He was slightly mistaken in both these expectations;—but the saying shows how the man felt. He is still a leading politician; he has forsaken public worship, though through his former influence the pulpit near where he sat was not outspoken,—and in every way he dares do so, shows his sympathy with the rebellion and its cause. A blind leader of the blind. U. T.

FROM ARKANSAS.—The State Convention, which assembled on the 8th inst., had about completed its labors. The greater portion of the State was represented, and no deliberative body that ever assembled in the State has comprised more men of solid worth and intelligence than this Convention. An article prohibiting slavery was adopted with but one dissenting vote. The Constitution is to be submitted to the people on the 2d Monday in March, at which time the State officers and members of the Legislature will be elected. The Legislature is to meet on the 3d Monday in April.

The action of the convention was universally satisfactory to loyal men. The qualification for voters is that prescribed by the President in his proclamation. It is believed that the loyal citizens will be able to poll 20,000 voters for the constitution. The convention will recommend a suitable person for Provisional Governor. Judge Murphy is spoken of in this connection.

The editor of the Little Rock Democrat has been arrested by the military authorities for publishing disloyal sentiments, and his paper suppressed. A new paper will soon be started by men of undoubted loyalty, who will use their influence in favor of the reorganization movement.

RELICS.—Among the curiosities which were on exhibition at the Sanitary Fair in Boston were numerous relics of Washington—his sash, saddle, epaulettes, cane, with numerous autographs and letters, bronze jar from Shanghai, two thousand years old; sword of Miles Standish, lock of the gun which killed King Philip, of Mount Hope, 1676, and a wooden bowl taken from Philip's wigwam; a Bible printed in Venice in 1478, before printing was introduced into England, and numerous rare and genuine autographs and letters. There were also exhibited the shoes worn by the royal family of England, and a pair of shoes purchased in Georgia by a young lady who arrived in Boston last Sunday. The shoes are coarser than any young lady would wear here, and are laced with white cord. Yet the lady paid forty dollars for them, and refused to sell them for fifty.

☞ On the 22d of December the royal baron of beef was sent up to Windsor Castle. It was cut from a choice ox fed in the Windsor Great Park. This joint was placed before the fire to roast at 9 o'clock in the morning, and taken up at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It was sent from the Castle to Osborne, where it was to form the principal Christmas joint on the side table in the dining room. Her Majesty gave directions to send on New Year's Day the customary royal annual present of beef to the ex-royal family of France at Claremont, consisting of two handsome sirloins.

BATTLE-FLAGS.—The battle-flags that have been sent home from the different Massachusetts regiments have been arranged in the rotunda of the State House, and present a most interesting appearance. Most of them give evidence of having experienced hard service. A history of each is to be on the pillar having the flag. The whole number displayed is 66, representing 27 regiments and 3 batteries.

☞ The bids for the six per cent. State Bonds of Connecticut were opened on Saturday. $4,008,800 were bid for, while the amount issued was only two millions. The bids ranged from par up to five per cent. premium for the whole loan.

— Several ball-rooms and dancing-houses in St. Louis have been closed by military authority.

— The Princess of Wales gave birth to a son at Frogmore on the 8th. Mother and child doing well.

— It is stated that linens of a coarse kind are now manufactured in Ireland, that are not only relatively but absolutely cheaper than cotton.

— The only child of Gen. Kilpatrick died at West Point on the 16th inst., thus leaving him wifeless and childless, his wife having died a few weeks since.

— Assistant Secretary Fox of the Navy Department has gone to New York to arrange the race between the Kiu Kiang and the Eutaw.

— The title of the young son of the Prince of Wales will be Duke of Cornwall. His birth will withdraw, in the child's favor, the immense revenues of that duchy.

— Arthur Shirley, of Portland, the oldest printer in the State of Maine, publisher of the Portland Gazette fifty years ago, died on Wednesday last, at the age of 81. He was blind for many years.

— They now propose to force into the rebel army every white male between 16 and 65 years of age. Such is the natural fruit, as the Raleigh Standard (rebel) well remarks, of "peaceful secession."

— More than twenty locomotives have passed through Indianapolis within the past month, for use on the Southern railroads. They were built in New Jersey for the U. S. Government, and are of great strength.

— Garibaldi's resignation of his seat was formally communicated to the Italian Parliament on the 7th. Several members urgits non-acceptance, but it was finally accepted, together with the resignation of other members of the "Left."

— Wisconsin up to the first day of November last had placed in the field thirty-four regiments of infantry, three regiments of cavalry, twelve batteries of light artillery, three batteries of heavy artillery and one company of sharpshooters.

— The editor of the Skowhegan, Me., Clarion has seen a new kind of animal caught at Moose-Head Lake, 18 inches long, slim, dark grey, wide but short ears, long bushy tail in alternate black rings—old hunters never saw the like.

— A telegram from St. Petersburg, received at the Hague, asserts that the young King of the Greeks has abandoned Athens and his new crown, convinced of his incapacity to regulate the confusion of the country. The authenticity of this report is disputed, but there is no doubt that Greece is again in a very agitated condition.

— A young man recently presented himself for examination as Assistant Engineer in the Navy. Among other questions, the following was asked of him: "Suppose you had built an engine yourself, performed every part of the work without assistance, and knew that it was in complete order, but when put into a vessel the pump would not draw water, what would you do?" The young man promptly replied, "I should go to the side of the vessel and ascertain if there was any water in the river."

☞ Re-enlistments in the U. S. army are the order of the day. Among others, it is stated that twenty thousand men of the 17th army corps have re-enlisted. This is a damaging fact to rebels abroad and traitors at home.

CAPTURED MAIL BAG.—The N. Y. Herald's special dispatch, dated Headquarters, West Virginia, Jan. 24th says:—

We have captured a rebel mail bag.—The secrets of the mail bag are curious and interesting, and in one or two instances highly important. Almost all of the letters contain remarks on the President's amnesty proclamation. The sufferings anticipated in rebeldom, the dissatisfaction of the citizens of the South complaints of the soldiers, the manner in which rebel officers high in position are spoken of, &c., all serve in very many respects to confirm the reports in circulation in the Northern papers regarding the condition of the Confederacy.

Several prominent citizens and rebel officers, one of them a widely known ex-Foreign Minister, are negotiating to come within our lines under the President's amnesty proclamation.

☞ When Mr. Thackeray concluded his course of lectures on "The Four Georges," in the city of Brooklyn, some years ago, he remarked to a friend who congratulated him upon his striking picture of George IV: "You will soon forget all about it if I don't give you a memento," and taking up a small bit of paper, rapidly sketched a perfect likeness of that monarch, in an attitude of easy negligence, reclining upon a sofa. The puffy cheeks and general air of stupidity which characterize the portraits of George IV. were faithfully reproduced by Mr. Thackeray in this off hand sketch, which is now in the possession of Mr. Theodore Tilton, of the Independent.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills to get a decent cathartic, was the study in the development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, derangement of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

Local.

☞ King Winter seems to be just now in the melting mood, and the many who yearly anticipate a "January thaw" are in high feather thereat. Indeed, an exchange in speaking of the difficulty in giving a satisfactory explanation of the phenomenon, states that every observant man has noticed that there are four warm periods in the year. We will take the January thaw for the first; in the month of April we have a series of warm days; in July we have a number of intensely hot days; and in October we have the delightful Indian Summer. There seems to be a periodicity of these warm spells.

On Tuesday morning we had a copious rain, which made its mark perceptibly on the snow and ice; and after the sun came out clear and bright, the weather was delightful—warm as a day in Spring. If it continues as warm we shall expect to see those welcome or unwelcome, yet inevitable harbingers of Spring—the hand-organ men.

COLONEL SAMUEL WEBBER, Manager of the Printing Department of the Manchester Print Works for the past six years, much to the regret of those employed under him and of our citizens generally, has resigned his position to become Agent of the Portsmouth Steam Mills. He will leave about the first of February. A man of decided genius in his line of business, of exquisite taste in the fine arts, and of a rich and exuberant mind generally, he is an acquisition to any place. As a citizen we hate to part with him, to say nothing of our personal attachment to him. The place where he lives is more attractive and better known for his being there. Not a fair, not a national jubilee, not a public meeting for charity or patriotism, not a consultation for the benefit of the schools or the cause of letters, has occurred during the residence of Colonel Webber among us, when he has not been among the foremost present, if it were possible for him to be there. Benedictions on such a man wherever he goes. Portsmouth is in luck.—Manchester Mirror.

[Communication.]

Eds. Chronicle:—A short time since a communication appeared in your columns relative to assaults made upon unprotected females in our streets after nightfall; but with that notice the matter seems to have dropped. The evil is too heinous to be allowed thus to go on unchecked, and the boldness of some of the more recent of these beastly assaults leads those to whose knowledge they have come to wonder if it were not better to give up fighting rebels at a distance, and turn our attention to the violators of all decency in our midst. Every man who has a female relative is directly interested in this matter. ☞

☞ The ship New Hampshire will be docked to-day (Wednesday), at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, for the purpose of being coppered.

☞ Miss Susie C. Cluer read at Armory Hall, Kittery, on Monday evening, to an appreciative audience. Her selections were rendered in an effective manner. The piece of the evening was "Over the River," which was read in a beautiful style, and convinced her hearers that as an elocutionist, Miss Cluer stands high in the galaxy of artists. The singing by the Mozart Glee Club was excellent and added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

THE FAST VESSELS OF OUR NAVY.—The splendid gunboat Sassacus, which has been at the Washington Navy Yard for some time past, left on Friday for some active duty on the coast. The Sassacus was built at the navy-yard at Portsmouth, N. H., and her machinery at Boston; and being the same size boat as the Eutaw, built at a private yard in Baltimore, much interest will be felt as to which will prove the better vessel.

☞ Perley telegraphs from Washington, Jan. 26, that Secretary Chase will apply to Congress to legalize the issue of some ten million five twenty bonds to meet the excess of subscriptions, and will not take any measures for the issue of the ten-forty's until Congress definitely fixes the plan of taxation.

☞ The new ship Coromandel, of Boston, went to sea on Saturday, and when 20 miles out, a mutiny took place. One man was stabbed. The assassin, the wounded man, and a witness have arrived in Boston. The ship is at Nantucket Roads, awaiting three new men before she proceeds on her voyage to London.

☞ The New Orleans True Delta says there is a perceptible improvement in the rates of real estate in that city and vicinity. Until very recently there was but little movement in property. In fact, transactions were almost entirely limited to sheriff's and successign sales. At these, however, prices have averaged well.

☞ Gen. Butler having issued an order at Norfolk, the evening papers received a despatch from the Secretary of War requesting them not to publish it. But the Portland Courier published both the order and the request!

☞ A bill has been introduced in the Ohio Legislature empowering Cincinnati to levy a tax, not to exceed one mill for three years to come, for the purpose of buying and storing several million bushels of coal, to prevent the recurrence of the coal famine from which the population is now suffering. The bill is made applicable to other cities having 100,000 inhabitants.

☞ Felix Gi.l, of Philadelphia, has been arrested on the charge of murdering his wife. It appears that a legacy of $30,000 was recently left him, and a payment in advance of $3,000 was made thereof. This money he handed to his wife, and used to be supplied by her with what he required. Becoming very dissipated upon the strength of his good fortune, he became an associate of the most abandoned characters, and wound up his career of crime by murdering his wife, to whom he had, while much intoxicated, applied for money. The woman, whose blood was spattered over almost every part of the house, the furniture of which was broken to pieces, must have struggled long and desperately against her fate. She was beaten to death with a poker.

BOOK FOR THE CAMP FIRES.—James Redpath, Boston, announces a series of ten cent Books for the Camp Fires, of a much higher class than the dime publications now in the market. They will contain from 96 to 124 pages; new type, good paper—"neatly bound in greenbacks." No. 1 is—"On Picket Duty and Other Tales," by Miss L. M. Alcott, whose Hospital Sketches has been one of the most popular books of the season. No. 2 is "Clotelle, a Tale of the South," with five fine illustrations. No. 3 is—"The Vendetta," one of Balzac's best tales, translated for the publisher. No. 4 is—Gullivor's Travels in Lilliput. No 5 is Victor Hugo's eloquent description of the Battle of Waterloo. Each number is complete in itself and unabridged. Ten cents sent to the publisher will secure a specimen copy, postage paid, to any home or camp address—or fifty cents for the list above announced. No. 1 is out, and the five will all be published before the close of February. Address, Jas. Redpath, publisher, Boston.

THE LADY'S FRIEND.—The February number of this new magazine contains a fine steel plate engraving, called "The Sylvan Retreat," a double richly-colored Fashion Plate; and any number of engravings, devoted to the Fashions, Work Table, Flowers, &c. The literary matter will be found attractive to every lady—to say nothing of the sterner sex. Price $2 a year; two copies for $3. Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

SOLDIERS, ATTENTION!—Pain, disease and exposure, with a hot climate, muddy water and bad diet will be unavoidable, but armed with Holloway's Purifying and Strengthening Pills you can endure all these and still retain good health. Only 25 cents per box. 220,

☞ Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is manufactured entirely different from any other. Its chemical purity renders it as harmless as the purest flour, and its use will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. Use it with cream tartar instead of soda.—It is much better. Try it. Grocers and Druggists sell it.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar; by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised remedies, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:—

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause there goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrotula.

Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritis), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—chronic swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so much a large portion of the female community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a hidden constitution. These can soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove completely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Castoxity, Fear of Disease, Blotches on the Face, Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very troublesome to the young wife or married lady. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or inflammatory condition of the uterus; accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and has been found invaluable to Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

RYE, N.H., Feb. 20, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWEET'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWEET: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but found no benefit, until she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Reconsiders, Reissues, Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the Claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure patents, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse" CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leaves me no reasonable ground for inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a private nature.

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. Dow has perfected a method of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal disease become impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Bumors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of terrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habit of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Consumption, Loss of digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotiles, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using the MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side, heat may be thrown into one at pleasure, all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and pockets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when desired.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood, Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED MAGEE COOK STOVE, as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for heating, we have no tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heaters have been invented and constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, go off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot escape without being burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Rise, and others.

Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

"I call hope an ideal fact, and this is a blessing and joyful part of our nature.—That after so many trials, so many failures, so many wars,—after so many unsuccessful crusades against the city of God, so many Sicilian vespers and Bartholomew massacres, and Inquisitions, after so many sins and miseries and sufferings,—yea, in the very midst of them all, that there should be some hope left, that man is something noble and can do something worthy, and still knows he has a great destiny—this is the strongest proof of his immortality, of his alliance to God. Thus it is that man learns that he is infinite, and there is an eternity in which to correct the errors of time; thus he learns that he has already begun eternity, and can end only with it.

The historical fact is sad instead of joyful, but it is no less blessed. The progress of the race has been slow, so slow, indeed, that the hopes of humanity, born with the swift speed of philanthropy, pass it by and even call it retrogression,—but there is no backward movement to man, or to the world, though there may be to men or nations.

History is sad. It goes back to the beginning and there finds a fall; it follows the stream of time and finds it a river of blood; it looks over the earth's surface and it is marked only by fields of battle; it gives the annals of centuries and they are records of ambition, treachery and destruction. Here and there one man dazzles meteor-like, then is lost in the darkness, sinks in the earthiness of the time; but there is one ray that can never be entirely hidden; if man dies, humanity lives on,—immortality holds mortality in its persistent grasp,—and over all the failures you hear the cheerful voice of hope."

In the same heavens are eight paradises;
Where is the ninth one? In the human breast.
Only the blessed dwell in the paradises,
But blessedness dwells in the human breast.
Created creatures are in the paradises,
The uncreated Maker in the breast.
Rather, O man, want those eight paradises,
Than be without the ninth one in thy breast.
Given to thee are those eight paradises
When thou the ninth one hast within thy breast.

LIBERTY DEFINED.—A very conservative paper has this item:—

Human Liberty.—These two words have a significance which ought to be very plain, but the cant of modern abolitionists and radicals has so perverted them that it is hard to find a man who has any definite idea of what they really imply. It would be impossible now to get from a radical an intelligible definition of the single word liberty. The general notion on the subject is vague and sentimental.

To this a progressive paper makes answer as follows:—

Here is our definition of Liberty—

I. Liberty is that social and political condition wherein each adult, rational, innocent person, is guaranteed by law his natural right to work for whomsoever he prefers (himself included) for the most satisfactory recompense his services will command.

II. Liberty is that condition wherein every wife owes obedience and service to no other man paramount to or in conflict with the claims of her husband; and wherein no other man's claim to the obedience and service of children is paramount to that of their parents, so long at least as the latter are able and willing to support them, and to train them up in the ways of wisdom, virtue and industry. Liberty is that condition wherein Government is founded, and rests on the consent of the majority; and wherein that majority have power to reform and modify the laws, which are intended to subserve the Public Good.

III. Liberty is Christ's Golden Rule vigorously applied to the sphere of Politics and Government.

IV. Liberty is the opposite of Slavery.

At a recent temperance meeting in Scotland, a convert got up to speak. "My friends," said he, "three months ago I signed the pledge. [Cheers.] In a month afterward, my friends, I had a sovereign in my pocket, a thing I never had before.—[Loud cheers.] In another month, my friends, I had a good coat on my back, a thing I never had before. [Cheers much louder.] A fortnight after that, my friends I bought a coffin, because I felt pretty certain that if I kept the pledge another fortnight I should want one." [No cheers.]

We think the no cheers' would be appropriate in that place:—but the story happens to be old, and probably never was true, though such things might have been said.

Somebody once wrote to Daniel O'Connel for his autograph, and the great repealer, true to the traditions of his race, answered in a note of savage refusal to give said autograph to which refusal he signed his name.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1864.

GOV. GILMORE'S ACCEPTANCE.

The President and Secretaries of the Union Republican State Convention addressed the following letter to Gov. Gilmore.

CONCORD, January 7th, 1864.

At the Republican Union State Convention held at Concord on the 6th inst., largely attended by delegates from every section in the State, you were by acclamation, nominated as the candidate of the unconditional Union men of New Hampshire, for Governor for the ensuing political year.

The enthusiasm with which your name was received by the Convention, indicates how your course the present year is regarded by the loyal masses of our people. They have not been unmindful of the increased responsibilities which the war has thrown upon the Executive Department of our State, nor have they failed to appreciate the business energy which you have brought to the discharge of its duties, and the unfaltering devotion to the Union with which you have seconded the efforts of the National Administration, to crush out this terrible rebellion. They know that what you have done heretofore, is an earnest of what may be expected of you in the future; and their representatives in the convention assembled, have, therefore, with the utmost unanimity selected you as their standard bearer in the coming campaign.

The officers of the Convention, have the honor to formally notify you of your nomination, and to transmit to you a copy of the resolutions passed by that body asking your acceptance of the one and approval of the other.

GOV. GILMORE answered as follows, under date of Jan. 23:

Your letter bearing date the seventh instant, and officially announcing to me my re-nomination as the Union candidate for Governor of New Hampshire, was handed to me on Monday of the present week. Let me avail myself of this the earliest opportunity to thank the members of the Union Republican State Convention for this renewed and hearty expression of their confidence, and yourself for the courteous manner in which you have communicated to me their action.

If I had regard merely to my own comfort or to my business prosperity I should peremptorily decline the nomination which has been tendered me. A single year's experience in the chair of state, during such a crisis as the present, is enough to satisfy the ambition of any reasonable man. I have found the office of Governor no sinecure. It has required no little sacrifice and effort to redeem my promise of a year ago to endeavor to manage the affairs of the State with as much zeal, faithfulness and energy as I would give to the management of my own affairs." But I have tried to be as good as my word, and I trust that any measure of success which has attended my efforts has not been so prejudicial to the interests of our noble State as many disloyal men among us affected to fear. I feel, sir, that I have no right, if the loyal men of New Hampshire desire to continue me in the Gubernatorial office at a time like this, to withhold from them the use of my name; and I gratefully accept the nomination which has been tendered me in such flattering terms.

The gentlemen composing the Convention have placed me before the people "as the candidate of the unconditional Union men of New Hampshire." That is where I like to stand. I am an unconditional Union man. I go for the Union without any "ifs" or "buts." I am not only in favor of the war; but in favor of every effective measure for crushing out treason, whether it rears its head defiantly as in South Carolina or masks its hideous features with hypocritical smiles in New Hampshire. But I need not spend time in defining my position. I stand now just where I stood a year ago and where I expect to stand for the year to come.

The people of New Hampshire—whether they be friends or foes of the soldiers—know where to find me. If I have been true to their interests, true to the cause of humanity and good government, they will set the seal of their approval to my official acts. If I have proved false to my sacred trust or shown my incapacity to appreciate and discharge its duties, let them set me aside and appoint a more faithful servant in my stead.

(Signed) JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

THE REBELLION.

At Fortress Monroe, Monday night, Maj. Burroughs, the guerrilla chief, was shot by the guard while attempting to escape from the pest house, where he was under treatment for the small-pox. The papers don't say whether he was killed, or not.

At St. Louis on Tuesday, H. K. Boyd, a young Englishman, who was arrested on the charge of being a rebel spy, attempted to escape from his guard while they were conducting him to the Provost Marshall's office, by leaping from the 5th story of his hotel down the centre of a winding staircase to the basement. He was taken up insensible, and lies in a very critical state.

Richmond papers of Jan. 19, mention the sudden sickness of A. H. Stevens, vice-president of the confederacy. But they contain not a word from Charleston.

In Gen. Butler's department, the gunboat Morse recently left Yorktown with a detachment of colored troops. Entering Mobjack bay they went up East river, meeting no rebel force or guerrillas. They brought away three families of whites, 15 in number, and 9 contrabands, all of whom arrived at Yorktown, together with several other refugees from Richmond.

Refugees are comming into our lines daily, both by way of Yorktown and Suffolk.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

BOSTON, Jan. 25th, 1864.

Editor Chronicle:—As the last week began so it continued; the excitement of the reception of the 32d had scarcely passed when the 2d Mass. regiment arrived from the West. 222 of this regiment having re-enlisted, arrived in Boston last Tuesday, too late to receive a public reception, and were quartered at the Beach street barracks till Wednesday forenoon. At 11 o'clock they left the barracks, escorted by the Independent Cadets, and marched to the State House, and were joined by the Governor and Staff. The description in my last of the reception of the 32d, with slight exceptions, will answer for this. The next appearance of the 2d was the subject of comment—every man dressed exactly alike, arms, equipments and clothing in good order, and it being a mild day, they were without their overcoats. As the column neared the Court House, on its way to Faneuil Hall, some more discerning individual than the general crowd, discovered that the tall figure in slouched hat, loose and weather worn cloak, and cavalry boots, arm in arm with the Governor, was the hero of Fredericksburg, and the deliverer of East Tennessee,—Gen. Burnside. Three cheers were called for Burnside, and they were given with a will: as the General raised his hat the accuracy of the many portraits to the original was generally remarked: those who have seen his portrait have seen him. Along the remainder of the route the cheering was continuous—first for the regiment and then for the General, whose hat was off most of the time, acknowledging the cheers of welcome. In Faneuil Hall the scene of Sunday was re-enacted, with the addition of a speech from Burnside. The galleries were filled with ladies, anxious to honor the brave defenders of their country. The 2d Mass. Regt. was formerly commanded by Col. Geo. H. Gordon, now a Brig. General in the Dept. of the South. He was an old regular army officer, and under his strict discipline the regiment became one of the best volunteer regiments in the army, and has received many encomiums from commanding officers for its bravery and general efficiency. Its first Lieut. Colonel has been promoted to be Brig. General; two Lieut. Colonels and one Major have been killed in battle, and nine other officers have laid down their lives in battle under the banner of the brave old 2d Mass. 39 officers and men from this regiment have been promoted to commands in other regiments.—altogether making a record unsurpassed, if it is equalled.

Thursday morning the remaining portions of the 23d and 25th regiments arrived from Fortress Monroe. As the arrival was unexpected, they did not receive so formal a reception as the 32d and 2d, but marched to Faneuil Hall, received the usual collation, and were addressed by Mayor Lincoln and Gov. Andrew, also by Col. Kurtz, the first Colonel of the 23d.

Saturday morning Co. D, 1st Mass. Cavalry, commanded by Charles Francis Adams, Jr., arrived in this city, and under escort of the Lancers, Capt. Slade, marched through many of our principal streets, to Faneuil Hall, accompanied by the Governor, Adj. Gen. Schouler, Mayor Lincoln and other distinguished gentlemen in carriages. These men looked as though they had seen service. Capt. Adams is a son of our present Minister to England, and is worthy the name he bears.

On Monday the 27th Mass. regiment, having re-enlisted, arrived at Springfield, and received a cordial reception; several other regiments are expected home soon.—The 19th, which was the first regiment expected home, have been delayed from one cause and another, but will probably return as soon as they can be spared from the army.

A letter from a Portsmouth boy in the 18th says he had not intended to re-enlist, but the regiment had re-enlisted almost to a man, and he had concluded to see the end: they expect to arrive home the first of next month. Lieut. Col. Lincoln, of the 34th, is at home on a short furlough. He states his regiment is anxious to re-enlist, but as they have eighteen months to serve they cannot do so—as only those who have less than one year to serve have that privilege. His regiment is at Harper's Ferry.

Contrary to general expectation recruiting was dull here last week, but 92 recruits being obtained in the city: 50 of these were from Ward 11. Wednesday evening the ladies of South Boston presented a National flag to Co. B, of the State Guard, Capt. Wright. Gov. Andrew was present, and was called on for a speech. During his remarks he urged the importance of a "militia system which shall be grounded upon the education of the young men of the Commonwealth, while they are yet boys at school," and spoke of the great advantage that would result from military drill in our schools, in such a manner as to interest all in the hall, and convince them that he had his subject at heart.

The State Board of Education voted last Friday to recommend to the Legislature to allow towns and cities to introduce military drills into the schools.—the guns, &c., to be furnished by the State.

The Grand Division of Sons of Temperance of Massachusetts met at Union Hall in this city last Wednesday, G. W. P. Rev. Thomas Wilson, of Stoughton, in the chair. Two new Divisions were organized last term, and nine surrendered their charters—whole number of Divisions, 151. 917 members admitted during the quarter, and 712 lady visitors.—whole number, 10,864 members; 18,599 lady visitors. About 200 were present at the meeting, and 39 were initiated. The report of the G. W. P. stated that there were strong appearances of a revival in the State on the subject of temperance. The average gain in the State for the quarter was 6 members and 5 lady visitors for every Division. A new temperance paper, published by Rev. James M. Usher, of Medford, made its appearance today. It is pledged to continue for one year, and it is hoped it will not meet the fate of its predecessor, but live and flourish, as it can, if properly supported by the many members of the Order.

It has been rumored that the present Prohibitory Liquor Law would be repealed and a License Law substituted. This statement seems to have aroused the members of the order in all parts of the State, and it now appears as though the present law would not only be allowed to remain, but would be strictly enforced. In Charlestown a series of meetings is proposed, and a general temperance movement for a winter's campaign has commenced. At Lexington two arrests were made last week for selling liquor; one party escaped on account of the bad memory of the purchasers in regard to the character of the liquor sold. The other was convicted, sentenced to the House of Correction for 3 months, and to pay a fine of $30. The result of the attempt to repeal the law will be its more rigid enforcement.

Last Tuesday the trial of George Jones, or Count Johannes, for barratry, commenced in the Supreme Court. There were twelve specifications of action on which Jones had appeared as plaintiff.—The case was given to the jury at quarter past 11 Thursday, and at quarter before 2 of the same day they rendered a general verdict of "guilty." On Friday Jones made a motion for a new trial, but the motion was overruled by Judge Russell: time was then given him to file exceptions, and on Friday he gave bail in the sum of $300, to appear from day to day till final judgment of the Court. This verdict gives general satisfaction, and it is hoped this troublesome individual will receive his deserts.

Sixty-nine flags of Massachusetts regiments and batteries have been placed in the rotunda of the State House. They are attached to the pillars, with the number of the regiment or battery between. The flags of the 9th, (Irish) 15th and 19th are particularly noticeable, being almost torn to pieces by shot and shell. The flag staff of the 54th (colored) is also here. At the charge on Fort Wagner, in July last, this regiment was in the front, and after losing their brave Colonel, (Shaw) and having eight of the ten company commanders shot down, the rebels made a rush for their flag, but the brave sergeant called out "rally for de colors," and about 30 or 40 of the men rallied round the sergeant, and a desperate hand-to-hand fight occurred, and the rebels, finding they could not get possession, one of them suddenly seized hold of the flag, tore it from the staff and retreated.—No white men ever fought better than these negroes; they left 200 of their number in the ditch and on the ramparts of that fort. And yet after such bravery displayed, and sacrifices made in defence of our country, a member of Congress from New Hampshire votes not to pay those men as much as other soldiers, when even Fernando Wood voted for it. I trust the gentleman will have an opportunity to reconsider that vote, for it is little to his credit.

Last Monday 200 civilians from Port Royal arrived in New York. They had been employed in the Quartermaster's Department, and left because they were required to work for the same pay ($8.50) on Sundays as other days. They wanted $7, and said they could do better in New York.

Letters from the 3d N. H. regiment, dated Jan. 9th, say they have not yet received the arms for the conscripts. Capt. Libby was recruiting veteran volunteers—had got about 50. Most of the tents have fire-places made from the bricks of the old lighthouse. Two thirds of the Maine 9th had re-enlisted. 34 of the 4th N. H. had re-enlisted. J. T. M.

— There were 328 births, 142 marriages and 298 deaths in Newburyport last year.

— It is said that Washington Irving realized on his works the sum of $202,383.

— Rhett, the South Carolinian, who fired the first gun on the flag at Sumter, died recently in an obscure town in that State.

— General Grant has issued an order directing that all deserters from the enemy coming within our lines shall be disarmed and then permitted to go to their homes, on taking an oath to support the government, to abide by all the acts of Congress in reference to slaves, and to support all proclamations made during the war having reference to slavery in any form.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Times' Washington dispatch says Gen. Gantt will issue an address to the people of Arkansas, urging them to return to their allegiance, and declaring "as slavery is dead there is nothing left for the South to fight for."

The Immigration Committee will probably recommend sending of Commissioners to Northern Europe to facilitate the enormous emigration expected this year.

The World's dispatch says the President told the Arkansas Delegation that he had instructed Gen. Steele to order an election for Governor in that State at once. Regular elections of State officers and Congressmen will follow. Over seven thousand citizens of the State have taken the oath of allegiance.

The Tribune says Gen. Halleck expresses the belief that a last desperate effort will be made by the rebels in the spring to transfer the real fighting to Northern soil.

Senator Wilson intends to introduce a bill providing that all lands confiscated in the South shall be divided into homesteads for soldiers.

The House Military Committee bill to amend the enrollment act provides that soldiers now in the service cannot be hired as substitutes.

NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM RICHMOND.—A Washington correspondent reports the arrival of Jim Dennison, otherwise Pemberton, who for nearly twenty years has been the body servant of Jeff. Davis. He says the latter is unreserved in urging the abandonment of Virginia, but Gen. Lee is peremptorily opposed thereto, and says all Virginia soldiers will lay down their arms if the State is to be given up to Yankee despotism.

Vice President Stephens has not attended Congress this session, and has not visited Jeff. Davis' house or office for over a year. Report said he had gone to Europe.

The utmost distress prevails in Richmond for food. Fresh beef is $4 per pound; oysters $25 per quart.

Negroes are forbidden to go near the Libby prison, and he believes black soldiers are confined there.

The lower two-thirds of Charleston is uninhabitable and in ruins,

He also confirms the reports that Lee, at the time of Gen. Meade's late advance, made every preparation to fall back to Richmond with his 30,000 troops.

☞ In the U. S. Senate Tuesday Mr. Bayard took the oath required by the Senate's resolution, and in a short speech, announced his intention to retire to private life.

Mr. Richardson took the oath, after remarking that he did not believe in its policy.

The Senate took up the resolution to expel Senator Davis of Ky., from the Senate.

At the request of Mr. Davis a letter was read, setting forth that in offering these resolutions he had no purpose to incite the army to mutiny or the people to sedition or any violence whatever, but it was to excite the whole people North and South to terminate the war by constitutional reconstruction, &c.

Mr. Howard offered an amendment to substitute "censure" for "expelled."

The House passed the Senate's resolution expressive of thanks to Gens. Hooker, Howard, Meade, Banks and Burnside, and the officers and men under their respective commands; also to Commodore Vanderbilt for the gift of the steamer Vanderbilt.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spoo

TIMOTHY TITCOMB'S LECTURE.—When our full lyceum audience were all securely and safely packed into the Temple, and made as comfortable as could be expected; and when the orchestra, without their usual accommodations, had entertained us with music for half an hour on Tuesday evening, Dr. Holland introduced and announced his topic, "The American Heart," and gave an instructive and valuable lecture.

The seat of the nation's heart; its motive power, and its conservative power also, is love: love of home, of country, and of God. This thought was illustrated and applied in various ways: the New England puritan homes with their ideas of universal freedom, universal education, and individual christian life, are the heart and source of the nation's power, conscience, and action. The patriot and the religious man,—not the partisan and sectarian, not the demagogue and dupe,—are the power which at once gives motion and stability to our country, our government, our nation.

Great men, as leaders and moulders of our destiny, our people do not see: the orator thinks we don't need them; but the people of our land will take care of themselves under God's care; and govern themselves too, by the laws of justice and humanity, duty and piety.

☞ Hereafter the boilers of different vessels constructed at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, will be made on the yard, instead of at Charlestown and elsewhere. A building has just been erected for this purpose, and as soon as workmen in this branch of business can be obtained (good boiler-makers being scarce,) the work will commence.

☞ In accordance with the request of several members of the Mercantile Library Association, there will be a meeting of its members at the hall on Friday evening of this week, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Among other things of importance, there will be a discussion upon the propriety of the Association meeting once per week for literary improvement by engaging in discussion, reading essays, &c. It is earnestly desired that all members of the Association be present.

A MEMBER.

☞ Our readers are requested to peruse the advertisement of Messrs Oakley & Thompson, lithographers, in another column. From an intimate acquaintances with their business capacities and facilities, we can assure our friends that they will not only do all their notice promises, but even more.

☞ Instructions have been sent to the Boston and Portsmouth Navy Yards to barry the iron-clads, building there, as rapidly as possible. It is hoped they will be put afloat in a month.

☞ The length of our Boston letter and the pressure of advertisements encroach upon our space this morning; but the letter will be found an interesting digest of military matters.

WAR MATTERS. — Perley telegraphs from Washington, Jan. 27, that doubts are expressed there of the death of Alex. H. Stephens, the rebel Vice President, as reported at Richmond, deserters from the South declaring that he has refused to preside over the Senate, and many think he has left the rebel States.

The Petersburg Express of Jan. 22 says seven hospital buildings at Camp Windsor near Richmond, were burned yesterday.—A large quantity of commissary stores and clothing were destroyed.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to burn the President's mansion at Richmond on Tuesday night last. This is very significant.

Maj. Quinlan of the 1st New York cavalry, who commands the scouts in West Virginia reports that bands of men are forming to resist the rebel conscription.

Col. Mulligan has just returned from Petersburg. He reports no enemy in force in South Branch valley. Large numbers of deserters and refugees are coming into our outposts. All of them concur in substantiating what is reported about the expected sufferings and present dissatisfaction among the rebels.

Col. Thoburn reports having information of a highly important and satisfactory character. It relates to the good workings of the President's amnesty proclamation among the rebels in arms and those who have heretofore been rebel sympathizers, but who are not now in the army. Jeff. Davis' sweeping conscription law has given rise to this new state of feeling. Everything looks cheering in this department.

The snow and ice are gradually disappearing without causing a freshet in the streams, therefore the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will not suffer loss or interruption this season.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch reports a continual stream of deserters pouring into our lines from the rebel army.—On Monday evening twenty came in and to-day (Tuesday) thirty more.

— The Southern Methodist Book Concern in Nashville has been taken by the civil authorities for a government printing office.

— Hon. E. A. Rollins of New Hampshire, has been appointed Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

— A young woman in Manchester was robbed in the street of $12, by a man who struck her in passing, on Monday evening, slightly as she thought, but who cut out her pocket at the time.

— George W. Jones of of Salem, N. H., has a pullet that commenced to lay when five months old and has laid forty-two eggs in forty-six days, and then began to sit with the zeal of an old hen.

— Mr. John Ray, of Auburn, was thrown from his sleigh in Manchester, on Monday afternoon, and broke his left leg very badly: his horse was frightened by boys sliding.

☞ What an amount of suffering and disease among the volunteers would be prevented by the free use of Holloway's Pills and Ointment. For wounds, sores and scarvy, the Ointment is a certain cure, and for bowel complaints, fevers, small pox, &c., the Pills are the best medicine in the world. Only 25 cents per box or pot. 231

WAR AND PEACE.—The law of compensation always holds—one man invents a new bullet, another produces a box of salve to heal the wound the bullet inflicts. Grace's celebrated Salve is now packed side by side with cartridges in the soldier's knapsack. Let every friend of the soldier take care to provide him with a box of this invaluable remedy for burns, scalds, flesh wounds, boils, bruises, piles, erysipelas, and all inflammatory diseases of the skin. The most excruciating pains are allayed by its use better than by the strongest opiate. 25 cents a box.

☞ We would particularly direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Coe's Cough Balsam, in another column of our paper. The preparation emanates from one of our most respectable Eastern drug houses, and is guaranteed by them to be the most effectual remedy for the cure of coughs, croup, colds, asthma and sore throat, that has ever been offered to the public. Unlike most other remedies, it does not dry up a cough, but loosens it, and, by causing the patient to expectorate freely, completely clears it away. For children who are troubled with croup, it is invaluable, completely destroying this fearful destroyer, as soon as taken. We consider it the duty of every mother to provide herself with a bottle, if she values the health of her children, and every family to make it a necessary in their household. It can be had of any druggist. Price 25 cents.

☞ Would you have sweet and healthy Bread, Biscuit, Cakes and Puddings? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. It takes less in quantity, will not make your Biscuits or Bread yellow, is a sure preventive to the decay of teeth, is perfectly healthy, and makes one-fifth more Bread and Buiscuit from a barrel of flour. Never use soda if you can procure this article. Try it. Most all good Grocers sell it.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospital, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopeless! incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored: those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are

Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURITY IN THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective remedy for restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus's Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—pillowing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the fetid Breath, and eradicating the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should it be taken as soon as the cause is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a diseased condition of the system. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the ovaries; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (palpitation, Disease of Valves, producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indigestion to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Dizziness, Wakefulness, Fever of Debility, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Under System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Lungs, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the discoloration, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, dull pain, and cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most efficacious aid ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly esteemed by those who are in her confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

AN ODE TO MEMORY.

Man giveth up the ghost, and where is he?—Job.

And where is he? not by her side
Whose every want he loved to tend;
Nor other things valueless wandering wide,
Where, sweety lost, he oft would wend,
That form beloved he marks no more.
Those scenes adored no more shall see;
The scenes are lovely as before,
And she as fair—but where is he?

Ah, not the radiance is not dim
That used to gild his favorite hill,
The pleasures that were dear to him
Are dear to life and nature still;
But ah! his home is not as fair—
Neglected must his garden be,
The lilies droop and wither there,
And seem to whisper—"Where is he?"

His was the pomp, the crowded hall—
But where is now the proud display?
His riches, honors, pleasures, all Desire could frame—but where are they?
And he, as some tall rock that stands
Protected by the circling sea,
Surrounded by admiring bands,
Seemed proudly strong—Oh! where is he?

The church-yard bears an added stone,
The fireside shows a vacant chair;
Here sadness dwells and weeps alone,
And Death displays his banner there;
The life is gone, the breath has fled,
And what has been, no more shall be;
The well known form, the welcome tread,
Oh! where are they, and where is he?

MORNING PRAYER.

O silence deep and strange!
The earth doth yet in quiet slumber lie.
No stir of life, save on yon woodland range
The tall trees bow as if their Lord passed by.

Like to one new-created,
I lay in a sensation of grief and care;
Of all the things which vexed my soul of late
I am ashamed in this calm morning air.

This world, with all its band
Of clamorous joys and griefs, shall be to me
A bridge whereon, my pilgrim staff in hand,
I cross the stream of Time, O Lord, to Thee.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

GONORRHŒA, GLEETS AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal, and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Chronic pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this cruel disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the best and most undoubting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Pain in the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, Nervous Irritability, Aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

This being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cooks:

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE,

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cast-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which carries them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue at the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the bottom part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Clarke, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

PIANO-FORTES FOR SALE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only; to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any persons desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar attachment and that not is want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the the clock. They will be set up by any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

Excellent Wine for Females

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting infants and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

The Chronicle.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

SOCIETY ON ITS FEET.—The "Staggerers" are the pests of the ballroom. A staggerer can generally be detected; even before commencing a dance there is a peculiar vague and uncertain expression about the eye—a nervous anxiety about commencing, which never fails to betray him. You see, from the moment of his starting, that he is a doomed man; his unfortunate partner, perhaps unconscious of the fate in store for her, is gazing another way. Could she but see the expression of the staggerer's face, we feel sure she would pause ere taking the fatal step. We will suppose, however, after numerous false starts, they are at last off. If luckily, the corner from which they start happens to be entirely free from dancers, they may, perhaps, survive the first half dozen steps without a collision; but their good fortune rarely lasts so long—certainly not longer. By a kind of magnetic attraction the staggerer seems to bear down against the first approaching couple, and then commences a series of collisions of more or less disastrous effect; thenceforth personal identity is gone, and he becomes a mere racket-ball, tossed about from one side of the room to the other until at last he seems to have just sufficient presence of mind left to lead his bruised and lacerated partner to a sofa where she may congratulate herself on having at last obtained a haven of rest after the perils she has undergone.—London Society.

DANIEL WEBSTER'S SPEECHES.—From an article in the Independent, on reminiscences of Webster, we clip the following:

"Mr. Webster," said a friend of ours once to the Great Expounder, "which of your own productions do you place first?" He replied, "My friend, Mr. Everett, prefers my speech on Gen. Jackson's protest. The mass of my countrymen probably prefer my reply to Col. Hayne. But I prefer the first speech I ever made at Plymouth Rock." Perhaps the great statesman was right. In these days of our dear country's fiery purification, when to the thrilling music of falling chains the Republic is marching up to her destiny, it must be confessed that Daniel Webster never stood so strong and never so glorious as when he stood forth the champion of Freedom on Plymouth Rock.

COFFEE AND TEA CULTURE IN CALIFORNIA.—The cultivation of coffee and tea promises to become an important business in California.—One nursery at Sacramento has five thousand coffee plants on trial, and it is believed that there will be no difficulty in bringing up the plant to a standard of hardiness to weather the mild winter of that climate. Near the Mission Dolores several thousand tea-plants have been raised during the last year. The tea-plant is grown in China and Japan very extensively in latitudes corresponding to all California, and the San Francisco journals think there can be but little doubt that it will be cultivated hereafter, for household purposes at least, on every farm in that State.

☞ The Rockaway captain who so cunningly duped a number of New York merchants engaged in the contraband trade, and crept safely along shore with his sloop to Rockaway, sunk his vessel after discharging, and then disposed of his goods to everybody who would buy them, but was not able to dispose of them all, and has not been permitted to enjoy the full benefits of his enterprising operation. The Sheriff of Queens county seized some of the goods, on an attachment for expenses, and now holds them. Who will finally get possession of the property no one pretends to say, as no one professes to own the goods. The cargo embraced all sorts of articles, including a hoop skirt intended as a present to Mrs. Jeff. Davis. No arrests have yet been made, but the officers are in hopes to discover the real owners of the property.

—In the Ohio legislature ten "conservatives" have been ousted from their seats, and four others are to be similarly disposed of, having got in by the refusal of election clerks to count soldiers' votes.

— The St. Louis Democrat thinks the bill calling an immediate Emancipation Convention will have eight or nine majority in the lower branch of the Missouri State legislature.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 29, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Deserters state that a serious mutiny occurred in the rebel camp near Stevensburg on Saturday, a regiment having attempted to desert.

A dispatch from the Army of the Potomac, 27th, states that it was two Mississippi regiments that opened the ball on Saturday last, by attempting to fight their way out of the rebel lines for the purpose of taking the oath of allegiance to the United States. Unfortunately they were unsuccessful.

A Washington dispatch states that two divisions of the 6th Army Corps have gone to Knoxville, Tenn. The remainder of the corps will go at once, under Gen. Sedgwick.

The rebels crossed the Tennessee river on the night of the 26th, and attacked Athens, Ala., but were defeated. Other portions of our forces have whipped Johnston, at Florence, Ala. The raid is probably at an end.

The Hilton Head correspondent of the N. Y. World says the projected expedition from that point has been relinquished for the present. The whole of the Department is now being placed in a state of defence.

Advices from Arkansas states that on the 22d, the rebel Generals Marmaduke, Shelby and Hogan, were reported as advancing on Fine Bluff with three columns of rebel troops. Lieut. Payst had attacked Marmaduke, but was unsuccessful. Col. Clayton had an engagement, some days previous, in which Hogan was repulsed.—Col. Clayton then marched against Shelby, forcing him to retreat eleven miles; but fearing a flank movement Clayton fell back seven miles.

A special dispatch from Chattanooga says Johnston's army has fallen back from Dalton, Ga. A flag of truce went out 45 miles and could find no enemy. The rebel advance pickets are at Kingston, 40 miles south of Dalton, probably to cover the retreat. Several unimportant cavalry raids have been made to cover this retreat.

It is stated that resolutions introduced into the Alabama Legislature endorsing secession met with decided and unexpected opposition. The anti-secession feeling is more general and better developed in the northern than in the southern part of the State. Men liable to be impressed, are escaping from the Confederacy or fleeing to the mountains or other hiding places.

Skirmishing between Longstreet's cavalry and our own is reported.

A raid into Kentucky by Morgan is thought not improbable.

☞ The Machine Union makes the following remarks on the subject of ADVERTISING.—It is too late to reiterate any argument in support of the advantages of advertising. The success of merchants and business men, who have followed a judicious and systematic course of advertising, are but so many evidences in its behalf.

Like all other business, it requires study, investigation and application. Study of its utility enables one to systematize; investigation creates and establishes faith; for works without faith are dead; and application produces the desired effect, viz:—patronage and business.

For several months past we have noticed in our New England exchange newspapers the advertisements, from time to time, of S. R. Niles, Esq., of Boston, the enterprising Newspaper Advertising Agent, known to publishers all over the country, and to all business men who have done business with him, and they are legion, as an ever ready and always reliable business man.

There are but few men, we doubt very much if there is one, who understands the good fruits resulting from a judicious use of printer's ink better than Mr. Niles. He gives his attention to the business. He knows the papers and their publishers, many of the latter personally, in all the States.—He understands the geography of the States, the connection of important points, and country with city by rail, boat and packet. He satisfies himself what newspapers are best to "lay on thick or thin" Mr he lays it on thick he does so because he knows that the good harvest is sure, if thin he does it as gracefully as mortal can.

He illustrates his faith by his own example. We judge that he has expended a large amount for advertising within a year past. This shows that he is not afraid to do himself what he recommends to others. He believes in a liberal use of printers' ink, and when he spreads it for himself he spreads it "thick." We have had an acquaintance with him for ten years and we are pleased to state that it wears well. We hope to continue it for years to come with profit to Mr. Niles, to ourselves and to his and our patrons.

☞ It is well said by a letter-writer who has recently visited a military camp that seen from pleasant and happy homes don't like to have officers swear at them when there is no particular occasion for it. If the officers knew what was for their best interest they would refrain from such exuberance of language.

— Rev. Wm. H. Milburn, the blind preacher, has announced to his people that he has become an Episcopalian.

"War," says Herodotus, "reverses the order of nature: in time of peace sons bury their fathers, but in time of war fathers bury their sons."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Joseph Bennett of Holderness has made and sold 437 pounds of butter and 115 pounds of new milk cheese, from the milk of four cows, since March last. Pretty good cows those.

—— Mr. S. Andrews, of Freedom, while endeavoring to hitch a yoke of unruly steers to a sled recently, caught one of his thumbs between the staple ring of the yoke and the sled tongue, and the steers starting up quickly, it was nearly severed from the hand.

—— The Ballot states that John J. Leavitt, Esq., has commenced in Hampton the manufacture of paper cap tubes used in cotton mills. Mr. Leavitt is making large quantities of these articles, which are used by the Portsmouth Steam Factory, Manchester Print Works, and several other large establishments of the kind.

—— The Mirror states that one of the most powerful revivals of religion which has ever occurred in Manchester is now in progress there. Though the work has been going on but a little over a week, a great awakening has already taken place. One noticeable feature is the quiet manner in which the work is going on. It is not characterized by boisterousness or passionate outbursts, but the depth of feeling prevailing is visible upon the countenances of all engaged.

—— Gen. Gantt, of Arkansas, has accepted an invitation signed by Gov. Gilmore and prominent men of all parties, to address the citizens of Concord.

—— Rev. J. E. Brown, late of Hopkinton, after supplying the pulpit of the Baptist Church, Millbury, Ms., for nine months past, has accepted an invitation to the pastorate of that church.

REV. DR. STOW ON EGYPT AND THE UNITED STATES.—As I study the history of Pharoah and his task masters in their treatment of the enslaved Hebrews, I see how God was preparing the way, through wicked men, for the very result which was ultimately accomplished. But for the harsh policy of the tyrannical, the oppressed never would have desired freedom; and but for the sufferings which became unendurable, the crushed victims could never have been persuaded to follow their leader in the memorable exodus.

The wisdom of God, as well as His benevolent purpose, is visible in every stage of the process that led to the final emancipation of the objects of his paternal care.—He allowed the oppressors so to overact in their whole management as to work out the destruction of that very relation which they were endeavoring to perpetuate.—They laid on burdens till the cry of the suffering reached the God of Abraham, and He came down to deliver. They turned the screws of bondage till the chains snapped and fell in irreparable fragments.

If now we study carefully and candidly the facts that have been patent the last 30 years, I think we shall agree in the conclusion that God is using the very people who are fiercest contending for the preservation and extension of slavery as instruments, nay, as agents for its destruction. The free North is acting only a secondary part in the tragedy that has already given freedom to nearly one-fourth of the whole number of fellow beings who were three years ago in bondage apparently hopeless. The self-deluded slave mongers are acting the primary part, doing, unintentionally, the Divine will.

For years before the outbreak of the rebellion, the Southern people were appealed to—sometimes most injudiciously and provokingly—but oftener in terms and tones of friendly remonstrance, in the hopes that they would adopt measures of their own for the discontinuance of the grievous wrong, and the removal from our country's fame of the disreputable stigma. All this was resented with a superciliousness and a bitterness that deeply grieved the friends of humanity, and showed how incurably slavery had damaged both conscience and moral principle.

Even the pulpit and religious bodies entered into a defence of the system, and joined in fiercest denunciation of all who would not, because they conscientiously could not, let it alone, thus revealing the harm which it had done to Southern Christianity. So far from relaxing any of the severities of the system, the bonds of the slave were tightened and his privileges reduced, the laws for the security of property in human beings were made doubly stringent, and defiance of all intermeddling was thrown scornfully in the face of Christendom.

Not content with asserting the inferiority of the black man, which was not at all the question in debate, they insisted that subjection and servitude were his Divinely appointed condition, and that the philanthropy which sought his release and elevation was fanatical and contrary to the ordinance of God. In all this the hand of Providence was not, for the time being, apparent; and even at the North it was said, "See how you are injuring those whom you would benefit. Desist from your agitation of the vexed subject, and leave the negro to his master's humanity."

But we now see in the whole of that process the Divine foresight, working in that people an infatuation preparatory to what they would ultimately be left to do in their madness—inaugurate a war that should effectually strip them of that class of property, and of four millions of chattels make four millions of men.

☞ The Brooklyn Union says that an anonymous letter received by Admiral Paulding "contains charges of such a serious nature against a high official in the Yard, that they will be investigated, but the result will in all probability be merely a display of personal spite too cowardly to show itself openly. If abuses exist, some better means than anonymous letters should be taken to check them."

— There has been no rain in Hungary for nearly two years, and as a consequence the crops last year were very poor, and the stock is dying from want and disease. A correspondent of a London paper, in referring to this fact, estimates the loss at sixty million dollars.

— It may be interesting to our lady readers to know that the Empress of Austria has the smallest waist in Christendom. It measures 15 1-4 inches—about the circumference of her husband's neck. And yet—would you believe it, girls?—the circumference of her body at the shoulders is 33 1-2 inches.

— The case of William P. Merrill vs. 1st F. W. Baptist Society of Portland, is being tried before the S. J. Court at Portland. The suit is brought to recover a balance of $862.93, alleged to be due plaintiff for services as pastor of said society for three and a half years. The defence is that he has been fully paid.

— The Tribune's Washington correspondent, in speaking of the proposed resolution requiring Government officers to write their signatures so that they shall be legible, states that the signature of one of the auditors puzzled a dozen legislators, and caused as much trouble as the decyphering of ancient hieroglyphics.

— The rebel steamer Little Lila left Havana on the 19th, but returned, two U. S. cruisers being reported outside.

S. J. COURT, Exeter,—Case No 104—Moses E. Emerson, Guardian of Edmond Moseley, Nathaniel K. Leavitt, previously reported, was given to the jury Wednesday forenoon. Bell and Hills for plaintiff. Wood for defendant.

Ezekiel Dow retracted his plea of not guilty to three indictments for selling liquor, and pleaded nol. con.

125—John J. Marsh v. Jacob W. Sanborn—was commenced Wednesday afternoon. Bell for plf., Bartlett for deft.

The editor of the Ballot pronounces this term to be thus far, "the dullest he has experienced during his residence (nearly five years) in Exeter. Nobody except the parties directly interested appears to take any interest in the cases on trial, the bar is not half filled, and the settees for spectators show a great array of empty seats. There is a disposition however, on the part of contestants, to settle their cases without trial, which shows good judgment on their part, it it does not add to the interest of the Court."

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The True Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so generously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require three to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangement of the stomach and Bowels, and as a family Pill. spno

A DAY'S SPORT.—Messrs. Joseph B. Adams and J. H. Kent of this city, Nat Hubbard of Tamworth, and John Q. A. Bean of Moultonboro' (an admirably arranged quartette, containing in its members all the requisites to insure a capital day's sport) on Tuesday visited Lake Winnipisseogee, and on Wednesday evening the two gentlemen first named returned to this city with most abundant and gratifying evidence of the taking way they have in the piscatory line,—and this, although this line may seem at first sight somewhat out of their line, is after all not surprising; for the first as Sheriff, of course is warranted to seize and to hold whenever there shall appear to him due cause; and the other, by his connection with the Draft, is fully justified in extending its provisions to the fishes, provided the latter are not legally exempt by reason of unsuitableness of age or non-residence,—in the former of which cases they wouldn't be wanted and in the latter they couldn't be found. As a natural consequence, their lines bad a most malign influence on the pickerel, several families of which (judging from the hundred pounds and more taken) must have suddenly found their line,—like many a rich man who endeavors to trace back his high descent (paradoxical as the expression may be) "terminated by a single cord."

All the fish proved by their size that they were of suitable age to be subject to the draught, and the four-pounder which found its way to our office was fit to set before a king. The piece of red tape which formed a convenient loop by means of which it could be carried, was intended to signify, we presume, that our friends presented it in their official capacity.

A DONATION TURNED INTO A SURPRISE PARTY.—The parishioners of Rev. Otis Holmes, of Eliot, chose last Monday evening as the time, and his residence as the place, to meet and make their annual donation. Feeling that a friendly visit would do something towards cheering him on in holy undertakings, it did not replenish his pocket or his larder, we therefore got up steam and started, and did not apply the brakes until we arrived at his residence, where we were cordially welcomed.

We met some one hundred and fifty persons, old and young, and passed a very pleasant evening, being entertained with speaking, music, &c. We did not meet the former donor of that big cheese, (perhaps he has seceded,) but we did see a big cheese there, nevertheless, which "looked good enough to eat." We had the pleasure of meeting Dea. Brooks and Mr. Cole of your city; the former in a neat speech and to the surprise of all present, presented to Mr. Holmes a package containing seventy dollars, which, added to the gift of our people, made for him a purse of one hundred and thirty dollars, which he acknowledged with many thanks.

Hearing the bells ringing, we were reminded that our one-horse train was coming, so we took our hat and wife and Cram-ed ourselves into the sleigh, reaching home in good season, feeling highly pleased with our evening's entertainment. C.

☞ A dispatch from Key West, Jan. 22, reports the U. S. screw steamer Colorado at that port, bound to Portsmouth.

A new and magnificent smoking car has been placed upon the Portland train on the Eastern Railroad. This car is one of the largest and richest in its finish of any that runs out of Boston, and with its complement of devotees to the weed, seems to suggest a scene of Oriental enjoyment. A smoking car has also been added to the Portsmouth trains run under Conductor Philbrick's charge. All who use tobacco in any form should travel on these cars, and ladies will not be compelled to watch for the chewer's pool, when taking seats in the cars, and thus be saved the annoyance that many a Balmoral has frequently been subjected to.—Portsmouth Cor. Ballot.

☞ Hubbard's Polyorama of the War, with auxiliary attractions, opens at the Temple this evening. It is highly spoken of by the press where it has been exhibited—it gives pictorial views skilfully limned of the recent battle fields. The "Italian Marionettes" are something new, and Miss Hasty's singing will add much to the general entertainment. See advertisement.

☞ Trask's Anti-Tobacco Journal for January and February is just issued. Contents: Progress of the Cause; Memoranda of my War on Tobacco; Our Generals and Subaltern officers; Jesse Shute and his first Cigar; Smoking vs. Intellect; Tobacco injures the Articulation; A Specimen of Testimony from Physicians; The Wreck of a Gifted Mind; Quaint Old Temperance Poem; Street Smoking; Our Old Family Horse Dead; Look out for Masked Batteries; Letters from Patrons; The Honest Rum-seller; Poisons in Ale, Beer and Porter; Moderate Drinking; The Drunkard's Tree; Respectable Dram Shops; One way of manufacturing Snuff; Temperance and Anti-Tobacco Books, etc.

☞ The owners of the steamer Kiu Kiang have named the sum of $12,000, with the additional sum of $300 per day after two weeks' detention, as the price which they require to cover expenses of all kinds before permitting that vessel to run against the Eutaw, as proposed by the Secretary of the Navy. The Assistant Secretary, Mr. Fox, in a letter to Messrs. Olipbant & Co., says: "The Kiu Kiang is almost the exact tonnage of the Eutaw, and has run 16 knots per hour. This extraordinary speed makes me more anxious to have the trial, and I trust parties will come forward and remove the pecuniary difficulty." With this hope he communicates the letter to the press.

☞ The Richmond Examiner is in trouble at the reports of the re-enlistments of veteran troops in the Federal armies. It says:—

The action of the enemy in this matter is important to us; the preservation of their organization shows that they intend to move forward at the earliest practical moment in the Spring. If they will not sacrifice an organization which has stood the ordeal of two years' campaigning, can we afford to hazard the experiment of opening the spring campaign under officers recently elected, with regiments recently organized, with companies unaccustomed to association, and men strangers to each other? We shall need every energy of national defence for the spring campaign. Richmond will, in all probability, be approached from the Rappahannock, as well as from Black Water. In Northern Georgia the fate of Atlanta, and in South Carolina that of Charleston and Savannah, in North Carolina that of Wilmington, all must be decided in the spring.

☞ Mr. Hale, from the Naval Committee, reported the following bill in the U. S. Senate on Wednesday:—

That hereafter all appointments in the Volunteer Naval Service be submitted to the Senate for confirmation, and all such appointments hitherto made shall cease at the expiration of sixty days from the time of the return of vessels in which those holding them are employed.

☞ Dates from Batavia, Nov. 30, bring information of the burning of ship Conquest, Capt. Lucas, off North Watcher Island, by the pirate Alabama. The Conquest was loaded with teas and rags, and was on her passage from Yokohama to New York when destroyed.

☞ In accordance with the request of several members of the Mercantile Library Association, there will be a meeting of its members at Mercantile Hall this (Friday) evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Among other things of importance, there will be a discussion upon the propriety of the Association meeting once per week for literary improvement by engaging in discussion, reading essays, &c. It is earnestly desired that all members of the Association be present.

☞ What an amount of suffering and disease among the volunteers would be prevented by the free use of Holloway's Pills and Ointment. For wounds, sores and scurvy, the Ointment is a certain cure, and for bowel complaints, fevers, small pox, &c., the Pills are the best medicine in the world. Only 25 cents per box or pot. 221

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuel Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, t nt many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cases which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is popular, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. I book who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the very slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:—

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause disease sets one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is 'emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This saint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous Constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (or Palpitation, Disease of Valves, producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indigestion to Exercise, Pain in the Base, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Fear of Insanity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languid Feeling, Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MURKIES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, and a disorder ated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the curving, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The statement copied from European papers, that Marshal Forey had an extraordinary mission to Washington and obtained there a pledge that the United States would not disturb the new Mexican monarchy, in return for promises from France with regard to her attitude towards the South, is in every shape and form without foundation. Marshal Forey has not been at Washington, has made no communication directly or indirectly to the Government, and no such pledges have been made. The State papers sent to Congress with the President's message contain all that has passed between the United States and Mexico, Spain and Austria on the subject of the war of France and Manchester.

☞ A Southern refugee at Memphis, who says he left Richmond Dec. 26, represents that the demoralization of the women is a marked characteristic in Richmond under the present condition of affairs. The absence of those who should protect and support them, and the presence of licentious men who are themselves removed from the restraints of good society and family influences, has caused the fall of multitudes of those who would have been amiable and virtuous ornaments of society. Bragg's army is completely demoralized and scattered throughout the country. The rebels intend to concentrate all the troops possible at Atlanta to wipe out Grant.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, love of solitude, &c., are some of the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all Diseases incidental to H. female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of females and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side, (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this highly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely prevented.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinker, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere. "Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

THE PLANTING OF THE APPLE TREE.

Come, let us plant the apple tree!
Cleave the tough greensward with the spade;
Wide let its hollow bed be made:
There gently lay the roots, and there
Sift the dark mould with kindly care,
And press it o'er them tenderly,
As, round the sleeping infant's feet,
We softly fold the cradle sheet:
So we plant the apple tree.

What plant we in the apple tree?
Buds, which the breath of summer days
Shall lengthen into leafy sprays;
Boughs, where the thrush with crimson breast
Shall haunt and sing and hide her nest.
We plant upon the sunny lea
A shadow for the noontide hour,
A shelter from the summer shower,
When we plant the apple tree.

What plant we in the apple tree?
Sweets for a hundred flowery springs,
To load the May-wind's restless wings,
When, from the orchard row, he pours
Its fragrance through our open doors;
A world of blossoms for the bee,
Flowers for the sick girl's silent room,
For the glad infant sprigs of bloom,
We plant with the apple tree.

What plant we in the apple tree?
Fruits that shall swell in sunny June,
And redden in the August noon,
And drop as gentle sire come by
That fan the blue September sky;
While children, wild with merry glee,
Shall scent their fragrance as they pass,
And search for them the tufted grass
At the foot of the apple tree.

And when above this apple tree
The winter stars are quivering bright,
And winds go howling through the night,
Girls, whose young eyes o'erflow with mirth,
Shall peel its fruit by the cottage hearth,
And gnests in wrought homes shall see,
Heaped with the orange and the grape,
As fair as they in tint and shape,
The fruit of the apple tree.

The fruitage of this apple tree
Winds and our flag of stripe and star
Shall bear to coasts that lie afar,
Where men shall wonder at the view,
And ask in what fair groves they grew;
And they who roam beyond the sea
Shall look, and think of childhood's day,
And long hours passed in summer play
In the shade of the apple tree.

Each year shall give this apple tree
A broader flush of roseate bloom,
A deeper maze of verdurous gloom,
And loosen, when the frost-clouds lower,
The crisp brown leaves in thicker shower;
The years shall come and pass, but we Shall hear no longer, where we lie,
The summer's songs, the autumn's sigh,
In the boughs of the apple tree.

And time shall waste this apple tree.
Oh, when its aged branches throw
Thin shadows on the sward below,
Shall fraud and force and iron will Oppress the weak and helpless still?
What shall the tasks of mercy be,
Amid the toils, the strifes, the tears
Of those who live when length of years
Is wasting this apple tree?

"Who planted this old apple tree?"
The children of that distant day
Thus to some aged man shall say;
And, gazing on its mossy stem,
The gray-haired man shall answer them,
"A poet of the land was he,
Born in the rude, but good, old times;
'Tis said he made some quaint old rhymes
On planting the apple tree."
—[Atlantic Monthly.

WOMAN'S LOVE FOR "THE OLD FLAG."

A letter from Chattanooga, after speaking of the erection of a lofty flag-staff on the peak of Lookout Mountain, from which now floats the old flag, says:

I must tell you an affecting little scene that I witnessed when we first crossed Lookout about the 9th of September. We were marching along at "route step," with our colors furled and in their black cases, when we perceived about a dozen of the fair sex in one of those everlasting southern porticoes watching us as we passed. We had got nearly by, when one of the young ladies stepped out to the front and said, "Boys, we want to see the old flag." Oh, such a shout as went up; banners soon unfurled, music struck up, the men took step, hats without number went into the air, and the hurrah lasted for a good hour, and the women all cried.

"CARNIVAL" AND "IMBROGLIO" are words now coming into general newspaper use, against which it is time some protest should be made. "Carnival" means literally a "farewell to meat;" but in Catholic countries it signifies "a festival celebrated with merriment and revelry during the week before Lent." "Imbroglio" is a harsh, clumsy word, which not a few newspaper readers skip when reading aloud, for fear of blundering on it. It is of Italian origin, and is defined by Webster to mean "an intricate or complicated plot." It is properly a dramatic term and nothing else.

☞ The rebel sympathizers talk about the taxation we shall have to endure if this war be prosecuted. No doubt we shall be taxed heavily if we carry on the war, but not a half nor a quarter or even a tenth part so heavily as we must be if we give up the Union.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Maj. Gen. McClernand, of Illinois, has not been assigned to any army corps, but merely ordered to report for duty to Gen. Banks.

The rebels claim that the Mississippi is blockaded at Greenville and Milliken's Bend by their batteries. They also report that their cavalry are within four miles of Knoxville, having captured 5000 cattle, 100 wagons, and a large amount of other property.

A letter received at Washington from a general officer at Knoxville, Tenn., says there is no doubt that the rebels are organizing a formidable cavalry force for a raid in Tennessee and Kentucky. The writer says that the rebels must have horses for the Spring campaign, and these necessities may probably induce them to visit Ohio for their procurement.

Longstreet has been heavily reinforced, and on Sunday morning a portion of his troops made a desperate assault on our lines. At first the fortunes of the day were against us, but a charge by a division under Col. McCook turned the scale. Our total loss was about 150. Some prisoners were taken. On the 19th Gen. Sturgis fell back to Knoxville, and the same evening crossed the Hoston river, to intercept the rebels at Louisville, and Gen. Granger's troops on the 20th were moving in the same direction, and a battle was pending. Great anxiety exists at Knoxville, but Gen. Foster is confident.

A rebel dispatch from Meriden, Ala., reports that a fight has occurred at Bovina, Warren Co., between negroes and whites. The negroes killed a number of Yankees, when reinforcements arrived who charged on the negroes, took their artillery, and opened on them with grape and canister.

There was little firing on Charleston on the 23d. The position and number of the fleet remained about the same.

A gunboat expedition is fitting out on the Mississippi for Red river. There are said to be some thirty rebel steamers in the Red and Ouachite rivers. But few of these are gunboats, and perhaps none are very formidable. This expedition is attended with considerable interest, as it will open up a large section of country, and will enable considerable cotton to get to market, provided it is not burned by the rebels.

The rebels are reported to have had a serious disturbance at Collierstown, in Rockbridge Co., Va., last Friday afternoon, they having forced a man into the ranks, who said he had not been regularly conscripted. His friends interfered in his behalf.

130 deserters from Lee's army came into our lines in one squad on Wednesday, including the pickets. A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune says Gen. Thomas' Chief of Staff, Gen. Whipple, recently stated that over 7,300 deserters from Bragg's army had come into our lines since Oct. 20, as shown by the rolls. They were mostly from Kentucky regiments. The number now arriving is unusually large.

Gen. Pleasanton is to be Chief of the Cavalry Bureau, and Gen. Averill is to command the cavalry corps of the Army of the Potomac.

Gen. Rosecrans left Cincinnati on Thursday night for St. Louis.

☞ English advices state that the Government investigation into the case of the rebel privateer Rappahannock, late war steamer Victor, resulted in proving certain officers at Sheerness guilty of gross neglect and violation of the neutrality laws. The Government is determined to prosecute the principal offender. Mr. Rumble, the principal engineer and inspector of machinery afloat, was brought before the magistrates and bound over on heavy bail. There have been no proceedings as yet against the other parties. The case of the Pampero, seized on the Clyde, had been transferred to the Scotch Court of Sessions as an exchequer case and would shortly be debated.

☞ Official advices from the Commander of the Wyoming state that he was at Singapore Nov. 30th, close on the track of the Alabama, which had passed thro' the Straits of Sunda, within 25 miles of him.—The Alabama had burned, Nov. 6th, the ship Amanda, loaded with sugar and hemp, chartered by an English house.

☞ Mr. James Sargent, an estimable citizen of Baring, Me., died very suddenly on Friday last. He was writing in his room, when a young woman of the family entered. He spoke to her, and remarked that the room was very dark; she replied that it was a dark day. At that instant he threw up his hands, exclaimed, "oh dear," his head fell forward upon his breast and he died instantly.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By Uncle Tony.

Forged Letter against Gov. Belcher, in 1739.

It must be remembered, that Gov. Belcher had enemies, in his government of Massachusetts as well as New-Hampshire, who united their efforts to obtain his removal from both; but as they supposed him more vulnerable in his capacity of governor of New-Hampshire, so they joined in strengthening the complaints, from that quarter, as a preparatory step, to effect his complete removal. Whilst he was engaged in preparing for his defence against the charges, in the petition of appeal, other attacks were mediating, which were conducted with such silence that it was impossible for him to guard against their effects. One of these was a letter, purporting to have been written at Exeter, subscribed by five persons, said to be inhabitants of that town, and directed to Sir Charles Wager, first lord of the admiralty. In this letter it was said that "finding his lordship had ordered the judge advocate of the court of admiralty to inquire into the riot, which had been committed there, (1734) and the assault of the surveyor and his officers; and fearing to be brought into trouble on that account, they would confess the whole truth. That they had been indulged, by former surveyors, in cutting all sorts of pine trees, till the appointment of Colonel Dunbar to that office; who had restrained and prosecuted them; but that Governor Belcher had privately given them encouragement to go on; by assuring them that they had the best right to the trees; that the laws were iniquitous, and ought not to be regarded; that although he must make a show of assisting that Irish dog of a surveyor, yet he would so manage it with the council and justices, who were under his influence, that they should not suffer; and further to encourage them, he had made several of them justices of the peace, and officers of militia. That he had also told them not to fear any inquiry into their conduct, for that he would write to the board of admiralty, in their favor; and boasted that he had such an influence over their lordships, that they would believe every thing which he should say.—That as they had now confessed the truth, they hoped to be forgiven, and not prosecuted in the admiralty court; and begged that this information might be kept secret till the governor's removal, which they hoped would soon be effected. That whatever might have been said to the contrary, they could assure him that the province of New-Hampshire contained the largest number of pine trees, and of the best quality, in all his majesty's American dominions; and, for further information, they referred his lordship to several persons then in London, particularly to Mr. Wentworth and Mr. Waldo; the latter of whom, was agent to Mr. Gulston, for procuring masts for the royal navy."

On the receipt of this letter, Sir Charles, with the candor of a gentleman, sent a copy of it to Mr. Belcher; who immediately ordered an inquiry, and it was proved to be an entire forgery; four of the persons whose names were subscribed utterly disclaimed it, and the fifth was not to be found; no such persons being known in the town of Exeter. The evidence of this forgery was transmitted to England, with all possible expedition; but not till it had made an impression, to the disadvantage of the governor.

This was not the first instance, nor the last, in which fraud, forgery, and downright lying, put a man out of office, or into it.

— The overland mail to California, after a fortnight's suspension by the snow blockade in the West, has resumed operations.

— The Stars and Stripes were toasted at a supper on Christmas evening, in Raleigh, N. C. Gov. Vance, and the city editors were present.

— Gov. Vance of North Carolina has tendered the seat in the rebel Senate made vacant by Mr. Davis, to Hon. W. A. Graham.

— It is understood that the House Committee on Commerce will in a few days report in favor of the abrogation of the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

— The old sloop-of-war Falmouth, which was sold at auction in Aspinwall, sailed from that place on the 8th inst., flying the British flag.

— In Liverpool, Eng., the price of gas has been reduced to about 86 cents per 1000 cubic feet. It is stated that this price pays a fair profit to the stockholders.

— A Washington dispatch says—from official data in the War Department, it is ascertained that the whole number of troops enlisted for actual service in the month of October was 100,000.

— In the U. S. Senate, on Thursday, the resolution to expel Mr. Davis of Kentucky was withdrawn by Mr. Wilson, thus disposing of the question without taking a vote upon it.

— The Newburyport Herald states that the Council at Georgetown, Mass., on Wednesday, voted unanimously to organize a new church. Just a third part of the old society (Beecher's) will join the new one.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——The vacancy in the Surveyor's office Boston, caused by the resignation of J. P. Tucker, Esq., of Concord, has been filled by the appointment of Hon. John S. Walker, also of New Hampshire. Mr. Walker is editor of the Claremont Eagle.

—— Mr. Shephard, the photographer, who shot the Whipple boy in Laconia, on the 15th inst., has been discharged, Justice Clark holding that there was a riot, and that Mr. Shephard was fully justified in taking life even, under such circumstances, in defending himself and property from the mob.

—— Mr. George W. Foote of Concord, during three weeks last Fall, caught 48 minks and some other animals, along the Merrimack river. The limits of his "beat" can be judged from the fact that he was at home every night during the time. He sold the 18 mink skins, for $7 apiece—making a total of $126.

—— The Republican State Committee have issued a circular calling on the friends of the Union and the Government to prosecute vigorously the preparatory work of the election. Organization, canvassing the voters, the circulation of documents, public meetings, getting home voters who are absent, and energetic effort in every direction, are duties which devolve upon the town committees and upon every active and influential friend of the Government.

—— Sundry ladies in Claremont on Monday last gave a leap year sleigh ride to sundry gentlemen. They called for each gentleman, offered an arm to the blooming young man, escorted him to the sleigh, tucked him in warmly, and shielded him from the rude winds and the glare of the sun, assuring him of safety and protection. During the ride they supplied the gentlemen with cigars, but somehow neglected to smoke themselves. A supper at a hotel rendered the affair more enjoyable to the gentlemen, who were all returned to their homes in excellent condition, a little after midnight.

—— Lewis A. Horton of Plainfield, in 1861, shipped as a seaman on board the Massachusetts, and after a month's service was taken prisoner and held as such eight months. He was discharged on the 15th of May, and on the 30th, shipped on board the Rhode Island, where he continued eighteen months, the last part of the time as a loader. While performing his duty in this capacity, a premature explosion took place, which threw him several yards from the vessel, into the sea. The accident took off both his arms and otherwise injured him, but he managed to keep upon the surface and actually made progress toward the gunboat—reached her, and was taken on board once more, the blood pouring from both the shattered stumps. He has just reached his majority, and in future his reliance is on a permanent pension, which secures to him the paltry sum of eight dollars a mouth. We trust for him, and others similarly unfortunate, ample provision will be made.

FOREIGN.—The Confederate loan advanced in London on the 14th to 44 and 46, after reaching 50.

The Great Eastern has been bid in at $130,000, there being only one bid—$50,000. The steamer Sumter was sold at the same time for £4500.

A vessel with over 11 tons of gunpowder was burnt in the Mersey on the afternoon of the 14th. The explosion was terrific: much property was destroyed, but no lives were lost.

There have been numerous arrests of Italians in Paris—as connected with the recent conspiracy; and the documents taken from the four first arrested, it is said, implicate Mazzini as the originator of the plot. He has, however, published a letter denying in the most explicit manner any complicity with the plot.

It is reported that certain persons in Liverpool will shortly be brought before a magistrate, charged with enlisting British subjects for the rebel service.

A public execution in London had produced strong anti-hanging demonstrations and loud indignation against the home Secretary, who recently remitted the sentence against a respectably connected murderer, but refused to do so in the case of a laboring man.

The American steamer Scotland was seized by the customs authorities at Canton for taking on board guns and other contraband of war.

In the Court of Exchequer, on the 11th, judgment was given refusing a new trial in the Alexandra case. The ship would be released.

A Hamburg telegram says the Danes have opened the dams of the Eider to inundate the country. The approach to Fredericksstadt is partially obstructed. The principal military force of Denmark (16,000 men) was concentrated in the city of Schleswig. Colossal palisades and extensive barricades are being erected. The class of soldiers of the age of 35 are being called out by the Danish Government.

Warlike preparations were going on in Norway.

Advices from Japan state that the agents of Satsuma have agreed to pay the indemnity immediately, and relax no effort to turn the murderers of Mr. Richardson over to the English. A Bombay telegram reports the termination of the war on the Punjaub frontier.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

Respectfully represents THOMAS STACKPOLE, Administrator with will annexed of the Estate of THOMAS CURRIER, late of Portsmouth, in said County, deceased; that the Personal Estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the just demands against his estate and the legacies given by the will, by the sum of nine hundred dollars, and the Administrator further represents that it will be for the interest of said estate to sell the Real Estate situated on Lafayette Road, and that the same is so situated that a part cannot be sold without injury to the persons interested in said Estate.
Wherefore he prays that he may be licensed to sell at public auction the whole of the Real Estate of said deceased situated on Lafayette Road for the payment of said demands and legacies.
THOMAS STACKPOLE.
The 29th day of January, A. D. 1864.

By order of the Judge,

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of Thorough Cathartic, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

Local.

☞ There have been numerous petty thefts committed in this city during the past few weeks. One poor man while engaged in cleaning snow from a side walk a short time since, placed his coat upon the fence in front of the house, and shortly after, turning round to take it again, found that it had disappeared. Clothes-lines have suffered to some extent—the thefts occasionally being committed quite early in the evening. Gates should be closed and bolted when there is anything in the yard which would prove tempting to these sneaking thieves, whose highest ambition seems to be to show how mean and despicable it is possible for men occasionally to become.

☞ One of our N. H. papers, out of this city, after giving the facts stated in the report to the Common Council, of the errors in Ward 3 of Portsmouth, remarks that Mr. Marcy's majority in that ward was equal to all the majority he had in the District. This induced us to look back at the record; and we find he had 94 majority in that ward. By the official count he had 80 plurality over Eastman in the District, and there were 4 scattering votes. So all the majority, and more too, came from that quarter.

☞ The Eastern Railroad contemplates altering the route of the road, by striking in a northerly direction from the present depot in Newburyport, building a new bridge over the Merrimac river, above the present one, and thus reaching the station at East Salisbury by a nearly straight line, shortening the distance, and avoiding a curve in the present route.

☞ Last exhibition of Hubbard's Polyorama of the War,—at the Temple to-night. But the exhibition this afternoon should be remembered, for the sake of the children. There was a very large house present last evening, every available seat being occupied and many persons being compelled to stand. The exhibition has many attractive features.

☞ The "January thaw" has continued so long that the sleighing is now to be numbered among the things that were, although the ground is still covered with a thin stratum of exceedingly dirty ice, not at all attractive to the sight or agreeable to walk upon.

☞ About $230 were raised by the recent Festival at the Greenland Academy for the benefit of the soldiers. The Journal pronounces that "mysterious goose" rather tough.

POLICE COURT.—Joseph Kenniston, for being drunk, was fined $3, and costs taxed $2.92,—on the non-payment of which he was committed.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson will lecture at the Universalist Church to-morrow (Sunday) evening. Services commence at 7 1-2 o'clock. Subject—The Faith of St. Paul.

☞ Rev. Henry Plumer of Haverhill, Mass., will supply the pulpit of the Christian Church on Court street, to-morrow.

— A coal operator in Carbon county, Pa., recently sold his mines and machinery for $700,000. A few years ago he was a bankrupt.

— The Portland Press states that some young ladies who live in large houses, not a thousand miles from High street, Portland, have been amusing themselves by squirting water into the faces of harmless pedestrians.

— Mr. Wellington Kidder, of Norridgewock, Me., has sold one thousand and twenty-five tons of hay from his farm the past year, besides using enough to keep a large stock of cattle.

— The U. S. war ships have been withdrawn from guarding the entrance to New York harbor, and steam revenue cutters have taken their places. The Stevens battery Naugatuck is stationed at Throgg's Neck.

— The insurance on the property destroyed by the explosion and fire in Maiden Lane, New York, was $65,000. A package of caps charged with denonating powder fell on the floor, and the concussion produced the explosions which followed.

— A one-legged man died suddenly in France a short time ago. His sister, on looking over his will, discovered that in the wooden leg was deposited 5000 francs. The body was exhumed, and a sum of 5080 francs found in the leg. An exchange calls this a pleasant leg-acy.

— Last Sunday, the Baptist minister in Lynn, Mass., exchanged with his South Danvers brother, and by mistake entered the Unitarian pulpit, the churches being near together. An examination of the hymn book partly disclosed to him his mistake; and on descending the pulpit stairs, and making inquiry in the nearest pew, he gathered up his outside garment and manuscript, and withdrew.

Would you have sweet and healthy Bread, Biscuit, Cakes and Puddings? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M.D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwells Island Hospital, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome oppositions as heroic as ever encountered by any reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause disorder is introduced into our scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from a IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Costiveness, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Sciatica, Gout, Lumbago, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost immediately alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or virulent, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly the young man suffering from self abuse, medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the baleful effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. Not a hardened spongy Gums nor loosened teeth as fearful as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Ulcerating Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All sorrowful persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the Ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epilepsy (or Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filling sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, for persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Premature Insertion in Secretion, Pain in the Back, Dim Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Hurried Countenance and Disinclination to Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MORBID CONDITIONS upon the Liver, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Disease of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

WARM WEATHER.—From Dec. 26, to Jan. 1, 1864, inclusive, the temperature was warm—varying from 32 to 48 at noon. From Jan. 2, to 11th, the mercury did not rise above the freezing point. On the 12th at noon it rose to 34 degrees and from that day to the present time, Jan. 29, the weather has been on every day, excepting two above the freezing point at noon—these exceptions were on the 15th, when it was at 28 degrees and on the 21st, when it was at 30 degrees. It will be seen by our weather record that the average of the past week at noon was 48 degrees—and that on three successive days the mercury did not descend below the freezing point, in the morning. The sleighing is thin, but not yet destroyed.

The theory broached by an old ship master last November, that the winter will be warm on the eastern shore in consequence of the Gulf stream being several hundred miles nearer our coast than usual, seems to be substantiated by the fact that while the weather here is warmer than usual, on the coast of Europe it is as much colder. And the effect of driving the cold from our coast accounts for its being more severely felt in the west. We are not prepared, however, to substantiate the fact on which the theory is based—but take it as it came.

As we have but four weeks more before spring opens, if we have some cold days they cannot last long.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY BIBLE SOCIETY.

The object of this Society, the annual meeting of which has been lately held in this place, is to attend to the work needful to be done in the territory in which it exists,—securing and taking charge of a suitable depository of Bibles, supplying the destitute families with the Bible and the children with the New Testament, and having a care of all needy and destitute persons—at the same time making all needful collections for the cause in the families in the different towns or churches as it shall be judged best. This Society is auxiliary to the N. H. Bible Society, is represented in its meetings, and after attending to its own wants, pays its funds into the treasury of that Society. From the late report of the Treasurer of this Society, Dea. Francis Grant, of Exeter, it appears that the Income of the Society from all sources the past year has been $458,35 cts. If we add to this the sales at the depository in this place, kept by Mr. F. W. Ham, the income to the Bible cause from this territory will not fall much short of $600. This about equals the income of the Society in the west part of this County, embracing 12 towns, while this embraces 27 towns. That Society, however, has a legacy to report of $137.00. Bibles and Testaments were given in the course of the year as reported by Deacon Grant, to the value of $12,18 cts.—as reported by Mr. Ham, about $107.

These books, under the care of Rev. Mr. Medbery, went to the supply of the Navy Yard, the invalid corps, the contraband school, the sailors' sick and well. Of this number 24 Bibles and 27 Testaments were given by the Portsmouth Bible Society. There have been ordered to this place within the past few weeks from New York, and are now in the hands of Mr. Ham, 500 Bibles and Testaments, costing aside from transportation $231 00. We trust that the friends of the Bible will see that something worthy of their attention is accomplished by this organization, and when they consider that a similar work needs to be done in all parts of the country, and that this work the Am. Bible Society through its auxiliaries is doing,—when they consider the wants of our vast armies, of the hospitals, of the prisoners of war, and of the multitude of colored persons coming within our reach, and in addition, that the whole rebel country is opening to our efforts, will they not come to the aid of such an institution? More than 100,000 volumes of the word of God were furnished to the people of the Confederate States in the month of December last, mainly for their armies.

RECRUITING IN PORTSMOUTH.

Recruiting is about played out. Since the 5th inst. the number of volunteers enlisted does not average one a day. This is probably owing to the fact that the State quota is nearly full, and those towns who intended to fill their quotas, did so previous to that time. It is claimed that those soldiers who re-enlist in the field will be credited to their several towns; if this be so, the quota is much more than full.

Under the late draft the First District is credited with 1114 men. Furnished as follows: Reported for duty in person 61; furnished Substitutes 846; paid commutation 207. Total 1114.

The number drafted was	2952

Mr. George P. Edgerly, clerk in the Provost Marshal's office, furnishes the above interesting statistics to the Exeter News-Letter.

LARUE'S GREAT WAR SHOW.

This novel exhibition will be made at the Temple next week. When in Boston, the Traveller spoke of it as follows:

Mr. LaRue's Pictorial and Mechanical Exhibition of the principal stirring events of the great contest now in progress, opened last evening at Tremont Theatre, before a crowded audience. It is certainly an interesting, novel, ingenious, and not uninstructive entertainment.

The ruins of many Southern cities and places now become famous, are exceedingly beautiful—and, we believe, correct—whilst the long array of marching hosts and sounds of battle make them doubly interesting and impressive. Panoramas fail to give activity and life to the stirring events of war, but in this mechanical representation of Mr. LaRue's with its thousands of moving mechanical figures and models, we have all the movements of armies on the march, or in deadly conflict; fleets under full sail in a storm or an engagement, represented with such minute truthfulness as to seem present to the vision in reality.

The skill and effectiveness of the battle representations are truly striking and wonderful.

In the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, the committee upon the contested seats of Ward Three made a report similar to that of the Common Council committee; but, also, that the provisions of the City Charter did not allow the Board of Aldermen to be judges of the general election of its own members; and recommended that measures be taken to have the Charter amended, (as was that of Nashua,) so as to give the Board of Aldermen the above power.

No appointment of City Marshal was made, the Mayor and the Aldermen disagreeing in the matter.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ President Lincoln has sent a letter of thanks to the widow of Rev. Joseph Stockton of Pittsburg, Pa., a lady 85 years of age, for knitting a great number of stockings for the soldiers; and also thanking the young ladies of that city for feeding the large numbers of troops passing through.

It is stated that in the reign of George I, this question was referred to the law officers of the crown: "Whether America was so far deemed within the diocese of London, that the bishop thereof had all power in America?" They decided that a royal patent was necessary to sustain such power, but Dr. Gibson, Bishop of London, refused to take out a patent.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ERDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and an experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Hydrocele, Humors, Bubonic Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless and simple as slight stings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotins, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fire is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the oven, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be supplied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; whichever or both may be used, excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable in the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We invite some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and tad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about erecting Dwellings or Churches to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of OXGEN through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large body of fire and generally making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

FERNANDO WOOD.—This Copperhead leader was himself again in his speech on Tuesday. He said:

This war must cease. It was commenced without cause, has been prosecuted without glory, and will end in national impoverishment, disintegration and ruin. Those who favored this war favored disunion. Peace is the only hope of restoration. It was idle to talk of the policies of the war. It made no difference what were the policies. The result would be the subversion of republican institutions and utter destruction. He was opposed to the conduct of the South, but was equally opposed to the conduct of the North under the Republican policy.—Both were for dissolution. Let us therefore attempt a peaceable solution of the difficulty.

Mr. Wood closed with a pathetic exhortation to the spirit of Christian civilization, and with a dozen lines of poetry. Such an appeal from such a source is ludicrous.—His expressed desire as Mayor, to have New York city take a South side when secession began, is a droll feature in the face of professed loyalty;—and his well-known private character is a curious appendage to his cant in Congress.—The Washington correspondent of the Traveller gives the following item on Fernando's speech and ball, showing what his status is in Washington:

Fernando Wood spoke to-day in the House on the confiscation bill. It was an argument against the war, of course. As a speech it was a failure. Few of the members listened to it, and the galleries were not half filled. The truth is that Fernando is so ultra in his peace notions that he has no influence in the House and can do the Republicans no harm. Few of the Republican members will attend his party on Thursday night, the most of them not caring to put themselves at all in his power by accepting even a social courtesy. As a North-western Senator said:—

"I wish to be at liberty at all times to call the man a scoundrel, as he is, and I can't do that if I go to his house and sit down at his table!" This, perhaps, is straining a point, but better that than the opposite.

THE TEST OATH IN MARYLAND.—It has become the fashion of late in Copperhead circles to slander and abuse Gen. Schenck for his alleged interference with the elections in Maryland last fall. Some of the moderate Republicans seem inclined to fall in with them; but a letter of ex-Gov. Hicks, who is "a conservative" supporter of the Administration, has just been published, which gives one among many of the reasons which led Gen. Schenck to insist that all voters should take a test-oath. It is as follows:—

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 26, 1863.

Maj. Gen. R. C. Schenck, U. S. A.:

My Dear Sir—Our election is now near at hand, and I see no restriction placed upon the disloyal of our State. It does seem to me that if nothing else is done, there should be a stringent oath prepared, and the Judges required to exact it of all doubtful voters, and they refusing shall not vote.

I shall be glad to hear from you as early as possible. I am, with great respect,

Your obedient servant,
THOS. H. HICKS.

"SET US A QUARTER."—A smart fellow went into a saloon in Virginia City, a short time since, where a number of gentlemen were enjoying themselves, and inquired if they would like to be amused with some tricks of conjuring with cards. Of course they all said yes. The stranger having placed about a dozen cards on the table, requested each gentleman to place a quarter on a card, which each was to select for himself. This done, the peripatetic prestidigitateur changed the coin from one card to another, and asked each of the gentlemen if the money on his card was his. Of course they each said no, because their coin had been shifted to another card. Then, said he, "if none of the money belongs to any of you, why, it must be mine," and he pocketed it, remarking that it was a fair transaction, because the money belonged to nobody. That fellow can travel.

—Robert Grignon perished in a snow drift near his own house on New Year's day about eight miles from Oshkosh, Wis. He was about 80 years old, and was widely known as the warrior who captured Black Hawk.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A rebel dispatch from Dalton, Ga., 23d, reports that Forrest had won in fights at Lagrange, Collinsville and Germantown; and that there is a large force in West Tennessee ready to join him. A dispatch from Cramsno, Miss., 26th, reports that the rebel Col. J. E. Forrest has captured Island No. 60, and all the negroes and managers, killing 15, and destroying the oxen and wagons. Scouts report the evacuation of Corinth, and that the Federals blew up the fortifications and fell back in the direction of Memphis. Fort Pillow is also reported to be evacuated.

Recent intelligence from Lee's army states that they are executing the tithe tax of one-tenth of all forage supplies on the inhabitants thereabouts, and that their horses receive but four ears of corn per day, and are not allowed to be used except for extraordinary emergencies. The dissatisfaction in Lee's army in consequence of the repeated reduction in their rations has reached such a point as to require that commander to issue a General Order appealing to their patriotism and to their religion to prevent mutiny.

The rebels have commenced constructing a battery on York river, 10 miles above Gloucester, and on that side of the river.—They have also placed torpedoes in that river, and 2 at the mouth of the Pamunkey. They have also obstructed the passage up the East river by torpedoes, several being placed near its entrance into Mobjack Bay.

Knoxville correspondence states that when our forces crossed the Holstein, and fell back to their new position, they lost heavily in stores. Several caissons were blown up. About 200 stragglers were picked up by the rebels. After crossing the Holstein our troops burnt the bridge and everything else likely to fall into the hands of the enemy, including a considerable amount of clothing. On the 22d the rebels and our sharpshooters were skirmishing across the river, 6 miles above Knoxville. The movements of the enemy are not clearly understood. It is supposed that Longstreet will besiege Knoxville, and our men have been put to work on the fortifications and new batteries put into position. Longstreet has a strong and well fortified post at Bull's Gap, whence he can throw his forces into the valley on either side with great facility.

Gen. Foster reports that after a stubborn fight from daylight until 4 P. M., on the 27th, our cavalry routed the enemy's cavalry, 10 miles east of Sevierville, capturing 2 steel rifled guns and over 100 prisoners; the rebel loss in killed and wounded was considerable. Our troops pursued the enemy, and Gen. Sturgis hoped to make the rout complete.

Gen. Rawlins reports that on the 25th, 600 rebels were repulsed in an attack on our garrison of 100 at Athens, Ala., and driven, after a fight of two hours. Our loss was 20; the enemy's much greater. On the 27th, Col. Miller had a severe fight near Florence, and repulsed the enemy.

Johnston's army has disappeared from Northern Georgia, having probably gone to Mobile or East Tennessee.

A lady who, it is reported, left Charleston Jan. 11, asserts that one-half of the city has been abandoned on account of the damage done by Gen. Gilmore's shells. All articles have reached fabulous prices. The Union sentiment is quite strong and is on the increase. The treatment of Union prisoners is brutal. The conscription takes every man not a foreigner or an incapable. There were forty batteries around the city and reinforcements of troops were daily arriving in large numbers.

A Richmond dispatch reports that seven hospital buildings, at Camp Winder, near Richmond, were destroyed by fire Jan. 21. A large quantity of commissary stores and bed clothing were destroyed.

The Charleston Courier of Tuesday says the bombardment of the city continues about the same as previously reported.

The rebels anticipate an early attack on Wilmington, and are said to have a large force there.

Dr. J. T. Leach, conservative member from North Carolina of the next rebel congress, says in the Raleigh Standard of Jan. 13, that North Carolina now claims the fulfilment of the compact, or the right to depart from the Confederacy in peace. There are innumerable evidences that the Union feeling is becoming very strong in that state and its expression more and more fearless.

— The Mootauk nation of Indians, once one of the most powerful in America, it is said has dwindled down to five persons.

— The Richmond Examiner of the 25th inst., has an article on the Presidential election in the United States, which shows a deep interest therein, saying: It is evident the whole solution of the mighty question which agitates the continent may hang upon it. It is safe to infer that any change will be beneficial to the South.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

CONCORD, Jan. 30.

Dear Chronicle:—This has been a gay week at Concord—the chief attraction being the State Musical Convention, held from Tuesday till Friday—the interest and excitement increasing steadily during the four days' session. Full five hundred singers have taken part in the very interesting exercises—coming from all parts of the State, though mostly from the region about and above Concord. Such a chorus was probably never heard before in New Hampshire. Indeed, old Deacon Gould, of Boston, the veteran teacher of singing, who spoke before the Convention,—remarked that never before, in his experience, had he heard so strong a chorus in so good tune.

The Convention was very ably and agreeably conducted by Mr. L. O. Emerson, of Boston, well known as a composer and leader; and author of the new and exceedingly popular singing book, the "Harp of Judah," which has been used here. Mr. Morey has also given new evidence of his efficiency and skill, not only at the piano, but also as one of the business managers of the Convention, in connection with Messrs. Ingalls, Davis and others—and the affair has been well encouraged and sustained by the influential citizens of Concord, and the public generally.

The new and spacious Eagle Hall, just above the famous Hotel of that name, on Main street, has been used; and it is pretty well adapted for the purpose—though not nearly large enough—and we could but shudder at the inevitable result which must be produced by an alarm while the aisles and all were so packed and jammed with human beings—the choir and audience—as the means of exit are scanty and slow, and the light movable settees would instantly be overturned and block the passage of all. After all said, our old Temple in Portsmouth, with a very little alteration, would make a better Hall than the average. The seats should have been elevated five feet instead of ten, and then, with a little better arrangement of doors and means of heating and ventilating, and not a little ornamenting outside—we should prefer it above most halls we have ever seen. The elevated and stationary seats are certainly an advantage over flat and moveable settees, both for comfort and safety. But besides this, Portsmouth sorely needs a larger and different hall, for social and public uses—doesn't it? If so, then why not have it? and have it now, before we are all past caring for it?

At the Phenix Hotel we find the old proprietor, Dumas, quiet and popular as ever—and his abiding shadows, Bruce and Kent, always at their posts. It is the wonder of many visitors at this famous hostelry, whether Bruce ever sleeps, or if he does it with his eyes wide open, standing in "the office."

Hon. Allen Tenney, Sec. of State, yet remains in his lonely condition,—giving the fair daughters of the old Granite State cause to blush for him. "Friend after friend departs" on the voyage matrimonial, and yet Tenny hardens his heart and will not surrender. But this is leap year, and we admonish him to look out.

But we must say a word more in detail of the Convention, and then leave you—for we are off duty this week, and mean to make the most of it. Some folks say that to do nothing is the hardest of all work; but we don't believe we should find it more irksome to amuse ourselves than to do some other things; and at any rate we are willing to try it a spell, since we have so long labored to suit other people.

The Convention opened on Tuesday morning, with nearly two hundred members, and the number increased with each session, till over half a thousand were in attendance, forming a sublime chorus, though the trebles and, strange to say, the tenors also, rather preponderated over the bass.—The old couplet would constantly come into mind:—

"'Tis such a frame as this
My willing soul would stay,
And sit and sing herself away
To everlasting bliss."

To us there is no amusement, no entertainment, comparable with social chorus-singing. But we have been filled to our satisfaction, if not repletion, with six hour's indulgence, for the four days—three sessions being held daily—from 10 to 12, from 2 to 4, and from 7 to 9, or so. The first evening session was held in the Universalist Church, which was generously thrown open for the purpose; and besides the singing, there was a fine organ concert by Mr. Morey and others.

The exercises have been interspersed with solo and piano performances, comic singing, brief addresses, &c., and no little amusement is mixed with all. Then there were three grand concerts, one each evening, all fully attended.

Mrs. Minnie Little, of Boston, a charming singer, added greatly to the interest of the Convention. We met her at a similar gathering at Milford, Mass., seven or eight years ago; and she has been warbling, carolling, trilling and running ever since—diffusing pleasure wherever she goes. Mr. Ingalls, of Concord, also delighted all with his fine tenor voice.

It has been decided to hold a similar Convention in Concord next year—and indeed, wherever these gatherings are rightly introduced, they must and will become an institution. We noticed a dozen or so representatives and bearers from Portsmouth.

"There's nothing like leather," you know—and there are few leather dealers equal to our old friend James R. Hill of Concord, who has made the thousands of famous harnesses by which are drawn the equally famous Concord coaches and wagons, over the roads of California and Australia, and which go almost everywhere else. What think of cutting up upwards of seventy-five tons of leather in a year—filling single orders of two and four hundred harnesses, and more, employing more than two hundred workmen on occasions?—And all the details of this immense business kept under the eye of the proprietor of the establishment. Ought he not to roll up a little pile, after a score of years of such application and enterprise? Besides the best harness manufactory and salesroom we ever saw, Mr. H. has built the finest and most substantial block of stores in the city or State, an elegant brick residence for himself, and several other dwelling houses.—Truly, there's nothing like leather, when it's well "worked," but it takes a workman and a worker to bring the best stock to so good a shape.

As we have before stated—many leading citizens of Concord opened their houses to receive attendants on the Convention, as the hotel accommodations were not half sufficient. We were honored with as many as four invitations to the best of quarters; but we could not accept all such "quartering." We spent the few days most agreeably with friend H., whose wife, though not exactly a Portsmouth lady, we were agreeably surprised to find resided there for some years in her girlhood, being sister to the austere pedagogue who long years ago, more than we care to remember, taught us the alphabet at Gravelly Ridge School,—who is now an honored resident of Concord, but will still be remembered by many of our readers—we refer to Hazen Pickering, Esq., to whom all friendly greeting.—But how we all grow old, don't we?

Messrs. Davis and Morey—two incorrigible old baches, be it known—have the best arranged and most spacious music rooms we have ever seen. They also have their "home" adjoining the same, and live in as good style as such lonely chaps can, without the help of crinoline. May heaven protect them through leap year. If they get safely over this, they must thereafter be left to wed their muse alone.

The 6th N. H. regiment was publicly "received" here on Friday afternoon, in grand shape—but you will find reports of that elsewhere. We saw them as they marched from their special train to Phenix Hall to dine—to the music of "Sweet Home" from the Concord Band. A sturdy and worn-looking set were they, with their heavy packs on their backs—but of such alone, it would seem, is the kingdom of earth—for man always was a fighting animal, and always will be, so far as we can see. All honor to the brave Sixth, and all the braves! A great crowd was gathered to see and greet them. We looked in on them a moment, at the hall, but didn't stay for the speeches of welcome and eulogy. After supper, or dinner, they marched to camp. Yours ever, F.

GARRET DAVIS.—This Kentucky Senator will not be expelled, and it is doubtful if he will be censured. The remarks of Mr. Howard, of Michigan, in favor of the latter course, have been published. On Wednesday the subject was again discussed. Senator Hale made a warm argument against both expulsion and censure, on the ground of the absolute necessity of guarding free speech. Mr. Anthony thought that Mr. Davis' disclaimer of disloyal motives ought to shield him from punishment. Mr. Lane, of Indiana, was firmly convinced of Mr. Davis' loyalty, and should vote against the resolutions. Mr. Fessenden considered Mr. Davis loyal at heart, but his famous resolutions were "a very intemperate stump speech against the Government," though to expel him on that account would be an acknowledgment of inability to refute his arguments. He would give the largest liberty to comment on the acts of this or any administration. Mr. Morrill, of Maine, was the only Senator who spoke in favor of expulsion.

☞ Much uneasiness is felt for the safety of the celebrated clipper ship Dreadnought, which left Liverpool Nov. 17, with a large number of passengers and a full cargo, under charge of Capt. Lyttle, for New York. Some encouragement is derived from the knowledge of the staunch qualities of the ship, and from the fact that with sailing vessels long westward passages across the Atlantic are now the rule. The E. Z. packet ship from Liverpool Nov. 20, arrived only on Tuesday last.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spao

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Local.

THE TWO VALISES, with a Moral.—A gentleman residing in this city, having in August last loaned a valise to a friend and afterwards forgotten who said friend was, concluded to advertise in the Chronicle requesting its return. The advertisement appeared a week or two ago, and the missing article promptly made its appearance, satisfactory explanation being made by the borrower why it had not previously been returned. So far so good. But a day or two since, among the articles which Laws' Express delivered at the store of the advertiser was another valise, marked legibly with his initials and residence, which the gentleman loaned three years ago,—he does not remember to whom, but which he had long accustomed himself to look upon as gone from his possession—"it might be for years, it might be forever."

MORAL.

Hæc fabula docet (and the fable is true) that advertising may be advantageous to those who diligently avail themselves of the opportunities afforded them. There would be something peculiarly encouraging in the fact that one valise even was returned at the expressed wish of the advertiser; and when a call for one brings two, the weight of testimony in favor of the benefits derived from a "judicious system" is surely enough to convince the most skeptical. We are not quite sanguine enough to recommend advertising for "borrowed" umbrellas, but the chances are that any other articles will be promptly returned.

☞ We shall publish in full in Tuesday morning's Chronicle the report of the special committee in the Board of Aldermen, in relation to the recent election of members in Ward Three.

Also, 10s on the Great Falls Bank, Somersworth, raised from 1s; vig. female seated, holding sickle in left hand, stalks of wheat in right; female with cornucopia on left; female portrait in lower right corner.

☞ The Weekly Courier is the name of a new paper published by J. Frank Place, Esq., at Rochester, N. H. It is to be independent (not neutral,) in politics, is finely printed, and the two numbers already issued are crammed full of good things. It devotes much space to local matters, and its items are readable and carefully prepared. Success to the new candidate for public favor.

We copy the two following items from this week's number:—

SHIP TIMBER.—The large amount of ship timber across the railroad from our office, which is being sent to Portsmouth, indicates that ship-building is not entirely "died out" in that quaint old city. Our townsman, Reuben Tilton, Esq., who is engaged in this business, has got out a large amount of timber this season, and if the sledding holds good he will send away considerable more yet.—enough, probably to make up some 10,000 tons. The timber embraces some of the heaviest pine and oak.

THE PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—A New York daily paper, in a navy article, says: The Sacramento, built at Portsmouth, N. H., has made 13 nautical knots, or 14 ordinary miles, an hour. The Sassacus, also built at Portsmouth Navy Yard, has made 17 ordinary miles an hour, with the current against her. And yet we learn from the Chronicle that unless something soon turns up to employ the men in the Yard, there will be a general suspension of mechanical and other descriptions of labor there, while the Navy Yard at Brooklyn is overrun with work in building poor ships.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— An effort is being made to induce Gen. Burnside to speak in Concord.

—— Dr. J. M. Rand of Keene, has received and accepted a commission in the regular army.

—— There are somewhat improbable rumors of the camp at Concord being broken up soon.

—— At a parish meeting of the Orthodox society, of Saco, Me., held last Saturday, it was voted to invite Rev. F. Tuxbury, of Exeter, to become their pastor.

—— Donation visits to pastors seem to have been very frequent throughout the State during the past few weeks, and the gifts have usually been very liberal.

—— Weare contains over 2400 inhabitants, and one-fourth part, or more, are Quakers or Friends. They have two societies which meet semi-weekly—on Sunday and Wednesday A. M.

—— Rev. M. L. Severence, of Middlebury, Vt., a graduate of Andover Theological Seminary in 1863, has accepted a unanimous call to settle as Pastor of the Congregational Church in Boscawen. He has supplied the pulpit for the past four months. He will be ordained and installed Feb. 17.

—— We hear that two persons were recently taken in Canada, suspected of the murder in the woods at North Andover, Mass., of Mr. Parker the substitute agent for Derry, and that the chief criminal escaped from the cars while in custody of an officer. The other was left in jail in Montreal through some informality in the requisition, we believe.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch says a letter from Little Rock, Ark., 17th, says the convention is composed of most respectable men from all parts of the State. Some thirty counties elected delegates. In fifteen of them they voted without the presence of a single soldier. Nearly 6000 votes were cast. They are in session now and have engrossed the constitution and made Arkansas free forever—thank God. There was only one dissenting voice, Dr. Jacks from Helena: he was in favor of gradual emancipation. Gen. Steele has officially recognized the Convention.

☞ The Biddeford Journal states that the Baptist Society, of Saco, have sent thirty of its members to the war, although the society is not large. In one class in the Sabbath School all enlisted; the teacher recruited it to its full number and again lost them. He then got a young lad of 16 to come, thinking he should have at least one, but by and by the lad came to him and told him he too was going to the war. The Dr. broke down at this news and now he has gone.

A SENSIBLE EDITOR.—Mr. J. M. Spellisy, editor of the Universe, a Roman Catholic Democratic paper, says:—

"The 5-20 loan is entirely subscribed for We Democrats, however much and bitterly as we are opposed to this Administration, must admit by this fact that the whole country is determined to support the same Administration in carrying on the war, in its efforts to restore the Union, in much of its manner of governing the entire Republic. Let us be just enough to confess the truth. The late elections disappointed the judgments, the desires and the hopes of many of us; the exhaustion of the 'loan' has confounded us altogether. We may carp, but the elections have gone against us, and the loan is entirely taken; that is to say, both the votes and the money of the people sustain Abraham Lincoln in his management of the Republic. Our talk about despotism, the ruin of law, the destruction of the Republic, and all that, are silenced by these two facts."

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strama, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipilas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced—cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Wasting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Company, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved so equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very important to the young wife and single lady. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly opposite the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or bitter sensations, symptoms relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from disease for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same disease. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food.—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humbug Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can cure Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26

Morning Chronicle.

THACKERAY.

The following poem, from the pen of R. H. Stoddard, in the New York Round Table, is a noble tribute to the memory of the great departed:

"ADSUM."

DECEMBER 23-4, 1863.

"And just as the last bell struck, a peculiar, sweet smile shone over his face, and he lifted up his head a little and quickly said 'Adsum!' and fell back."—The Newcomes.

The Angel came by night
(Such angels still come down!)
And like a winter cloud
Passed over London town,
Along its lonesome streets,
Where want had caused to weep,
Until it reached a house
Where a great man lay asleep;
The man of all his time
Who knew the most of men;
The soundest head and heart,
The sharpest, kindest pen.
It paused beside his bed,
And whispered in his ear;
He never turned his head,
But answered, "I am here."

Into the night they went,
At morning, side by side,
They gained the sacred place
Where the greatest dead abide;
Where grand old Homer sits,
In godlike state benign;
Where broods in endless thought
The awful Florentine;
Where sweet Cervantes walks,
A smile on his grave face;
Where gossip quaint Montaigne,
The wisest of his race;
Where Goethe looks through all
With that calm eye of his;
Where—little often but light—
The only Shakspeare is!
When the new spirit came,
They asked him, drawing near,
"Art thou become like us?"
He answered, "I am here."

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of preventing the unfortunate victims of ignorance that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHEA, GLEET AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhea, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending the above disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, nervous forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotine, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressed, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the care of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians of Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FEMALE SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side, heat may be thrown into one at pleasure, and the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are made to fit tight, and joints are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much heat is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either stove, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and steel oven toaster combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, which is agreeable—and no one of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and they may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

"Boundless by party—to no sect confined;
The world our home, our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ There is about to be an important election in Maryland—the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention.—So far no legal provision has been made to prevent secessionists from voting at that election. The Union people of Baltimore and Maryland are a good deal exercised upon the subject and they are calling upon the Legislature to provide an oath which shall be offered to all voters, and in case that the Legislature shall fail to make this necessary provision the Commander of the Military Department is called upon to do precisely as Gen. Schenck did. The Baltimore American, a cautious journal, talks in this fashion:

We want gentlemen at Annapolis to remember that the people in this State who support the Government mean to govern Maryland. If the Legislature does not provide by law for the exclusion of rebel voters, the people will call on the military power to do it. And the Union man who, now having the power, shrinks from the responsibility of doing by law what, in his heart, he is glad to see the Government do by force, is not the kind of man the times require.

If the General Commanding this Department at the election for a Convention shall fail, in the absence of a law for that purpose, to do as Gen. Schenck did, both here and in Delaware, there will be war at every poll where Union men meet rebels bent on voting, and it is to prevent this incipient civil war—this collision of armed and hostile citizens—which we have heretofore happily escaped, that we desire the Judges of Election to be authorized to put an oath to voters which now commends itself to every man's conscience and judgment.

☞ What is thought to have been the largest cake ever made was made in the shop of Mr. Arnatt, confectioner, St. Giles's, in London. It weighed 3000 lbs., stood 7 feet high, and was 13 feet in circumference. There has been used in its manufacture 550 lbs. of flour, 3000 eggs, five cwt. of currants, two cwt. orange and lemon peel, 300 lbs. butter, 400 lbs. of sugar, beside other ingredients. The cake was cut by the Mayor at the annual conversazione of the Churchman's Union, on the 4th of January.

☞ Several efforts have been made to introduce in England the French custom of the gentlemen leaving the room (after dinner) with the ladies. An exchange says:

"The late Lord A., dining with Lord and Lady S., (who were about the first to make the innovation,) happening to be tormented with a tight boot, and being ignorant of the intended measure, contrived, by the aid of the other boot, and the friendly leg of the table, to draw it off. 'I shall have an opportunity,' thought he, 'of re-booting after the ladies retire'—and his face beamed as he congratulated himself on his release, and on the impossibility of detection. Poor man, he was noted for getting into absurd situations! The gloves are adjusted, the signal is given (that signal which is perhaps the only one never yet met but with acquiescence), and my Lord rises in his place with a serene bow—but, O horror! he presently beholds the being—late his lovely charge—looking at him in a very ominous manner! A glance round the room, and the whole terrible truth flushed upon him like a thunderbolt. There is no help for it—go he must. The drawing-room is reached—the unconscious beauty seats herself on an ottoman in the most conspicuous part of the room, and talks on and on without giving any signs of coming to a full stop. The wretched little peer stands fidgeting before her and planning a speedy exit—when, just as he believes himself on the very verge of accomplishing it, and is flattering himself that his black stocking has saved him from discovery, the door is flung wide open, and in comes John Thomas bearing 'my lord's boot' upon a silver charger."

☞ Last week the loyal farmers in the vicinity of Battle Creek, Michigan, drew several hundred dollars' worth of wood to the "war widows" of that town. The ladies being desirous of acknowledging the patriotic act of the farmers, prepared for them an excellent dinner and waited upon them at the table. The farmers thereupon made a contribution of wheat, two bushels each, which a miller ground wi hout charge, with the addition of twenty-five pounds of flour.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Certain mysterious movements of the rebels in West Virginia are reported. It is said that they attacked Petersburg in large force, with artillery, on Sunday morning, making regular approaches and finally charging; but they found no opposing force, our garrison having heard of the intended attack, and been withdrawn. On Thursday night previous they attacked a train of 80 wagons laden with commissary stores for the garrison at Petersburg, and after a hard fight of four hours captured a portion of the train.

It is said that only 300 feet of the obstructions in Charleston harbor have been washed away, and that all that has drifted toward the fleet since were rafts built by the rebels for the purpose of crippling our vessels.

The reports from Knoxville are contradictory. A Louisville dispatch states that an officer just from Tennessee reports that our army has gone into winter quarters and that an attack is improbable. It is also stated that a recent reconnoissance discovered that Longstreet had made a hasty retreat and gone beyond Dandridge.

An attack is expected at Port Hudson and Baton Rouge, and large reinforcements have been sent there.

The last "gentleman from Richmond" reports that the rebel authorities are taking steps to propose to the Federal Government to lay down their arms, provided the President's amnesty proclamation be extended to their leaders.

☞ The Great Eastern was put up for sale at Liverpool on Jan. 14, by order of the mortgagees, whose claims, along with that of Mr. Parry, amount to about £110,000. The "sale" drew together a large number of persons, but the auctioneer could obtain no advance upon the only independent bid offered—£50,000. There was a reserve bid of £130,000, and the ship, therefore, remains unsold. This attempt to dispose of the Great Eastern was followed by the sale of the Gibraltar—formerly the well-known Confederate cruiser Sumter—which was knocked down at £4,500.

☞ Secretary Stanton, before the Hale investigating committee said, among other things, that Senator Hale asked nothing of him in relation to the release of Hunt from the Old Capitol prison which a counsellor might not with perfect propriety have asked of a judge, and that he yielded nothing to the application of Mr. Hale that he would not have yielded to any respectable counsellor, and that he considered himself as acting judicially in the matter.

COPPERHEAD NEWSPAPERS.—The litigation concerning the New York Express has revealed the fact that its circulation does not exceed ten thousand copies a day. It has fallen off many thousands since the beginning of the rebellion, in consequence of its semi-disloyal course. There is hardly a loyal newspaper in a Northern city that has not greatly increased in circulation during the past three years. In New England the journals of decided Copperhead tendencies have been so much crippled of late that funds have several times been raised to keep them above water. We doubt if there is a single paper of this class that would live a month without passing round the hat.—Boston Transcript.

— Gen. Dix has ordered the surrender to the civil authorities for trial of John W. Andrews, who figured so prominently during the riot in New York city last July.

LA RUE'S WONDERFUL STRATOPATETICON.—This celebrated new, novel and interesting work of art, which has been drawing crowded audiences for a long time in Boston and neighboring cities, will open for a short season this (Tuesday) evening at the Temple. Mr. J. W. Whiston, who is we understand the greatest of living humorists, will also appear in connection with this great war show, and by his many drolleries and witticisms lend an additional charm to the entertainment. The Waverly Magazine thus notices the great war show:—

We had the pleasure of witnessing this fine exhibition last week, and found it superior to anything that has been here for a long time. It gives a view of the bombardment and conflagration of Fort Sumter by the rebels. Several battles that have been fought and places taken, are shown by thousands of moving figures. One scene in particular rivets the attention of the audience. A horse and rider are represented in a dying state after a battle. The horse raises himself on his feet after many unsuccessful efforts, so weak is he from his wounds, and then attempts to raise his master by taking him by the collar with his teeth. The natural position and movements of the horse, his evident distress and love for his master bring tears from many an eye. During the different scenes Mr. Whiston illustrates various characters by costume, and changing the muscles of his face in such perfection that no one can tell that it is the same person who addressed them the moment before; the changes of characters are made in about a minute, and create much mirth. Mr. W. is the most talented performer in this line we have ever seen. We would advise all parents to take their families to see this exhibition, for both instruction and amusement are afforded.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Gen. Gantt is to speak in Exeter.

—— The Dover Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society (of which Mrs. John P. Hale is President) have forwarded in two years and a half, for the relief of our suffering soldiers, $3712 in money and goods.

—— Gen. E. W. Gantt of Arkansas (late in the Confederate service) will speak at Nashua, Tuesday evening, Concord, Wednesday evening. Col. Montgomery of Wednesday at 1 P. M., and at Manchester Tennessee and Col. Taylor of Louisiana are also expected to address the meetings.

—— The Exeter News Letter states that Mr. W. A. Hopkins, of Hampton Falls, has ditched on the marshes of Hampton Falls, Seabrook, and Hampton, during the past 16 years, ditches that would reach a distance of 170 miles, and at an average depth of two and a half feet.

—— The Strafford Guards of Dover, a well known "crack" military organization, gave a grand military ball in City Hall, Dover, last week, which was in all respects a brilliant and successful affair. Portland, Concord, Manchester and Portsmouth were represented by numbers of soldiers and civilians.

—— The Concord Statesman contains the following pleasant allusion to Hon. John Prentiss, of Keene:—

The Nestor of the New-Hampshire press, now verging on 90, is one of the best specimens of cheerful, industrious old age to be found in New-England. He keeps thoroughly posted in public affairs, writes for the newspapers, and sustains his social relations with the inhabitants of Keene as punctiliously as when in the meridian of life. A gentleman of that town, in Concord Jan. 6, as a delegate in the Union Convention, informed us that on of the coldest evenings of the preceding week Mr. Prentiss made him a call about 7 o'clock, at his dwelling, and, after chatting half an hour, rose to depart, saying he had several more calls to make that evening.

NEW DRAFT.—The President on Monday issued the following Order for a new Draft:—

Ordered, That a draft of 500,000 men to serve for three years, or during the war, be made on the 10th day of March next, for the military service of the United States, crediting and deducting therefrom so many as may have been enlisted or drafted into the service prior to the 1st day of March and heretofore credited.

A Washington dispatch says, in relation to this new order:—

It will be recollected that in October a call for 300,000 men was made. This number has been about half filled by volunteers and re-enlistments. The call now made for 500,000 men is interpreted by gentlemen acquainted with military affairs to include the above men. The volunteering is supposed to furnish at present about 2000 men per day. The order of the President makes a credit or deduction of so many as may have enlisted or been drafted prior to Mar. 1, at which time the $400 premium expires. When these arrangements are completed the total in the army will be half a million of men.

— Vermont has not yet filled her quota.

— The pleuro-pneumonia has again made its appearance in Lexington, Mass.

— Charles Dickens has written an article on Thackeray.

— Gov. Gamble of Missouri, died on Sunday.

— Twenty-three nights of opera in Boston brought in about $57,500.

— A private dinner to Gen. Burnside is to given in Boston next Friday, at the Revere House.

— Gen. Grant, at a St. Louis hotel the other day, registered his name simply as "U. S. Grant, Chattanooga."

—The Congregational Ministers of Berkshire County, Mass., ask for an increase of salary.

— It is said that not a single copy of the Amnesty Proclamation has been sent through our lines into Lee's army.

— It is said that the Fenian Brotherhood (Irish) of Massachusetts are receiving hundreds into their ranks every day.

— A Washington dispatch states that on Saturday the U. S. gunboat Eutaw, without her armament, averaged 16 3-4 miles.

— Mr. Thackeray has left his two daughters £300 a year each, besides which he was worth about £10,000, and a fine house at Kensington.

— A private letter from Texas gives an account of the destruction of a rebel cotton clad gunboat near Port Cavallo, by the Sciota.

— George Francis Train, is reported to have declared himself in a speech recently delivered, "the best played-out man in the country."

— Last week some thief stole $800 from a desk in a minister's study at Eastport, Me., but was afterwards conscience stricken and left all the money, except $10, in a package on the minister's door step.

— The Ohio Legislature has adopted, by an almost unanimous vote, a series of resolutions expressive of the undiminished confidence and regard the people of Ohio still retain for Gen. Rosecrans.

— The reported sickness of the rebel Vice President (Stephens) is regarded in official circles as a blind to cover an open rupture with Jeff. Davis, and that he has abandoned the Richmond administration and all public conduct of the rebellion.

If it is not the boast, it is nevertheless true, of the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,—that it lives and pays in spite of government pap, instead of by it. But we notice that Bro. Miller is at last "in for a share," having received last week the flattering appointment of paymaster to the Governor's Horse Guards. Come, neighbor, be generous; pass the porridge, eh?—Rochester H. H. Courrier.

Yes, Br. Place, we are a little proud of the fact that this Chronicle has always stood on its own bottom and neither received nor desired the aid or support of any party, set or clique. And having lived and thrived without pap in its infancy, it is all the stronger therefor, we think—as long experience of others has so often proved. A paper which can't take care of itself, it would seem could hardly impart much strength, aid or comfort to others.

As to our re-appointment, or rather re-election, in the staff of the G. H. G., we trust we duly appreciate the honor. The "emoluments," which have so far been confined to disbursements on our part, we promise to share with Br. P. over a dish of bivalves, if he will give a day to his friends here at the sea shore.

By the way—we like the new Rochester Courier very much, and advise every live man in the town and county, to see to it that it is well sustained.

OLD MAGE.—When the 10th Maine regiment left Portland on Sunday, Oct. 5, 1861, they stopped at the depot in Portsmouth, N. H., about half an hour. They found there a large dog, which they "gobbled up" and put on board the train. The man that owned the dog tried to get him, but did not succeed. The animal kept with the regiment, and was with them through all their fights, and in the heat of battle was always in the front. At Jessup's Cut, Maryland, while with Company C, having a great antipathy to railroad cars generally—always barking and following the train—one day he was struck by the engine and was badly wounded. He came home with the regiment, and has remained with the Lewiston companies ever since. We saw him on Sunday following the regiment through the streets. He is recognized as the regimental dog, and cannot be coaxed from his position. He is now going out with the 29th on a three's year campaign, and we trust that he will return safe and sound. He wears a silver collar, appropriately inscribed, furnished by the regiment, of which he is the decided pet.—Portland Adv.

EASTERN RAILROAD COMPANY.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of this corporation was held at their passenger station in Boston on Monday forenoon, the President, Geo. M. Browne, in the chair.—The records of the last annual meeting were read by the clerk and approved. The annual report of the directors to the stockholders (an abstract of which has been published in the Chronicle,) was submitted in print, and after some discussion, accepted with but one dissenting voice.

Messrs. Stephen A. Chase of Salem, Wm. H. Rollins of Portsmouth, and Francis A. Hooper of Boston were appointed to receive, sort and count the ballots for Directors. They subsequently reported as follows: Whole number of votes, 3358; necessary for a choice, 1680; Geo. M. Browne, Samuel Hooper and Franklin Haven of Boston, and Micajah Lunt of Newburyport, had 3208 each; Benjamin E. Bates of Boston, Wm. L. Dwight of Portsmouth, and Henry L. Williams of Salem, had 3358 each; Augustus Archer, of Salem, had 50. And the first seven were declared elected. The meeting then dissolved.

☞ The complimentary dinner to Gen. Grant, at St. Louis, on Saturday evening, is said to have been a most brilliant affair. Major Generals Grant, Rosecrans and Schofield, Brigadier Generals Osterhaus, McNell, Bowen, Totten, Fisk and Gray, and a large number of colonels and officers of lower rank, and some twenty-five civilians were present. Speeches were made by most of the generals present and a number of citizens, but Gen. Grant with characteristic reticence, declined to extend his remarks beyond a mere return of thanks for the honor conferred.

☞ What an amount of suffering and disease among the volunteers would be prevented by the free use of Holloway's Pills and Ointment. For wounds, sores and scurvy, the Ointment is a certain cure, and for bowel complaints, fevers, small pox, &c., the Pills are the best medicine in the world. Only 25 cents per box or pot. 2211

Would you have sweet and healthy Bread, Biscuit, Cakes and Puddings? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. It takes less in quantity, will not make your Biscuits or Bread yellow, is a sure preventive to the decay of teeth, is perfectly healthy, and makes one-fifth more Bread and Buiscuit from a barrel of flour. Never use soda if you can procure this article. Try it. Most all good Grocers sell it.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Spear's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ty.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening last, it was voted that on and after that date all bills shall be approved by the chairman of the committee in which they originate.

In executive session the nomination of George J. Fernald for Street Commissioner was received from the Mayor, but the Board refused to concur.

The Board also refused to concur in the Mayor's nomination of Augustus Shackley as City Marshal. The Board re-nominated Emery A. Dresser, and voted to send the nomination to the Mayor, with the following petition which, signed by upwards of 100 citizens, had been previously presented:

To the Hon. Board of Mayor and Aldermen: GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, citizens and tax-payers of the city of Portsmouth, would earnestly recommend to your favorable consideration Emery A. Dresser as candidate for the office of City Marshal, believing that his appointment would be most satisfactory to a majority of the citizens, and promote the good order and welfare of the city.

The special committee in regard to the recent election of Members in Ward Three made the following report:—

To the Honorable Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Portsmouth:

The Committee to whom was referred the petition of Samuel W. French and Joshua Stackpole,—to "be admitted to seats in this Board, and recognized as members of it, in place of Abraham Q. Wendell and John E. Rider, who were declared elected, although they did not receive a majority of the legal votes, and the said petitioners did receive such a majority,"—submit the following report:—

That their investigation has not been as thorough as was intended, owing to the refusal of the Clerk of Ward No. 3 to furnish the Committee with the ballots used at the municipal election on the 24th day of Nov. A. D. 1863,—he having at first affirmed that they should have them, as they were and had been in his possession, under lock, since the evening of the election; and further, that he was willing to take oath that they had not since been examined by any person; and afterwards, in a communication of the same date, informed them that "the ballots, if preserved, were in the custody of the Moderator, and he had no control over them."

The evidence presented consists first, of 175 affidavits, sworn to before Justices of the Peace; second, reference to the certificates of the incumbents, and the favor of examining the check list while in the hands of the ward clerk. The incumbents declined presenting any evidence to the Committee, except the certificates of their election, averring that at a proper time they might offer some other; by which your Committee inter they were not deemed the proper tribunal.

By the check list used at said election, it appears that 336 persons voted; and by the certificates that "the whole number of separate tickets for Aldermen was 331—necessary for a choice 166—of which Abraham Q. Wendell had 177, and John E. Rider 175:" by declaration of the Moderator Messrs. French and Stackpole had 155 each; herein is a discrepancy of one vote, making whole number of separate tickets 332, and 167 necessary for the choice. The Committee are aware this is but a trivial error, but it might have been introductory to others, had they been permitted to recount and examine the ballots! over which the committee claim that the Moderator has no control after the declaration is made and the meeting dissolved.

From the affidavits it appears that 168 persons voted, for Aldermen, Samuel W. French and Joshua Stackpole, jointly and severally; and that one person voted for Samuel W. French, and one person voted for Joshua Stackpole, on separate ballots.

In addition to these affidavits, five voters have sworn that they voted a ticket given them by other persons, which was sworn upon oath of the persons who gave them, to be tickets with the names of said French and Stackpole as candidates for Aldermen upon them.

Without recovering this last number of five votes, and excluding all testimony therewith connected, it appears that Samuel W. French and Joshua Stackpole received 169 votes each.

It further appears on examination of the check list used on that occasion, that the persons giving the affidavits voted. Altogether 332 votes to have been cast for Aldermen, being one more than the certificates of the incumbents show, it would require for a majority 167 votes, being two less than it appears the contestants have received.

If we admit as evidence the other five affidavits, in relation to which there can be no doubt they were "bona fide" votes for the contestants, then they must have received 174 votes, instead of 155 each, as declared by the Moderator—being 7 more than was required for a choice.

In view of the evidence presented, and the oaths of so large a number of our own citizens and voters, than which nothing ought to be more sacred and inviolable, the Committee are of the opinion that Samuel W. French and Joshua Stackpole were duly elected Aldermen, and are entitled to seats as members, from Ward No. 3; but, inasmuch as the City Charter only provides that the Board shall be final judges of the election of its members, in "cases of an election to fill a vacancy," then there can be no doubt that it requires amendment to enable the Board to be judges of the election of its members in a general election. Therefore the committee are of the opinion that this Board have no jurisdiction in relation to the admission and recognition of Messrs. French and Stackpole as members; notwithstanding the evidence shows them to have received a majority, and the present incumbents a minority of the votes "given in."

The Committee respectfully submit the following Preamble and Resolution:—

WHEREAS, It having been satisfactorily shown to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Portsmouth, N. H., that Messrs. Samuel W. French and Joshua Stackpole, citizens and candidates for Aldermen in Ward No. 3, did receive a majority of the votes given in at the municipal election held Nov. 24th, A. D. 1863, and that the City Charter confers no jurisdiction in such cases, resulting from a general election; therefore,

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution, with the accompanying report, be furnished to our Representatives to General Court, to be convened at Concord, in the month of June next; requesting and urging them to cause such amendments to be made to the City Charter as shall enable this Board to be the final judges of the election of its members, in all cases; as has been conferred upon the Aldermen of the city of Nashua, as may be seen by reference to section 12 of said charter.

Respectfully,
JAMES C. BROWN
JOHN H. BROUGHTON } Committee.
CHAS. A. SHANNON
Jan. 28, 1864.

☞ On Thursday morning last, Messrs. S. Fry & Co., Carriage Makers, near Kittery depot, advertised in the Chronicle that a bay mare, with a sleigh and other articles, had been found by them. The horse, we understand, was left tied, by some person unknown, under their shed one evening, and still remained there the next morning. Those gentlemen accordingly took charge of the team, and advertised it as above.

On Monday, Officer Johnson, of this city, received hand-bills notifying him that Messrs. Sawyer & Jordan, of Portland, had lost such a team, it having been hired at their stable, on Tuesday, Jan. 26, by a young man, a stranger, who stated that he wished to go to Gorham, Me. Mr. Johnson accordingly, with his usual promptness, went to Kittery, and finding the team answered the description, took possession of it and notified the owners.

☞ Take them as a whole, we have been peculiarly fortunate in the soldiers stationed in this city and vicinity; their conduct in public places being generally such as to reflect credit on themselves and the cloth they wear. That the few deviations from such conduct are at once noticed, goes to prove the correctness of the rule. A trio of soldiers, whose manners had not been improved by an intimate acquaintance with beverages sold in Portsmouth, made a considerable confusion during the performance at the Temple on Friday evening last, and after the performance was over were rather roughly beset by a party of boys to whom they had made themselves obnoxious, and were fain to take refuge from their persecutors in a saloon, after receiving sundry striking reminders that such demonstrations as they had made in a place of public amusement would not be allowed to go unnoticed.

☞ Harlotry stalketh by noonday in our streets and the vultures throng our thoroughfares by night, seeking carrion whereon to fatten. If we must have such a corroding ulcer in our midst, let it ply its avocation within bounds and not flaunt its disgrace in the faces of decent people. The rumseller deals out his fluids within doors and the gambler veils his faro-table and sweat-cloth from the light of day; but neither in daylight nor in darkness are our public walks free from the taint of those whited sepulchres—street-walkers.

QUITE AN IMPROVEMENT—That new gaslight on State street, half-way between Middle and Summer streets—dispelling the darkness which has hitherto obscured that region.

☞ There is no man so hardened at heart as the habitual punster. One of this gentry, a few days since, speaking of the terrible disaster at the burning of the cathedral in Santiago, said he could see no great harm "in warming a few chilly ones."

☞ Quite a little excitement occurred in a house on Penhallow street, one evening last week; during which one brother struck another over the head with a teakettle, inflicting a severe wound. Crinoline is said to have been the promoting cause of the difficulty.

☞ Those who were present at the Temple on Friday or Saturday evening must have been excessively annoyed at the excessive noise and exceedingly bad behavior of the boys. In fact, this is getting to be quite characteristic of a Portsmouth audience, and we fear is not confined to boys of smaller growth alone. For the credit of our city let us have no more such disgraceful exhibitions of rowdyism.

S. J. COURT, Monday.—The court came in on Monday forenoon, when 30 new jurors were empanelled. Judge Bellows having left Exeter on account of sickness of one of his relatives, and Judge Bartell who was present, being obliged to leave to hold court at Concord on Tuesday, the court adjourned to Tuesday morning.—The jurors in attendance from Portsmouth were Chs. H. Mendum, Chs. Robinson, Jr., John E. Rider, and John E. Townsend; Albert Laighton, juror, not present.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effect of disease. What is remedial is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all hereditary DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation. Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strama, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, old and or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains so common. Iodide of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, such as

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and fellow creatures.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing lingering and troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from childhood to the age of twenty. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MORE PATCHES upon the Liver, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

Pain in the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

In Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food.—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1848. "Thereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and without a many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have payforit, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may28

EFFECT OF LIGHT.—A tadpole confined in darkness would never become a frog; and an infant being deprived of heaven's free light would only grow into a shapeless idiot, instead of a beautiful and reasonable being. Hence, in the deep dark gorges and ravines of the Swiss Valois, where the direct sunshine never reaches, the hideous prevalence of idiocy startles the traveler. It is a strange, melancholy idiocy. Many citizens are incapable of any articulate speech; some are deaf, some are blind, some labor under all these privations, and all are misshapen in almost every part of the body. I believe there is in all places a marked difference in the healthiness of houses according to their aspect with regard to the sun, and those are decidedly the healthiest, other things being equal, in which all the rooms are, during some part of the day, fully exposed to the direct light. Epidemic attack inhabitants on the shady side of the street, and totally exempt those on the other side; and even in epidemics such as ague, the morbid influence is often thus partial in its labors.—Dr. Moore.

— On an average, our navy has captured or destroyed three blockade runners or rebel craft every day since the war fairly commenced. The aggregate number was over 1100 on the 31st of October last, the date of the naval report.

— The New Haven papers report that a young Englishman, with a large scar on his cheek, was accepted and sworn in as a recruit at that city, the other day, who was a soldier in the Crimea and was one of the famous six hundred that made the charge at Balaklava.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a PRIVATE AND DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. Dr. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of generation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this dreadful disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which rules the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness and Head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, self-distrust, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capsules, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably cures the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of Diseases of Females and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all diseases and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extensive success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

A physician of long standing, who has been stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done on one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range now in use.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desired.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be supplied to either side, when needed.

In view of the great success we have been favored to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and comfort are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet introduced, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cut from heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for lifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, and we would rather in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating apparatus have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, rush off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The size or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot rise, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, into the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no Clinkers, for sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, to just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged. Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

DICKENS AND THACKERAY.—A writer in the January number of the Christian Examiner relates the following curious and suggestive incident:

"Charles Dickens sat in his chamber in London in the flush of the fame of his Pickwick Papers. He was preparing another story to be published, as all his great works were, in numbers, with illustrations. One day a man came in and said—'I have come, sir, to ask you to look at some sketches. I want to be the artist for your new book.' The young author glanced over them, and then said—kindly, we are sure—'I think you will not do.' The man went away; worked faithfully along both with pencil and pen; wrote little books, papers for public journals—whatever came in his way. Years passed; he was still known to those only that are familiar with the second rate names in London literary circles. One day he carried a great bundle of manuscript to a publisher, with proposals to print it. It was refused. Finally another ventured on it, and the world was suddenly full of wonder over the story of 'Vanity Fair.' The most popular author in Britain had from that day a divided kingdom.

— Eason Gardner of Kingston, R. I., a member of the 3d cavalry regiment of that State, while laboring under delirium tremens, committed suicide last Saturday evening at Camp Connanicut.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels report that our troops at Vicksburg are making preparations to move and occupy Jackson, and state that reinforcements have been sent to Vicksburg from Memphis. Gen. Sherman and staff also arrived there recently, and left in a gunboat which went down the river, accompanied by twelve transports.

Bragg, it is said, is about to take command of the State of Mississippi.

A dispatch from Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 31, states that an attack had probably already been made on Mobile. Hardee had previously reinforced it. The main rebel force in front of Chattanooga had undoubtedly left, and Gen. Palmer thinks they marched towards Longstreet for the purpose of invading Kentucky.

Gen. Schofield has been assigned to the command of the Department of Ohio, Gen. Foster having been relieved at his own request, and on account of his disability for service in the field, arising from wounds.

Richmond papers contain an account of the running ashore near Wilmington, Jan. 19, of the blockade runner Vesta, by her crew, with a valuable cargo of army supplies, including a splendid uniform for Gen. Lee, by his admirers in London. She was a new double screw steamer on the first voyage.

The Richmond Examiner has an editorial commencing—"the time has passed for offensive military operations on the part of the Southern army," and condemning the practice of conscripting the producing classes and "thrusting them into an unclad and unfed army."

Harrisberg, Pa., on Monday, was excited by fears of a raid by Imboden, who was reported to have crossed the Potomac three miles below Hancock.

☞ The U. S. House of Representatives on Monday passed the lieutenant-general bill by a vote of 96 against 41, having previously, by a vote of 111 against 17, adopted an amendment recommending General Grant to the position.

The bill provides that the grade of lieutenant general be revived in the army of the United States, and authorizes the President to appoint, by and with the consent of the Senate, a commander of the army, to be selected during the war from among those officers in the military service of the United States (not below the grade of major general) most distinguished for courage, skill and ability, and who, being commissioned as lieutenant-general, shall be authorized, under the direction of the President, to command the armies of the United States.

Nothing in this bill is to be construed in any way to affect the rank, pay or allowances of Winfield Scott, lieutenant general by brevet, now on the retired list of the army.

TRANSITIONS CAUSED BY THE WAR. A correspondent of the New York World, in a letter from Hilton Head, says that, like some of the old cities of the East, Beaufort seems to have outlived its time. It may be so in so far as Beaufort is hereafter to be the popular watering place of the chivalry, but it is falling into the hands of those who will give it a much more useful and important future. The writer says in his letter of the 22d instant:

"Some of the Beaufort mansions—formerly owned by wealthy rebels, and which have been confiscated because of their treason—have recently passed into the possession of others. Two days since a sale was ordered of these edifices, and during the auction of at least one of them, a circumstance occurred which is calculated to illustrate the great changes through which the nation is rapidly passing, and perhaps to illustrate in part the ultimate destiny of the South. At the auction there were a number of negroes, who have become comparatively wealthy by their labors since Hilton Head was occupied by our troops.

Some of them have received from twenty to thirty dollars a month, with rations, from speculators, and others have also made great gains by peddling different articles among the troops. These same they have frugally saved and there is an evident desire among some of them to acquire real estate. The house was knocked down to a colored man for fifteen hundred dollars. Thus one of the greatest revolutions of any age is being accomplished. Four years ago the negro buyer of this mansion might have been knocked down to any one desirous of giving fifteen hundred dollars for himself, and now, with the same sum, he is enabled practically to thrust out of his own house the proud lord of the soil who, perhaps, once bought and sold him."

☞ The N. Y. World's Washington dispatch says it is rumored in high official circles that we are on the eve of a war with France, growing out of the case of the Florida, Rappahannock and the other rams known to be building in France for the rebels. This may be taken for what it is worth.

GOV. GILMORE'S PROCLAMATION.

The General Government has determined to put down the Rebellion by the Fourth day of July next. By a Proclamation of the President of the United States it is

"Ordered, That a draft of 500,000 men to serve for three years, or during the war, be made on the 10th day of March next, for the military service of the United States, crediting and deducting therefrom so many as may have been enlisted or drafted into the service prior to the 1st day of March and not heretofore credited."

New Hampshire, having filled her quota under the call for 300,000 volunteers, will need to raise only her proportion of 200,000 men, in order to meet all demands upon her before the tenth of March. By telegram from the War Department I am informed that this call "is equivalent to a call for 200,000 men in addition to the 300,000 called for, October 17th, 1863." The quota of New Hampshire under this last call has not been officially announced, but will be, in round numbers, an advance of 67 per cent. on the quotas of each town as assigned under the call of October 17th, by circular from the Adjutant General's Office, bearing date November 9th. The whole number of men required of our State to meet the present call will not be far from 2000. A detailed statement of the additional men required from each town will be issued from the Adjutant General's Office as soon as possible.

Meanwhile I would urge upon the people of New Hampshire the importance of taking prompt and decisive measures to meet this new demand upon them. The Government bounties will not be paid after the first of March next; but till that time each fresh recruit will receive from the General Government $300.00; each man who has seen nine months service, $400.00. By the advice and with the consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby declare that the State bounty of $100.00 to soldiers enlisting in New Hampshire Regiments will continue to be paid up to March 10th, 1864.

In order to meet this new requisition I am authorized by the War Department to recruit the four companies of New Hampshire Cavalry which have recently been attached to the First R. I. Cavalry to a full Regiment which shall be known hereafter as the First New Hampshire Cavalry.—This affords the sons of New Hampshire an opportunity to enrol their names in a regiment which is to be made up of picked men and will doubtless be assigned to special service. An accomplished officer of the regular army has already been detailed by the War Department to assist in the organization of this Regiment.

Re-enlistments under the recent call from members of New-Hampshire Regiments which have seen two years service will be credited to the quota of their respective towns, or any other town which they may prefer within the limits of the same Congressional District. Each man re-enlisting from these old Regiments will receive $400.00 Government bounty and $100.00 State bounty, and have the privilege of spending 30 days with his family. Many members of the 2d, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of infantry, the Sharp-shooters and the N. H. Battery have already re-enlisted, and will be credited under this new call, as our quota of 3768 men under the call of Oct. 17th, 1863, was filled at home, without counting these re-enlistments.

The men from New Hampshire can be raised by volunteering, and I am determined they shall be. By filling up the New Hampshire Cavalry to its maximum and encouraging the hearty disposition of our glorious veterans to re-enlist we shall meet all requisitions upon us by the 1st of March. I am confident that we shall do this. There will never be another draft in the old Granite State. Her sons will rise in their might and like an avalanche from their icy hills sweep the last traces of armed treason into the Gulf of Mexico before another return of our great national anniversary. Only one more effort and the thing is done. JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

Concord, February 1, 1864.

IMPORTANT SUIT.—A suit against the Adams Express Company, in which A. Bland sought to recover from the Company $2,279, seized by Morgan's guerrillas, while being carried from Louisville to Nashville, has just been decided against the plaintiff in the Jefferson (Ky.) Circuit Court. The point involved was, that guerrillas are "public enemies," and that a common carrier is not responsible for goods seized by them.—Judge Muir's opinion says that the Southern rebellion had, long before the contract to carry Bland's money was made, transcended the bounds of a mere insurrection and had taken the shape of war;" and Morgan's guerrillas, being under the orders of the leaders of the rebellion, were public enemies; and that our Government has recognized this fact by treating rebels as belligerents—all of which the plaintiff knew. By a well understood rule of law "the acts of God or of public enemies" only can excuse carriers from repairing losses arising therefrom. The case will, it is said, be taken to the Court of Appeals. It is one of great importance.

— A Mr. Tisdale has an invention by which cars may be run on variously gauged roads. The wheels are so placed upon the axle that they are almost self-adjusting when a different gauge is encountered. A car, by this arrangement, recently went all the way from Boston to Chicago by the Grand Trunk and Michigan roads.

— A ragged looking fellow, before the New Orleans Provost Court for failing to report himself when he came within our lines, was asked if he did not wish to join our army. He replied, "No, fourteen months in the Confederate army has satisfied me with soldiering. I want to earn my living honestly hereafter, as I did before the war."

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humor. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENKINS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mar26

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, and derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. Local.

☞ An old lady, now visiting in this city, has a bed-cord made at Durham Point nearly fifty years ago, which has been in constant use ever since, and is to all appearance as good as new. It is homespun, made by hand from flax tow; first, like stocking yarn and doubled, by girls, then twisted on a crank like the windlass of a well, by a man.

LA RUE'S GREAT WAR SHOW.—This wonderful work of art attracted a large and select audience last night to the Temple, and seemed to delight, instruct and amuse the people more than any entertainment that has appeared in our city for a long time. The scenes presented are vivid and life-like, and the mechanism perfect in every respect. The drolleries of Whiston are irresistibly funny, while his changes of costume and characters were so rapid and complete, that the audience was nonplussed by the versatility of his talent. Go to the Temple to-night and every night this week, if you would spend an evening both pleasantly and profitably.

☞ The Newburyport Herald goes in for encouraging all the home manufacturing possible in a town; and thinks that the sooner the smaller old commercial cities in this region, give up all hopes and remembrances of their former commercial importance, the better. It says:

If there is not hostility in commercial circles towards manufacturing and the ordinary mechanic arts, there is great distrust of them. This is seen in the fact that a man with five thousand dollars capital can have more credit in building a ship than he could have with fifteen thousand if he wanted to establish a shoe factory, a machine shop, or any thing of that kind. It does not matter that we are told that Lynn, Haverhill and Springfield are having ten times our growth by these means. We don't like the smell of leather, and can't bear the sound of a trip hammer. A few days ago, when one of the most capable young men in the county, for some years in the shoe business, proposed to establish a factory for machine-sewed shoes, though he was of unquestioned integrity and ability, and had some capital of his own to invest—enough to have given credit for fifty thousand dollars in a ship—nobody could be found to take hold of that enterprise. It would have employed a larger number of men than all the ships owned here.

IS POULTRY PROFITABLE?—The Springfield Republican of Friday discusses this subject, and cites the experience of a gentleman of that city, who, from a lot of fifty two hens and five ducks, netted a total profit in six months, from January to July, of $21.96. The Boston Journal speaks of a friend who has kept, during the past three or four years, an average of twelve or fourteen hens. His yard is small, and the hens are kept shut up nearly the whole year round, and with the exception of what comes from the table he has bought all their food. The result of his experience for the three years has been as follows: Cost of keeping, $49.67. Eggs—crediting them at the market price—$79.47. The Springfield man credited his eggs at from 22 to 36 cents; our Boston friend credited his at from 20 to 25. There is no doubt but a few hens, well cared for, will pay well and keep a family constantly supplied with what is a real luxury—fresh eggs.

☞ Rev. Mr. Conway, in a recent number of the Commonwealth, says Victor Hugo, the author and patriot, is not only great hearted but wealthy. During the year he held a feast every fortnight for the poor children in his neighborhood. On Christmas last he got together forty children, giving them a fine dinner, besides presents.—The good man finds it impossible to be happy in the midst of suffering without trying to relieve it. The proverb says, "selfishness hoards itself poor: charity gives itself rich." We wish, for the sake of the suffering poor everywhere, there were more Victor Hugos.

☞ Mr. Havens, of the New York Senate, said in a speech last week, devoutly and in reverence of the Divine Government:—

The edict of liberty to a long oppressed and down-trodden race was first issued from the throne of God and reached the heart of Abraham Lincoln, the humble instrument of its execution, through a chain of events which infinite wisdom directed and controlled.

— Charles Richards, of the Corps D'Afrique, has been sentenced, by a judge in New Orleans, to twenty years at Tortugas, for showing disrespect to his superior officer.

A Richmond paper boasted a while ago that if the rebels ever caught Grant they would skin him alive. A flay-Grant operation, as yet unaccomplished.—Post.

— Barque Jenny Ford, while going out of San Francisco harbor on Sunday, was wrecked, and twenty persons drowned.

— A mysterious steamer was seen off Nantucket on Monday afternoon.

Quilp, demanding to know why the carpet ordered a month ago had not been sent him, was informed by the clerk that it had been "delivered." "If that is so," said Quilp, "it certainly is a miscarriage."—Post.

☞ Some of the members of the Corps d'Afrique are behaving rather badly, so that their new found liberty is being taken from them by the Provost Court of New Orleans. Robert Richards, for assaulting and threatening to kill one of his non-commissioned officers, sentenced to labor ten years at Tortugas, with ball and chain; Wm. Harris, for getting drunk, leaving camp without a pass, and threatening to shoot the doctor of the regiment, hard labor at Tortugas for fifteen years, with ball and chain; Harvey Flemming, for leaving his post as picket guard and robbing defenceless women, hard labor for life at Tortugas, with ball and chain; and so the record goes on.

A CURIOUS LIBEL SUIT.—A curious libel suit, growing out of a bar-room altercation, was tried in New York last week.—A man named Sandford J. Dockstader, it appears, being thirsty, went into the drinking saloon of William Mitchell, in Prince street, and asked for a drink of water. The bar-keeper handed Dockstader a glass, when the latter refused to drink out of it, on the ground that it was dirty. This irritated Mitchell, and an altercation ensued in reference to the duties of landlords generally. In the course of the argument Mitchell lost his temper and called Dockstader a thief, and for applying this epithet he was sued for slander. The jury did not attach much importance to the matter, however, for they agreed upon a verdict of six cents damages before they had been out ten minutes.

☞ Senator Trumbull's report from the Judiciary Committee of the facts connected with the release of James M. Hunt from the Old Capitol Prison, and the connection of Senator Hale therewith, declares that the employment of the latter was purely professional, and that he violated no law in accepting a fee for the defence of Hunt before any Court, civil or military, or even for endeavoring to procure his discharge from prison. It is held illegal in the report to accept compensation for the prosecution of claims or for obtaining contracts or offices, or for transacting business in the several departments of the Government, but not for accepting fees for services in Judicial bodies.

☞ The Greenboro' (N. C.) Patriot gives these items:

The ladies of Mobile, in keeping with the fertility of resources and the untiring industry that has immortalized their sex during the war, are making stockings from carpet ravelings. They are a little heterogeneous in color, but not a whit less warm for that, and will be most acceptable to the soldiers, or to those who need them at home.

A correspondent says: Longstreet is a perfect bull-dog. He knows nothing and cares nothing about flank movements, and things of that kind. He knocks away all the time square at the centre, and can whip any army in the world, if he has men enough to fight until he gets tired of it.

☞ The comet discovered by Prof. Watson on the 10th of January is now visible to the naked eye, as a faint nebulosity, in the constellation Cassiopeia. It has a tail about three degrees long, which can be seen with a telescope. It will remain visible to the naked eye for a few nights only, being now on its way back into the celestial spaces.

☞ What an amount of suffering and disease among the volunteers would be prevented by the free use of Holloway's Pills and Ointment. For wounds, sores and scurvy, the Ointment is a certain cure, and for bowel complaints, fevers, small pox, &c., the Pills are the best medicine in the world. Only 25 cents per box or pot. 221

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

IMPORTANT.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Sarsaparilla in markets is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medical Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we observfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are invited to try Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply—

In health, the body like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP!

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and (with the exception of all hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in this fearful form of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Scrofulous, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritis), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a specific, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, cases, citrus or rheumatism, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman, will this medicine prove an inestimable "blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Blotches, Pimples, &c.

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These can be speedily recovered by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Hectic Fever, Dropsy of the Limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of similar nature.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Company, Dizziness, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose, Throat, Legs, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a disorganization of the Liver, are very unpleasant for the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an enlarged or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from Diseases of a delicate nature, which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and makes easy and easier the toilsome hour which have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

SOLDIERS' LETTERS.

The mail! The mail!
And embarrassed cheeks and eager eyes
Come crowding round the Captain's tent,
Each outstretched hand receives the prize
For fond perusal meant.
Unless distressing news be told,
These letters naught of pain convey,
For friends at home will never scold
The lad that's far away.

The mail! The mail!
And toil-stained palms are closing there—
(How rough! how very roughly moulded!)—
On dainty missives, fresh and fair,
By lily fingers folded.
For kindly thoughts pursue the youth
Who battles with his country's foe,
Nor soiled stripe, nor guise uncouth
Prevents their genial flow.

The mail! The mail!
A father's words of pride and cheer;
A mother's trembling admonition;
A sister's blessing—oh, how dear!
A brother's generous wishing.
And many missives frank and bright,
From early friend and neighbor boy;
Each page a volume of delight—
A brimming cup of joy.

The mail! The mail!
And stillness rules the boisterous throng,
And "silence half an hour" reigns.
The Heaven of those who wait so long
The coming of the mails.
Each with his own, and these alone,
No soldier seeks to play the spy,
And letters, wheresover thrown,
Are safe from every eye.

☞ At a recent trial in Saco, Me., Judge Kent, while delivering his charge to the jury, said, "The prisoner pleads intoxication, having purchased liquor of Life Jones at North Berwick. If the liquor vended by said Jones were so miserable as to cause the prisoner to commit such a heinous offence as the indictment shows, he might not inappropriately be named Death Jones!"

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into any American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent issued since 1836, sent for ONE DOLLAR. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given, have been made to MOLD AGAINST US. AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of this office during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted of the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the greatest care and ability bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made no fewer rejected applications SEVEN APPEALS EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and the same time saved.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and comfort are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and air iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the ashes and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about renovating their dwelling buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The smoke pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the new clock. The Chronicle.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every sim fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

GOOD NIGHT.

Ye soft blue eyes, good night, good night!
Now gently closed to sweetest dreams;
That ye may ope so clear and bright,
To greet the morning's golden beams—
Ye soft blue eyes, good night, good night!

Ye sweet red lips, good night, good night!
When in the heavens the stars appear
Closed like the shells in shade bright;
That silent hour—it now draws near,
So, sweet red lips, good night, good night!

Oh; thou loved face, good night, good night!
Whilst still thy beauty is awake
Ah! who could think on the day's broad light?
Thy hallow'd slumbers none shall break.
Thou dear loved face, good night, good night!

WATCH, WATCH, MOTHER.

Mother watch the little feet
Climbing o'er the garden wall,
Bounding through the busy street,
Ranging cellar, shed and hall;
Never count the moments lost,
Never mind the time it cost;
Little feet will go astray—
Guide them, mother, while you may.

Mother, watch the little hand
Picking berries by the way,
Making houses in the sand,
Toying on the freshest day.
Never dare the question ask
"Why to me this weary task?"
These same little hands may prove Messengers of light and love.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate victims of debilities that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Urethral Stricture, Gleet, Seminal Weakness, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Painful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth; are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow is also for sale with remedies Capotten, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 6 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Post states that Gen. Gilmore will come North in about two weeks. He is now at Hilton Head and everything in his Department has settled down into the old routine. Several of the best regiments of his command have been sent elsewhere and others are preparing to follow.

Gov. Smith, of Virginia, has made a call for five thousand male slaves to work on batteries, to be drawn from fifty counties.

The Harrisburg scare was groundless.—The rumor that Imboden had crossed the Potomac was a canard.

From Fortress Monroe we have intelligence of a disastrous Union expedition up James river on the 31st of January. It consisted of 90 men with one howitzer, and landed at Smithfield. Five miles from there they encountered 200 rebels with two pieces of artillery, and routed them.—But owing to false statements of a heavy force beyond, returned to Smithfield and sent for an armed transport. On Monday, while intrenched, they were attacked by 500 rebels, with 4 pieces of artillery, but held out against several furious attacks and charges, repulsing the rebels with heavy loss. On the arrival of the transport our troops retreated on board, when the rebels opened a fire of artillery, and a ball struck her boiler and disabled her. Only 12 of our men including Capt. Lee, their commander, escaped by swimming the river; the rest were killed or captured. The enemy's loss in killed and wounded was 150, owing to their superior numbers and making the attack. Soon after the capture of the transport she was blown up with a tremendous explosion.

Advices from Memphis state that the 16th Army corps was preparing for a movement to attack the rebels in Mississippi and secure large stores of corn and forage on the railway to Mobile. Some 12,000 cavalry were concentrated at Corinth to participate in this movement.

A letter from Hilton Head says operations against Charleston have virtually ceased. Batteries continue to be erected on Morris Island; their guns, however, are silent. Gen. Gilmore goes to Washington to represent affairs between himself and Admiral Dahlgren.

The N. Y. World's New Orleans letter of the 26th has a report of an unimportant rebel dash into Baton Rouge. Gen. Banks continued to send troops over Lake Ponchartrain as fast as they came in from the Teche. All parties agree that Mobile is to be attacked by land and water. All is quiet in Texas and on the Teche.

Col. Mulligan on Tuesday morning drove the enemy from Burlington and Morfield Junction, in Western Virginia, and reoccupied those places. The rebels have been active on the upper Potomac, and endeavoring to destroy the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. On Tuesday they captured one company left as guard at a bridge, but Gen. Averill overtook them, routed them, and killed, wounded or captured a large number, besides releasing our own men. The road is now clear.

THE RIOTERS IN THE PENNSYLVANIA COAL REGION.—The Military Commission to try the conspiracies in the Pennsylvania coal districts against the Government, has commenced at Reading, and the first of the prisoners, Philip Bergman of Hazelton, has been tried. Sufficient evidence has been adduced to prove that a formidable secret organization existed, and perhaps still exists, in that neighborhood, in the interests of the Rebellion. Several of the murderers of G. K. Smith and Langdon are now in Fort Mifflin, to be handed to the civil authorities for trial in June next. There are a large number of witnesses—nearly one hundred. The other prisoners will be tried by the Military Commission.

— The U. S. steamer Ticonderoga and Sacramento are to go on the Wilmington or Charleston blockade.

— The U. S. steamer Union, Jan. 14, captured the rebel steamer Mayflower in Sarasota Pass, Florida, loaded with cotton.

— Doctors disagree, but they ought not to. Their legitimate business is to find out what disagrees with their patients.

— A lady fell into the hold of a new ship at Bath, Me., a distance of fifteen feet, on Saturday afternoon, but was not seriously injured.

— 500 rebel prisoners at Point Lookout have been enlisted in the U. S. service.—About 3000 more have petitioned to be allowed to take the oath under the amnesty proclamation.

— The Second Methodist Episcopal Church, St. Paul's, in Lynn, Mass., was set on fire by an incendiary early Sunday morning, but it was extinguished with little damage. This Society's church was burned four or five years ago, and the present one has only been recently completed at a cost of $14,000

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

BOSTON, Feb. 1st, 1864.

Editor Chronicle:—We have had no veterans to receive the past week, the only regiment that has arrived being about 250 of the 21st Mass., who arrived at Worcester on Sunday evening: to-day they will have a formal reception, and will be received by Col. Clark of the Governor's Staff. This regiment was stationed at Annapolis, Md., at the time the 3d N. H. arrived there from Washington in October, 1861, and gave the N. H. boys a cordial reception.

300 rebel prisoners from Chicago, having enlisted in the navy, were brought to this city last night guarded by the Ellsworth Zouaves, and were carried direct to the Navy Yard. We hope to have an exhibition of the drill of the "Zou Zous" in Boston, ere they return to the West; their matchless skill and celerity in military manœuvres under their former noble commander is still held in lively remembrance by those Bostonians who witnessed their performance just previous to the breaking out of this rebellion.

127 recruits were obtained in Boston last week—a slight improvement on the previous week, Ward 11 procuring their usual number of 50: this Ward is at the South End, where many of our richest and most public-spirited men reside, and they are not going to be subject to a draft. They have obtained 228 recruits in all. Ward 6 comes next with 137: this is the aristocratic West End Ward, including our Beacon street and Mt. Vernon street nabobs.—They have invested a large amount of cash in negro recruits from Pennsylvania. In these two wards a draft may be avoided, but in the remainder of the city it is inevitable, as they are far behind, and with the addition of this last call of Feb. 1st there will be a very large deficiency to make up.

John W. Mitchell who stabbed John Hathorne on the 30th of Dec. in Prince street, was found guilty of manslaughter in the Superior Criminal Court on Friday, and on Saturday was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and be imprisoned in the common jail for one year. Mitigating circumstances and a recommendation from the jury for mercy caused this light sentence.—I wrote you an account of this affair at the time it occurred.

Edwin Forrest commences an engagement at the Boston Theatre to night. The enterprising manager, Mr. Marshall, will find Forrest a paying card for Boston audiences. A successful run of the Italian Opera has just been closed at this theatre. Forrest's nights will be Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. At the Howard Atheneum we have the English Opera by the Ritchings troupe, not drawing so full houses as the company would like to see.—At the Tremont and Museum the "Ticket of Leave Man" is the great card. The play as presented by the Museum company is generally preferred. Mr. Shewell, who takes the leading part, is an easy, natural actor, and is well sustained by the company. No more quiet and orderly place of amusement than the Museum can be found in the city. I noticed while present at an entertainment last week, that a supernumerary appeared before the curtain to remove a carpet and traversed the length of the stage without a call of "supe" from any person in the audience, something I never witnessed in any other theatre. Mr. E. F. Keach, acting and stage manager of the Museum, died yesterday of consumption, at his residence in Charlestown. His long connection with this establishment has made him universally known, and the number of his personal friends in this city is larger than any other actor, Warren excepted of course, for everybody knows Warren and only knows to like him.

Mr. Bigelow, of the firm of Bigelow Bros. & Kennard, has gone to Washington as a representative from the jewellers of this city, to endeavor to have the tax on precious stones lessened or removed. It is hoped this movement will not succeed. If we are to have taxes, what better article can there be to be taxed? The poor have taxes enough already, and those who want to wear silks and laces and satins should be made to pay for them, and the tax on necessary articles be reduced.

I am glad to see that Col. Webber of Manchester is about to become a citizen of Portsmouth. He is a wide awake, energetic, public spirited man. His speech in the late Republican Convention, at Concord, was the best one made there. Half a dozen such men as he would wake up dead-and-alive old Portsmouth, and make something out of her in spite of herself.

Col. Jackson, of the 3d N. H. Regt., arrived at Morris Island Jan. 20th, and was heartily received by the members of the regiment. The voyage improved his health somewhat, as he had a pleasant passage. The new commissions for the regiment had not arrived, but were anxiously expected. Twelve of Co. D, composed of men from Portsmouth and Hampton, had re enlisted, two of them from Portsmouth—Corporal James Plaisted and Joseph Moore. Orderly Sergt. Tredick having been commissioned as 2d lieutenant, Corpl. Plaisted will probably be promoted to orderly. Wm. Parks of Portsmouth has been sent to hospital in New York. Mr. Frank Lord, of Co. B, now on duty in the Adjt. General's office in Concord, has been appointed sergeant major of the 3d. David Wardsworth, Jr., 1st lieutenant, is promoted to captain, and Daniel R. Gilbert, formerly a corporal of Co. K, has been commissioned 1st lieutenant in the 3d. J. T. M.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Lieut. Col. John F. Marsh of the 12th regiment, has received the appointment of Lt. Col. in the Invalid Corps.

—— Rev. E. W. Clark, of Newton Centre, Mass., has received and accepted a call to the pastorate of the Congregational Church in Claremont.

—— Capt. Ben. Hutchins, of the 6th regular cavalry, has been appointed by Gov. Gilmore Lieut. Col. of the 1st N. H. Cavalry. Capt. H. belongs in Concord, and has obtained leave to accept the new position.

—— A pastor of one of the churches in Carroll county, in presenting to his congregation some of the incidents of his labors during the last year, remarked, "I have preached during the year 108 sermons, attended 100 social meetings, performed the burial services for 40 of my fellow beings, united 8 couples in marriage, and paid 232 visits to the sick."

—— John Taylor, Esq., died in North Salem, Jan. 21, in the 76th year of his age. He was a native of Lancashire, England.—He left eight sons and daughters, who, with their partners and a large number of his twenty-eight grandchildren, attended the funeral. He had lived more that half a century in marriage, and was the first of his immediate family to pass from earth.—An upright and useful man, he enjoyed the respect of all who knew him.

—— Joseph True Lake, of Chichester, has a son known there as the New Hampshire Giant, or Chichester Fat Boy. He was 12 years old on the 27th day of last November—is 5 ft. 6 in. high, and weighs 340 lbs. He has good health, sleeps soundly, and eats twice as much food as an ordinary man, preferring vegetables to meats. At the time of his birth, his father was 20 years old, and his mother 18. His father weighs 175 pounds, and his mother 105.—Neither of his parents belong to families noted for large size. They have had five children younger than the fat boy, all of whom are of medium size.

—— A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror states that as one of our N. H. Battery boys, at home on a furlough, was passing up street from the depot, Thursday, a man of the copperhead variety, who was standing talking with a group of gentlemen, remarked: "There goes one of Lincoln's cut-throats." The soldier turned and asked him what he said, but received no reply. On asking him, "Did you say I was a cut-throat?" the fellow replied, "Yes;" which was no sooner uttered than the soldier slapped him smartly with the hand, pronouncing him a coward, &c., which was too much for the citizen, who, drawing off his coat, "stepped out" to meet the man in Uncle Sam's uniform, and was the next moment in the gutter, "caved in," and the soldier, bidding him good morning, passed on.

— Gen. McDowell and Gen. Keyes have been in Boston during the present week.

— France consumed $43,225,000 worth of tobacco last year.

— Fifty-two lottery-policy dealers were arrested in Philadelphia on Tuesday.

— The son of the Prince of Wales is to be called Albert.

— An English lady has been fined £20 for giving a recommendation to a servant girl who was dishonest.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

HEALTH FOR THE SOLDIER.—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to night air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man. Only 25 cents per box. 22

BE WISE IN TIME.—'Tis madness to defer, sings the poet Young. It would be well if persons who are afflicted with apparently incurable ulcers, old sores, erysipelas, and obstinate skin eruptions would not daily with expensive doctors, but use Grace's celebrated Salve, which is the best remedy extant for flesh wounds of all kinds, burns, scalds, boils, felons, salt rheum, sore breasts, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, &c. In summer it removes tan and freckles, and is an admirable cosmetic. 25 cents a box.

IMPORTANT.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—for it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOW'D.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. * mar26

Every offer must be accompanied (as directed in the Act of Congress making appropriation for the Naval Service for 1846-7, approved 10th August, 1846,) by a written guaranty, signed by one or more responsible persons, to the effect that he or they undertake that the bidder or bidders will, if his or their bids be accepted, enter into an obligation, within five days with good and sufficient sureties, to furnish the articles proposed. NAVAL.—The United States steam frigate Colorado arrived at this port Wednesday evening, from the blockading fleet off Mobile, Ala., where she has been the flagship of that station for the past year. She left there Jan. 8th, and came by way of Southwest Pass, Mississipi River, which place she left on the 16th, and Key West the 23d.

She reports having left eight of our most efficient gunboats guarding the entrance to Mobile Bay, from which but few attempts are now made by vessels to run out, and they always result in capture.

The officers and men attached to the fleet are all enjoying excellent health.

The Colorado brings home all of her crew and those of other vessels in the fleet whose term of service has expired. They will be paid off, and the ship will probably be put out of commission, to undergo repairs, &c.

While at Key West, the officers of the Colorado partook of the hospitalities extended to them by Acting Rear Admiral Bailey, commanding East Gulf Squadron, at that place.

Appended, we give a complete list of the officers of the Colorado:

Commodore—H. K. Thatcher.
First Lieutenant—H. W. Miller.
Second Lieutenant—B. F. Day.
Assistant Surgeons—Matthew Chalmers, A. W. H. Hawkins.
Paymaster—W. H. H. Williams.

☞ In the window of Mr. Bodge's jewelry store, we notice an Eagle—about the darkest and handsomest specimen of that noble bird we ever saw, we think. [Mr. Bodge, the spectacle man, we refer to—and this is not the only inviting spectacle to be seen in his neat and well-arranged store, by a great sight. But Bodge isn't very fond of birds of passage, of a particular sort, if we recollect aright.] However, this sample of "Jove's own eagle," was shot sometime since, at Newington, by Rev. Samuel Hoyt, [too bad, Elder, for so loyal a man as you, to bring even a symbol or emblem of our Union to the ground,] and was procured by Mr. John M. Lord of this city, for whom it has been preserved and set up in the best and most life-like manner, by Mr. Chas. G. Brewster, of the Boston Natural History Store. This fine bird was intended by Mr. Lord, as a present to the Boston Sanitary Fair; but could not be completed in time.

☞ We have before us the manuscript "Constitution and Records of the Rockingham Sacred Music Society." The record begins with March, 1813, Hosea Hildreth, Secretary, and closes with May, 1821, Henry Jackson, Secretary. The list of members includes many men of eminence in the County, as musical, literary and professional men. Four of the surviving members now reside in this city, viz: Benjamin Akerman, James Bartlett, James F. Shores and John Knowlton. The first three, with Nathaniel T. Moulton, were among the original members.

In 1814, a committee was raised to revise and correct the Village Harmony, for the purpose of rendering it a standard book of this society.

They used to hold quarterly meetings, for rehearsal; and at the annual meetings, they voted in 1813, to have a collation, "but no use shall at those times be made of wine or ardent spirits."

☞ We learn that James N. Tarlton, Esq., has contracted with Mr. John Neal to build a new ship of about the same size and model of the Piscataqua, to be commanded by Capt. Thos. M. Weeks, who will be part owner.

☞ The U. S. screw steamer Sacramento, built at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, went to sea from Charlestown on Tuesday.

THE STRATOPATETICON, now on exhibition at the Temple, affords a most pleasant opportunity to pass a leisure evening. The paintings are well executed,—some of them indeed being admirable in tint and perspective; while the moving figures are something novel, eliciting the heartiest applause of the audience, mingled occasionally with shouts of laughter as some comical movement excites Young America. Whiston, too, does not serve to "fill up the pauses," but gives a performance of his own, most acceptable to his hearers.

A full house greeted them last evening, on their second appearance.

THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

A PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency Joseph A. Gilmore,
Governor of the State of New Hampshire.

The General Government has determined to put down the Rebellion by the Fourth day of July next. By a Proclamation of the President of the United States it is

"Ordered, That a draft of 500,000 men to serve for three years, or during the war, be made on the 10th day of March next, for the military service of the United States, crediting and deducting therefrom so many as may have been enlisted or drafted into the service prior to the 1st day of March and not heretofore credited."

New Hampshire, having filled her quota under the call for 300,000 volunteers, will need to raise only her proportion of 200,000 men, in order to meet all demands upon her before the tenth of March. By telegram from the War Department I am informed that this call "is equivalent to a call for 200,000 men in addition to the 300,000 called for, October 17th, 1863." The quota of New Hampshire under this last call has not been officially announced, but will be, in round numbers, an advance of 57 per cent. on the quotas of each town as assigned under the call of October 17th, by circular from the Adjutant General's Office, bearing date November 9th. The whole number of men required of our State to meet the present call will not be far from 2000. A detailed statement of the additional men required from each town will be issued from the Adjutant General's Office as soon as possible.

Meanwhile I would urge upon the people of New Hampshire the importance of taking prompt and decisive measures to meet this new demand upon them. The Government bounties will not be paid after the first of March next; but till that time each fresh recruit will receive from the General Government $300.00; each man who has seen nine months service, $400.00. By the advice and with the consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby declare that the State bounty of $100.00 to soldiers enlisting in New Hampshire Regiments will continue to be paid up to March 10th, 1864.

In order to meet this new requisition I am authorized by the War Department to recruit the four companies of New Hampshire Cavalry which have recently been attached to the First R. I. Cavalry to a full Regiment which shall be known hereafter as the First New Hampshire Cavalry.—This affords the sons of New Hampshire an opportunity to enrol their names in a regiment which is to be made up of picked men and will doubtless be assigned to special service. An accomplished officer of the regular army has already been detailed by the War Department to assist in the organization of this Regiment.

Re-enlistments under the recent call from members of New-Hampshire Regiments which have seen two years service will be credited to the quota of their respective towns, or any other town which they may prefer within the limits of the same Congressional District. Each man re-enlisting from these old Regiments will receive $400.00 Government bounty and $100.00 State bounty, and have the privilege of spending 30 days with his family. Many members of the 2d, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of infantry, the Sharp-shooters and the N. H. Battery have already re-enlisted, and will be credited under this new call, as our quota of 3768 men under the call of Oct. 17th, 1863, was filled at home, without counting these re-enlistments.

The men from New Hampshire can be raised by volunteering, and I am determined they shall be. By filling up the New Hampshire Cavalry to its maximum and encouraging the hearty disposition of our glorious veterans to re-enlist we shall meet all requisitions upon us by the 1st of March. I am confident that we shall do this. There will never be another draft in the old Granite State. Her sons will rise in their might and like an avalanche from their icy hills sweep the last traces of armed treason into the Gulf of Mexico before another return of our great national anniversary. Only one more effort and the thing is done.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are freely cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that disease can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all hereditary DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerated Neck, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), dilutes life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is specific, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Gleet, chronic or virulent, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains, which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should it be the cause of a female swelling, instructed, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which often depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. Those cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will cure, and yet a fair trial should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra efforts. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Insanity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Disagreeable Countenance and Languor of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion and remove the disgust which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an obstructed or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy man and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay, but procure the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES It is the safest and most efficacious medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens the mother and child, it prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

Morning Chronicle.

FOWLER ON OUR GENERALS.—Fowler is delivering lectures on Phrenology in Boston. A reporter for the Portland Press gives the following view of one lecture:—

In his lecture upon "Our Generals," which was fully illustrated with portraits, he gave some proofs of the truth of his science, showing from the formation of their heads their marked characteristics, and verifying them from well known history. Many of those heads he had examined personally.—He considered Gen. Grant our best military men, and spoke most highly of Banks, Butler, Siegel, Doubleday and others, and finally brought forward the portrait of Gen. McClellan. There was a faint attempt at applause, and the speaker went on to say that the father of George B. McClellan and himself were "old cronies," as he expressed it; that he often came into his office to listen to his examinations; and when, once on a time, the lad George was home from West Point, the father brought his two sons to have their characters phrenologically descanted upon. Says Mr. Fowler:—

"I remember all the circumstances as if it were but yesterday, and I remember the train of reasoning that then passed through my mind. 'Never,' with great emphasis, 'Never, in all my life, had I found such an inordinate development of the organ of 'caution' as in the head of George B. McClellan! I also found the propelling faculties, combativeness and destructiveness, small, and I thought to myself, what is the sense or reason of sending such a natural coward to West Point? But then I reasoned that there would probably never be any war to call for military genius, and West Point might as well educate the cowards as any other institution."

He said that his life had only proved his early convictions, and referring to the great Seven Days' Battle, related that a personal friend was then in Richmond, and the plan of battle was well known. Lee said, "I know McClellan to be a natural coward, and if I draw every available man from Richmond, and hurl our whole force upon his right wing, he will not dare to move his left!" He did so, and proved that he truly did know his adversary; for, though McClellan could have swung his left wing right over Richmond, he only sent forward a corporal's guard to reconnoitre, and the golden opportunity was passed by.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which lightens them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large part of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall.!!

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

A POPULAR FALLACY.—The Boston letter in the Round Table, in speaking of the forthcoming new edition of "The American Loyalists," states that Mr. Sabine retracts an allegation in his first issue, that New England soldiers fought in South Carolina in the Revolution, and says that the closest investigation does not reveal that New England troops marched south of Virginia. So contrary has been the belief, that the spokesman of the reception tendered Mr. Webster at Charleston referred to such northern heroes mouldering beneath their sods, and Mr. Webster himself repeated a like oratorical flourish both at Charleston and Savannah. — Boston Transcript.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION CATCHING.—We learn from Galignani's (French) Messenger, that so stupid are the lower orders of the United States that they hesitated to take the journals containing the President's message from the post office, fearing that they might catch the small pox, under which the writer of the message was reported to be suffering.

Wendell Phillips stated in Boston, as a fact within his knowledge, that the President regarded the Proclamation of Freedom as a failure, and regretted that he had issued it. These were not his exact words, but the fair interpretation of them. The falsity of Mr. Phillips's statement is clearly expressed in the dignified letter of William Whiting, Esq., to the London News, which will be found on the fourth page.—Boston Transcript.

Punch says he never could see that Canada was of much benefit to England; for all the mother country ever got from those provinces was wars, fights and rows—except the Canadian boat song, and even that commences, "Row, brothers, row."

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest siblings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all disease incident to it female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels continue to strengthen their position at Wilmington, N. C.

Gen. Rawlins reports that on the 24th ult. the forces under Col. Phillips drove Roddy to the south side of the Tennessee River, captured all his teams, consisting of over 20 mule teams, 200 head of cattle, 600 heads of sheep and about 100 horses and mules, and destroyed a factory and mill, which had largely supplied him.

From Newbern, N. C., we learn that early on the morning of the 1st, our outposts at Bachelor's Creek were attacked by the rebels, it is said 15,000 strong, and fell back after destroying their camps and abandoning a few stores and a section of heavy artillery which may be recovered,—besides losing from 50 to 100 men. A simultaneous advance on the south side of the Trent was repulsed. There is a large rebel force at Kingston, probably anticipating an attack. Several expeditions of Union troops have recently been sent out in different directions, and have made large captures of stores, etc.

Our troops are pursuing the rebels who made the raid on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and a fight occurred near Romney, on Tuesday night, in which the rebels were compelled to retreat, with the loss of a number of prisoners.

COLONEL SHAW.—In her recent lecture at Chicago, in aid of the Old Ladies' Home, Grace Greenwood related the following incident of her travels in Europe:

She remembered riding in a carriage, by the borders of the Mediterranean, with an intimate friend by her side. They talked of the ancient heroes of Rome. In this connection her friend spoke of her own brave boy, who was receiving his education in Switzerland, and who, she said, was the light of her eyes. She knew that he would grow up with every advantage, and have plenty of friends. With more than Roman virtue, she hoped he would devote himself to the service of his country and to freedom. Since that time she had often thought of that conversation, for the young man referred to was Col. R. G. Shaw, one of the heroes of Fort Wagner.

THE SOLDIERS' VOTE.—The Concord Patriot of Feb. 3, says:—

The old members of the 6th regiment, having re-enlisted, have come home on a furlough of thirty days, to be extended probably until after our election. They arrived here on Saturday afternoon, and were provided with a dinner at Phenix Hall, by the State authorities. They number a little less than two hundred.

In another article in the same paper, the Patriot says:—

The Republicans evidently depend upon "foreign aid" to carry the election in this State. First, the money and soldiers of the Government are to be brought into requisition; and then speakers from abroad.

Unless our memory deceives us, (says Uncle Toby,) we were told again and again some time ago, that a majority of the soldiers were Democrats;—and we were also told by the same paper, that they had no objection to the soldiers voting in the camps if a few vote could be secured there.—Later, we had an opinion of our State Bench that our soldiers could not vote in camp (out of the State,)—and now when they come back again where they can vote, the Patriot puts them under the head of "foreign aid."

Bot: 1. A very large majority of the Democratic soldiers are not Copperheads.—2. No good reason can be given why our citizen soldiers should not vote. 3. We don't see how they are foreign aid. And, 4. If all our old soldiers should happen to be at home about town-meeting time, and should vote as they pleased, Gov. Gilmore would probably get three quarters of their votes. That's what's the matter. U. T.

☞ Three hundred and four plans of new railways in England are now before the public, and soon will be before Parliament, whose officers fatten on the fees paid by the applicants and promoters. The establishment charges of the House of Commons for applications amount to about $370,000 per annum. Of these the railway companies pay the largest proportion.

— The gunboat Eutaw has been ordered to join the blockading fleet off Wilmington.

— There is a coolness between Pope Pius and the Emperor Napoleon.

— It is said that Danvers, Mass., has filled its quota under the very latest call of the President.

— On Jan. 14, the Union cot out and captured the Confederate steamer Mayflower in Sarasota Pass, coast of Florida.—She was loaded with cotton.

— The Tribune's Washington dispatch has a rumor that Mr. Dayton will shortly be recalled from France, and Gen. Fremont appointed to succeed him.

— Considerable excitement prevails at Paris, Illinois, in consequence of an anticipated attack on the returned soldiers by the "Butternuts" in that vicinity. The citizens of Paris have telegraphed to Terre Haute for aid.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A recruiting office for the Naval service has been opened in Dover.

—— The February term of the Supreme Judicial Court commences in Dover on Tuesday, Feb. 8. Judge Bartlett is expected to preside.

—— The store owned by J. S. Tufts in Plymouth was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning. Loss $16,000: insured for $11,000 —— In the S. J. Court at Manchester, the jury have returned a verdict of murder in the second degree in the case of Saml. V. B. Bennett, charged with the murder of Mary Ann Gibney by means of strychnine.

—— In the New Jerusalem Magazine for January, Rev. W. F. Evans of Claremont, late Methodist preacher in East Salisbury, Mass., announces a change of religious views, or of church connection, having become a "Swedenborgian."

—— In the Second District, which comprises the counties of Merrimack and Hillsborough, there were drafted last summer 2397 men. Of this number 50 paid the commutation fee; 50 went into the ranks; 75 failed to appear; 776 furnished substitutes, and 1440 were exempted for physical disabilities and other causes. In addition to these the town of Goffstown furnished 28 volunteers that joined the Heavy Artillery at Fort Constitution in Portsmouth harbor.

☞ An expedition under Gen. Graham recently moved up the James River, and landed at Brandon, a steamboat landing about sixty miles (by the river) below City Point, and made some important captures. The Brandon Farms were the property of "Buck" Allen, who was called the richest man in Virginia, before the war. He was so wealthy that no lady in the United States possessed money enough to captivate him, so he went to Canada, and married the daughter of the millionaire, Lord Drumore. This Mr. Allen owned some three thousand slaves—so many that he did not know them all, nor did all of them know their master when he appeared among them. From Brandon, a wide, level, sandy road, naturally at all times in good condition, leads to the city of Petersburg, distant sixty miles, the second town in importance in Virginia. Our troops, under General Butterfield, were once nearer this place than those under Graham, but failed to take possession of the easily made and promising prize.

☞ A bill, passed in the House, on Tuesday, to facilitate the payment of arrears, &c., to soldiers, provides that on the death of officers, non-commissioned officers, privates and other enlisted men, it shall be the duty of the proper officer to furnish to the Second Auditor a critical statement of the date of the death and full particulars of the military history of the deceased, together with amount of arrears of pay, bounty, clothing, &c., to be paid in certificates by any Paymaster of the Army. The same course is to be pursued in case of the person dying in hospital. All pay and bounties under the act of March, 1863, due to persons discharged or who may be discharged from the army within two years by reason of wounds, shall be adjudicated by the Commissioner of Pensions under the rules governing invalid pensions, and on certificates issued by him, payment may be made by any Paymaster of the Army.

☞ It is said, on semi-official authority at Washington, that two vessels of the United States Navy, which have just proved to be very fast, are under orders from the Navy Department to proceed to the Eastern Hemisphere for the purpose of chasing the pirate Alabama. One of these, it is said, will leave Washington this week, and the other soon after. Since the arrival of the Vanderbilt, information has been received of further movements of Semmes, and it is confidently expected that the next chase will not be so devoid of profit as the last.

☞ The extraordinary story comes from Athens to the effect that the Russian Legation in that city gave the young King a dinner which cost $10,000, and drank so much champagne as not to know whether they were in the body; and that while in this ecstatic condition one of the Secretaries threw all Europe into an "amazement," by telegraphing to St. Petersburg that King George was disgusted with his new subjects and had left the country.

BOLD ROBBERY.—The Press states that on Monday evening, about 7 o'clock, a young man went into the candle factory of Mr. Robert Hall in Portland, for the purpose of disposing of some tallow. Mr. Hull purchased it of him, and had taken out his pocket book to pay for it, when happening to turn his head for a moment, he received a blow which rendered him senseless for a moment or two. On recovering he found that the scamp had made off with the pocket book, which contained about $49.

— Bids for flour were opened on Saturday at the office of the depot commissary in Washington. Over twenty-eight thousand barrels were purchased, the bids ranging from $8 to $8.75 per barrel.

A STALLION FIGHT.—We have a letter from a gentleman of Council Bluffs, Iowa, giving a graphic description of a furious battle between two well bred stallions owned by him. The fight, as will be seen, was very savage and desperate. As a general rule, our stallions are not so vindictive and savage as those of England, but they all need watching. Among the horses in the steppes of Tartary, and those which roam in a half savage state over the pastures of the Don and Ukraine, the property of the Cossacks, fights between the stallions are very common and very desperate. When one has attained the leadership of a herd, he resolutely fights for the maintenance of his paramount authority. By-and-by, however, age brings its infirmities; he falls before the lusty vigor of a younger rival, and is driven away, half torn to pieces.

In their battles the stallions never use their hind feet. They bite and tear with their teeth, and strike fearful blows with the hoofs of their fore-feet. Even when the herd is attacked by wolves, the defence is with the mouth and fore-feet. Some have written that the mares and stallions form a circle, with their heels to the foe. This is purely imaginary. When the wolves, ravened by hunger, attack the herd, the mares form a circle, with the foals inside; but their heads, not their heels, are presented to the foe. Meantime, the stallions, with eyes of fire, and manes erect, fly from one point of the circle to another, encouraging the mares with their cries, tearing the wolves with their teeth, and trampling them beneath their hoofs. Fights between thoroughbred stallions would be very common, if there was not great care taken to keep them separate from each other. The famous horse Planet and his brother Exchequer once got together, and a terrible battle ensued. The young one had the best of it. Planet was badly bitten about the hocks, and finally ran away from his savage brother. He bears the marks of Exchequer's teeth to this day. Some weeks ago there had like to have been a battle at Mr. Watson's farm in New Jersey, between the famous horse Imp. Balrownie, and his no less famous son the colt, Captain Moore. Balrownie got loose, went off at a gallop, head and tail up, with a snort of triumph and a scream of defiance to all within hearing.—Captain Moore answered from his paddock, with a cry like the blast of a trumpet, and came rushing on like a whirlwind to attack his sire. The frail fence between them seemed likely to be broken at the first rush. There was shouting and running in hot haste, and all the "boys" flew to the rescue, and after some time Balrownie was secured.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA, Jan. 8.

Dear Spirit:—As I never saw a "mill" between two blooded horses described, and never saw but one, I propose to describe one which came off a few days since. I will preface by saying that I own two blooded stallions—Cherokee, and Nimrod. Cherokee is a dark chestnut, weighs 1030 lbs., 17 years old, and as handsome and perfect as a picture can be made. Nimrod is a dapple bay, 7 years old, weighs 1217 lbs.

On Wednesday, 23d Dec. last, the horses were turned into their respective paddocks, where they had been accustomed to take their daily exercise for the last five years, and never before had shown any disposition to fight. On this occasion, however, I saw as soon as I had stripped the bridle off from Cherokee, the deuce was in him, and almost instantly he made a dash at the horse on the other side of the fence, and by mutual consent they came heads together, a seven foot plank fence between them. I ran up, bridle in hand, and lashed away, hitting both over the head, but could not separate them. They reared upon the fence and fought across it, till they broke off three planks, when old Cherokee, although on the down-hill side, went over to his horse, and commenced the 1st Round. Both reared upon their hind feet and came to close quarters, Cherokee catching Nimrod by the right ear, whereupon the young one, by a turn of the neck, got hold of the old one's throat; this soon caused Cherokee to quit his hold, and breaking Nimrod's lock, both wheeled into position for scientific kicking; but neither made a kick.

2d Round. Both came rushing to the scratch, reared up with the evident intention of taking a grab at each other's ears; but Nimrod being the longest in the reach, got fairly on the back of the neck, and for a while held his horse with the grasp of a vice. Cherokee suddenly dropped down upon his knees, and using his rear propellers, shot ahead, breaking the young one's hold, and passing back, caught him by the left hock, and immediately swinging round, raised the leg up about four feet, and commenced running round, and soon ended the round by throwing his horse. First throw down for Cherokee.

3d Round. Both came up as fresh as ever, reared up, and Nimrod caught the old 'un by the end of the nose, and the two side by side, ran round the paddock, which is seventy feet square, Nimrod still retaining his hold. Thinking this foul, and exceedingly anxious to put an end to the fight, I once more tried to separate them.—Nimrod willingly let go his hold, but Cherokee, disregarding several hard licks which I gave him with a 10 foot hickory pole, was soon at him again for the 4th Round. After a few passes, a la Wolf, in which sundry pieces of hide about the size of the palm of my hand were snapped off, they separated for the 5th Round. This time both came rushing at each other, heads down, noses close to the ground. Each seemed to aim to catch by the hock. Cherokee being the quickest, got the desired hold, and immediately swung round to keep his adversary from getting a like hold upon him, and pursued his old tactics—running round until he threw the young one down, but passing too near his adversary's head, he was caught by the fore leg, which caused him to turn a somersault.

6th Round. Both were up about the same time, but Nimrod wheeled, and "threw up" his heels, in token of defeat, and ran, Cherokee pursuing and inflicting severe punishment upon his hips and loins, taking hide and flesh at every bite. Thus they went five times round the paddock, when the "old 'un" wind began to fail, and the other gradually went away from him, which gave me a chance to get between them, and by a vigorous application of the hickory pole over the old one's head, I succeeded in driving him back into his own paddock.

Cherokee, though minus several pieces of hide, a cut about two inches long in the end of the nose, and the right ear about half bitten off, was not otherwise much punished.

Nimrod was literally all cut to pieces.—Every leg bore evidence of the scientific manner in which Cherokee had used his teeth, in the shape of cuts from two to four inches long. Both hocks were cut to the bone, and he may never recover from the injury the joint has received.

This is the first stallion fight I ever saw, and I hope it may be the last. No one who has never witnessed a fight between two horses, can imagine with what savage ferocity they come together, and how still, sullenly and bull dog like, they fight. They are quick as a cat, and when they get their hold, they hold on like bull dogs. They are strong enough in the jaw to drag their adversary on ground when down, a feat which Cherokee accomplished in the above described fight. He dragged Nimrod several feet, and that, too, by a hold upon the hock, which is a much harder feat to accomplish than to drag by the neck.

The demand for Beeves is good and prices have declined from 25 to 50 cents per hundred upon all grades. Working Oxen in good demand, and trade active in Sheep and Lambs.

HEALTH FOR THE SOLDIER.—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to tight air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man. Only 30 cents per box. 222

IMPORTANT.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

PATRIOTIC LETTER FROM REV. MR. PATTERSON.—The Army and Navy Gazette publishes a letter from John S. Godfrey, Provost Marshal of the 1st District of New Hampshire, to the Secretary of the Treasury, enclosing $300 to pay commutation for Rev. Mr. Patterson, and also the following letter from Rev. Mr. Patterson, and a letter from the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. We publish the letter "for the good of the cause and the country."

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 8, 1863.

Dear Sir:—Having been exempted from serving as a "drafted man," as belonging to the "second class," I feel impelled to write you as follows:—

It was my purpose, when my name was drawn, to give myself to the service of my country; not that I consider myself under any additional obligation to enter the service from the mere fact of my name being drawn. I know very well that being over thirty-five years of age, and married, you would be obliged to exempt me. But it was my intention, though I should not go as a conscript, to go as the willing friend and servant of my country. With this design I tendered my resignation to my parish.—They positively, and I am told, unanimously refused to accept my resignation, or grant me leave of absence. I felt disappointed at their action; but believing they acted in good faith, I did not consider that I had a right to disregard their decision.

In addition to the strongly expressed unwillingness of my parish that I should leave the city, a very large number of true and faithful Union men, here and elsewhere, in and out of the army, have assured me that I can do better service to the country and humanity in Portsmouth than in the field. One friend, largely acquainted with the condition and needs of the time, writes me: "I tell you, Patterson, there is as great and noble work for men to do here in New England as in the army. The copperhead coils in every nook and field. His trail is everywhere. You can fight the good fight for the Union and the old flag better in Portsmouth than in the army."

Recent events have settled me in the conviction that this is true. The evident anxiety in some quarters that I should go, and the missiles that have been hurled persistently at my head, served to flatter me with the opinion that I have an influence here which I never dreamed of possessing. There ought to be a beatitude reading,—"Blessed are ye when the enemies of your country abuse you." Indeed there is one that conveys this significance. When I was first drafted, I looked upon it as a Providential indication that I should go. I am satisfied now that Providence intended it as an opportunity for home traitors to more fully vent their malignity, that they might be better understood by the community.

I shall remain at home for the present.—But it is my desire to do all I can for the redemption of my country. All I have and all I am are her's and God's. I therefore enclose a check for $300, the usual exemption fee, which you will please accept and so appropriate as will best subserve the interests of the Union cause. If you have no legal right to receive it, you will please forward it to the Secretary of the Treasury.—He can appropriate it to secure a volunteer, or in the way that will be most useful. I can ill afford to give it, it is true; but if my Government stands I can live,, and if it falls I don't want to live.

Very Respectfully Yours,
ADONIRAM J. PATTERSON.

JOHN S. GODFREY, Capt. and Provost Marshal, 1st District, N. H.

THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

A PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency Joseph A. Gilmore, Governor of the State of New Hampshire.

The General Government has determined to put down the Rebellion by the Fourth day of July next. By a Proclamation of the President of the United States it is

"Ordered, That a draft of 500,000 men to serve for three years, or during the war, be made on the 10th day of March next, for the military service of the United States, crediting and deducting therefrom so many as may have been enlisted or drafted into the service prior to the 1st day of March and not heretofore credited."

New Hampshire, having filled her quota under the call for 300,000 volunteers, will need to raise only her proportion of 200,000 men, in order to meet all demands upon her before the tenth of March. By telegram from the War Department I am informed that this call "is equivalent to a call for 200,000 men in addition to the 300,000 called for, October 17th, 1863." The quota of New Hampshire under this last call has not been officially announced, but will be, in round numbers, an advance of 67 per cent. on the quotas of each town as assigned under the call of October 17th, by circular from the Adjutant General's Office, bearing date November 9th. The whole number of men required of our State to meet the present call will not be far from 2000. A detailed statement of the additional men required from each town will be issued from the Adjutant General's Office as soon as possible.

Meanwhile I would urge upon the people of New Hampshire the importance of taking prompt and decisive measures to meet this new demand upon them. The Government bounties will not be paid after the first of March next; but till that time each fresh recruit will receive from the General Government $300.00; each man who has seen nine months service, $400.00. By the advice and with the consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby, declare that the State bounty of $100.00 to soldiers enlisting in New Hampshire Regiments will continue to be paid up to March 10th, 1864.

In order to meet this new requisition I am authorized by the War Department to recruit the four companies of New Hampshire Cavalry which have recently been attached to the First R. I. Cavalry to a full Regiment which shall be known hereafter as the First New Hampshire Cavalry.—This affords the sons of New Hampshire an opportunity to enrol their names in a regiment which is to be made up of picked men and will doubtless be assigned to special service. An accomplished officer of the regular army has already been detailed by the War Department to assist in the organization of this Regiment.

Re-enlistments under the recent call from members of New-Hampshire Regiments which have seen two years service will be credited to the quota of their respective towns, or any other town which they may prefer within the limits of the same Congressional District. Each man re-enlisting from these old Regiments will receive $400.00 Government bounty and $100.00 State bounty, and have the privilege of spending 30 days with his family. Many members of the 2d, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of infantry, the Sharp-shooters and the N. H. Battery have already re-enlisted, and will be credited under this new call, as our quota of 3768 men under the call of Oct. 17th, 1863, was filled at home, without counting these re-enlistments.

The men from New Hampshire can be raised by volunteering, and I am determined they shall be. By filling up the New Hampshire Cavalry to its maximum and encouraging the hearty disposition of our glorious veterans to re-enlist we shall meet all requisitions upon us by the 1st of March. I am confident that we shall do this. There will never be another draft in the old Granite State. Her sons will rise in their might and like an avalanche from their icy hills sweep the last traces of armed treason into the Gulf of Mexico before another return of our great national anniversary. Only one more effort and the thing is done.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

By His Excellency the Governor,
ALLEN TENNY, Secretary of State.

It has scarcely wings enough to walk, is larger than a Duck, of a dark brown color with white breast. When walking stands erect, has a long neck and narrow bill, slight legs with webbed feet, and too nails like the finger nails of a child.

☞ The rebel Senate is at loggerheads with Jeff. The Senate recently displaced Quartermaster General Lawton, who had been appointed by Davis without its approval.

— The South Carolinian of Columbia, S. C., states that a disastrous fire on Tuesday destroyed $3,000,000 worth of cotton, a large portion of which belonged to the Confederate government. It says that the loss was 2700 bales of Uplands and 800 bales of Sea Island.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M.D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Hospitals, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt the permanency of the cure, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all DISTRESSING DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a specific, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depression, Low Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should the tumor in the breast be already affected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of our female friends, which the use of Cal. may, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will effectually cure. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swellings of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Dim Eyes, Weak Nerves, Feeble Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance, Loss of Flesh, Nervous Debility, Fear of Insanity, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Secretive Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon Uterine Disease, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an indurated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be valued by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

FULL BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most efficient medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, generate pain and disease, and increases and nourishes the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A citizen of Ithica, New York, having conceived the idea that the ladies of the Hospital Aid Society of that village could make better progress in their noble work of sewing for the benefit of the soldiers if they would talk less, accordingly offered to contribute fifty dollars to the society if twelve ladies could be found who would sew all day without speaking. The task was entered upon by fifteen self-sacrificing women of that village, and fourteen of them actually accomplished this very difficult feat by self-denial, although tempted in various ways by a large number of visitors and interlopers.

Fun is the most conservative element of society, and ought to be cherished and encouraged by all lawful means. People never plot mischief when they are merry. Laughter is an enemy to malice, a foe to scandal and a friend to every virtue. It promotes good temper, enlivens the heart, brightens the intellect. Let us laugh when we can.

Man is a mill, the stomach the hopper. Be careful how much grist goes into the hopper, as clogging and heat will be the result of over-feeding.

Look your misfortunes in the face and reflect that it is better to be accused of a vice, being innocent, than acquitted of it, being guilty.

— The kind of American News, distributed over Europe, is well illustrated by a late number of Galignani's Messenger. It is there stated, on the authority of the London Standard, that "Alderman" (Admiral?) Wilkes has fought a duel with Secretary Welles, and killed him at the first fire.

— Bishop Wood of the Roman Catholic diocese of Philadelphia has created a sensation by denouncing all organizations of a political, social or religious nature whose members are in any way bound together by secret oaths or rules. His attention was called to the subject by the spread, in power and influence, of a society known as the the Fenian Brotherhood.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen the consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavy, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible matter being lighter than the air, passes off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used.
We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

ESTABLISHED 1852. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY FEB. 6, 1864. VOL. 24. NO. 32.

The Chronicle.

"Bounito no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generosity. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

TWO THINGS WANTED.—The Newburyport Herald, speaking of the President's late call for more men, says:—

We want to see two things—1st, the conscription law executed till every man needed is had; and, 2d, the revenue laws so amended as to meet this fresh demand on the treasury. We want the men. Our armies have never been as strong as they should be, and we have not added to them for a long time. The rebels are making a desperate effort to fill their ranks. White men from 18 to 60 are conscripted, and slaves are to be used. We have no doubt they will be a hundred thousand stronger than they were last November; and they are resolved to make a last effort to retrieve their falling fortunes. There are some things at present to encourage them. They hold out at Charleston; they have put us on the defense in East Tennessee; and they have recruited a large army in the Southwest. Now we must remember that they are on the inside of the circle, and we on the outside, and we should not rest satisfied till we have three men to their one. Then we may hope by a succession of victories in the Spring, to close up the rebellion in 1864; but if we allow them, through our supineness, to gain victories in the Spring, we may count ourselves in for two years more fighting. Patriotism and prudence alike demand that we should be prepared for an early blow, and have it struck with the full force of the loyal States.

But if a half a million men are to be raised, increasing our army three or four hundred thousand over what it was last year, this effort will be attended with great expense. New loans must be contracted—more paper money issued; and to keep up the credit of the government taxation must be increased. Many members of Congress sit in judgment on the commanders in the field, saying that this one is slow, and that one lacks courage. Let them see to it that they are not slow or cowardly. To support the government taxes must be increased as much as armies, and courage is needed in Congress as much as in the field.

A gentleman, whose wife is away on a visit protracted long beyond the promised return, writes as follows: "Tis said that absence conquers love, but the longer you stay away the better I like you." He expects her on the next train.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which Patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in a party leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Adm. Lee officially reports the destruction of the extensive rebel salt works in the vicinity of St. Andrews Bay.

The Navy Department has received information of the capture on the Florida coast of the blockade running schooner Caroline Gertrude, loaded with cotton; of the steamer Laura Jane, from St. John, N. B., and purporting to be from Havana, loaded with merchandise and cigars; and of the steamer Mayflower, bound to Havana with 75 bales of cotton.

The reports as to the number of rebel deserters received by the Army of the Potomac have been exaggerated.

Monday last was the time appointed for the rebel conscripts to assemble at the various places of rendezvous. It is said a large portion of the called failed to come.

The Cincinnati Gazette publishes a remarkable document,—which may be genuine, but in all human probability was manufactured out of whole cloth—which purports to be an address of rebel soldiers in the Tennessee army to their comrades, calling upon them to rebel against being conscripted, and claiming their right to be discharged when their three years' time is out, even if it is asserted at the point of the bayonet. The address enumerates the many promises made by the rebel leaders at the commencement of the war, states that they have all been falsified, and says boldly that there is no hope left but to return to their allegiance to the old Government.

Rumors of an early change in the command of the Army of the Potomac are again rife; also of a change in its organization.

The N. Y. Herald's dispatch from West Virginia says that on the 4th our forces had overtaken the enemy at the ford near Moorefield, in Hardy county. The rebels evidently intended to dispute the passage of the river. Our forces were in position and the artillery had just opened. A later dispatch, from Col. Mulligan, states that after six hours' hard fight he had driven the rebels, who were commanded by Early, from Moorefield, and that his cavalry had pursued, and was sharply engaged with Rosser on the South Fork, on the 5th.

The latest Philadelphia rumor is that a combined attack by the fleet under Farragut and some 20,000 troops by way of Pensacola, was made upon Mobile on Saturday, Jan. 30th.

The rebels on the 3d attacked Newbern, N. C., held the railroad between that place and Morehead City, and surprised and destroyed the gunboat Underwriter; but a dispatch dated the 3d says that Newbern was relieved, the rebels having retired on Kinston.

☞ A grand expedition of our forces southward, from Cairo, is now no secret.—It left that point in large numbers on a fleet of transports, was strengthened at Columbus, and still more at Memphis. The order of embarkation shows that the troops went down the river prepared to remain.—Rebel dispatches indicate that the expedition left the river at Vicksburg, and struck off across the State of Mississippi. A movement on Jackson, the Black River having been bridged by pontoons, is stated as having already become ascertained. And what next? The other day we were told that a large Federal force landed on the Gulf coast near Mobile. The fleet, too, has been made more formidable off that point. Is it not likely that the force under Gen. Sherman is now far on its way to co-operate with Gen. Banks, and reduce the last rebel stronghold, the only remaining rebel city on the Gulf?

☞ The original building of Colt's Pistol Factory, at Hartford, Conn., was destroyed by fire on Friday morning, with all the machinery and a large amount of other property. The building was 500 feet long by 60 wide; L, 160 by 60. The office, a large three-story building, was also destroyed. The new building in which the Minie rifles are made was saved. The loss cannot be correctly stated at present, but it will probably be a million of dollars. It is one of the most disastrous fires that ever took place in that State, and 1600 poor men, with dependent families, will be thrown out of employment. There is reason to fear the loss of the lives of three workmen killed by falling walls. Many workmen escaped by jumping from the windows. The two great engines, amounting to 500 horse power, are among the losses. The insurance is nearly a million—about two hundred thousand in Hartford—the balance in New York, and the loss to the companies, it is thought, will be about 60 per cent. on the amount insured.

— The pirate Alabama is reported to have been at Singapore on the 22d of December.

— The inauguration of the officers chosen by the State convention of Arkansas, took place on the 22d ult., in the Senate chamber at Little Rock.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By Uncle Tony.

Gulston's Memorial against Gov. Belcher in 1732—Belcher's defence.—A majority of the People petition for Belcher's removal.

Another artifice used against him, was a memorial of Gulston, the navy agent, and others; complaining of the disorderless state of the province; that the fort lay in ruins, and that the militia were without discipline; notwithstanding the probability of a war. This memorial was so artfully drawn, as to throw the blame of the neglect on the governor, without mentioning his name; which was intended, to prevent his obtaining a copy, and being allowed time to answer. Another complaint was made in the form of a letter, respecting the grant of the tract called Kingswood; in which he was represented as partial to his friends, in giving them an exclusive right to the whole of that territory, which they deemed the unappropriated lands of the province. Several parts of his administration were also complained of; and in particular, the infrequency of his visits to New-Hampshire. This letter was signed by six members of the council, and a majority of the representatives.

Gulston's memorial was presented to the lords of council; and by them referred to the board of trade, accompanied by the letter; and though Mr. Belcher's brother and son applied for copies, and time to answer, the request was evaded; and a report was framed in favor of putting New-Hampshire under a separate governor. When this report came before the privy council, Lord Wilmington, the president, ordered it back again; that the governor might have that justice which his agents had asked. By this means, he had opportunity to answer in his defence; that without money, the fort could not be repaired; that it was not in his power to tax the people; that he had frequently applied to the assemblies for money, to repair the fort; to which they had constantly answered, that the people were too poor to be taxed; and had solicited him to break through his instructions, and allow them to issue paper money, without any fund for its redemption; that the militia had always been trained according to law; and that he had constantly visited New-Hampshire, and held an assembly, twice in the year, unless prevented by sickness; for which he appealed to the journals. To corroborate these pleas, the governor's friends procured five petitions, in his favor, and praying for his continuance, signed by about five hundred people. The petitions, however, did not express the sense of the majority; who had been persuaded into a belief, that they should receive much benefit by a separate governor; and accordingly, a counter petition being circulated, was signed by about seven hundred of the inhabitants.

*The whole number was 652. They belonged to the towns of Hampton, Hampton Falls, Kingston, Chester, Stratham, Exeter and Kensington. A list of their names is in the Secretary's office of New Hampshire.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— John J. Leavitt, Esq., of Hampton, has been appointed and qualified as a deputy sheriff for the County of Rockingham.

—— The U. S. Senate has confirmed the nomination of Hon. E. A. Rollins, of this State, as Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

—— Companies B and D of the Invalid Corps, numbering about two hundred men, left Concord on Thursday morning, and arrived in Portland in the evening, marching at once over to Camp Berry. The Press states that they are to garrison the forts.

—— John M. Ordway, Esq., for some years Chemist at Lowell and Manchester, has been appointed Agent of the Manchester Print Works, in place of Col. Samuel Webber, resigned. Mr. Ordway graduated at Dartmouth College in 1844, with a high rank of scholarship.

—— The Salisbury Villager says the towns of South Hampton and Kensington are excited concerning the elopement of a married women, young and handsome, belonging in Kensington, to a single man belonging in the former town. The woman leaves a child, two years old, to be cared for by friends, and lawful husband doing service in the army of the Potomac.

—— The Mirror states that "the scarcity of girls for the Manchester mills and for families continues unabated. Never was anything like it. The mills are all starting up, and the demand for female operatives is on the increase, not enough coming in to fill up the increased demand. Five hundred more could find employment in Manchester now, at great pay in comparison with former times."

—— The Peterborough Transcript says the prospect of better times in the manufacture of cotton cloth is quite flattering just now. The new Union Mill at West Peterborough, is now running under full headway, and the old one will soon be put in operation. The "Old Bell" Factory, in Peterborough Village, is receiving a change of machinery, and will soon go to work again.

Conviction of Mr. Jeffries.—The jury in the case of Edward F. Jeffries, who has been on trial in Boston before the Supreme Criminal Court, on an indictment charging him with obtaining between $30,000 and $40,000 under false pretences, after a deliberation of four hours, rendered a verdict of Guilty as to the first two counts of the indictment, and not guilty in regard to the third, they acting in this latter case in accordance with the instructions of the Court. Jeffries was ordered to find sureties in the sum of $25,000 for further appearance.

— Gov. Cony of Maine has been authorized to raise two more regiments of infantry.

— Gen. Pope is organizing a spring campaign against the Indians.

— Sylvester C. Cook has been sentenced to three years imprisonment for counterfeiting United States $50 notes.

— Great exertions are making in the Kentucky Legislature to remove the capital from Frankfort to Louisville.

— Palmer, the sculptor, has generously contributed four of his most valuable works to the Albany Army Relief Bazaar.

— The New Bedford Mercury learns that there is a project on foot for the planting of a vineyard in the vicinity of that city, with a view to the manufacture of wine.

— The Springfield Armory turned out 25,000 muskets last month—the largest number ever fabricated in a single month. There are 200,000 on hand.

— Capt. Dacie, an Englishman, has perpetrated swindles on Richmond merchants and others to the amount of $1,200,000, and fled to England.

— The royal footmen in England have left off their mourning. All but the Queen's pages have assumed the scarlet liveries again.

— A New Haven Hibernian recently threw away a "little stun" which he picked out of a valuable gold ring that he had found. The aforesaid "stun" was a diamond.

— A clerk complains through the columns of the Richmond Whig that his salary of $1500 from the Government will only furnish his family of five persons with bread and water.

— One of the schemes of the day is a grand international alliance of hotels, so that all parts of Europe are to be in hotel corrrespondence—London, Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Brussels, Antwerp, &c.

— Halim Pasha, viceroy of Egypt, has made arrangements for the extensive employment of steam cultivators, and will have a very great breadth of land next season under cotton.

— Mr. Hughes, author of "Tom Brown's School Days," denies the report that he wrote the account of the Heenan and King prize fight which appeared in the London Times.

— The Montreal Witness asks for a scientific explanation of the fact that this has been the mildest winter ever known in Lower Canada, and the severest, perhaps, ever known in the Western States.

— A Paris paper states that the Florida is ready for sea, and she has accepted the challenge of the Union corvette Kearsarge, to engage in a fight at six miles beyond the French waters.

— Gov. Letcher stated in an address at Canville, Va., that the late "Stonewall" Jackson was in favor of conducting the war under the black flag, proposing to set the example himself by first carrying that flag in the face of the enemy.

— The title conferred by the Trustees of the New England Female Medical College on its graduates is hereafter to be "Doctress of Medicine." The college at Philadelphia has adopted the same "style and title" for its graduates.

— A member of the 2d Maine Cavalry, encamped in Augusta, was confined in the guard house in the evening, escaped the vigilance of the guard, went to get married, and succeeded in getting back unobserved to the guard house before morning.

— A great writer has observed that nothing is more difficult than to make presents with judgment. The difficulty is one which never troubles some people in the least. They avoid all questions of propriety by not making presents at all.

— Twelve years ago a clergyman of Calais, Me., married a certain couple. The bridegroom was poor, and could only promise to remember him. A day or two since the minister received a letter from him, mailed at New Orleans, enclosing the fee—a ten dollar bill.

— A gentleman direct from Wilmington reports, says the Richmond Enquirer, that the Federals now have twenty-six vessels blockading that port. These vessels are scattered for a mile or two off the mouth of Cape Fear, and guard all the avenues of approach with the most sleepless vigilance.

— A man fell overboard from the Fulton ferry boat at New York on Saturday evening, and a man who nobly threw off his coat and jumped in to save him, found on his return that some scamp had meanwhile made way with his coat and $56 in money which was in it.

Health for the Soldier.—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to night air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man. Only 30 cents per box. 222

Important.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. It prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so generally judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. His dose seldom exceeds two, and sometimes One Pill, besides the question of economy, and character can be best answered by evidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, ILLIGESTION, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a family Pill. spuo

Local.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, the petition of George L. Treadwell and 144 others for the appointment of Frank B. Johnson as City Marshal was received. [No appointment was made, and the thirty days allowed to the Board of Aldermen in which to make an election having expired, the matter of selecting a person to act as City Marshal, as well as other City Officers not yet elected, goes before the two boards of the City Council, who must make a choice in joint session.]

John Hodgdon, 2d, was elected Assistant Engineer, and Emery A. Dresser a member of the Committee on Truancy. The bonds of various City Officers, including the Collector and Treasurer, were approved.

☞ Ship Winged Hunter, just completed by Mr. John Currier, at Newburyport, is 191 1-2 feet in length on deck, 36 feet 5 inches wide, and 24 feet depth of hold, thus making her capacity about 1185 tons. She is owned by Charles Hill & Son of Boston, Capt. Lambert of this city, and the builder; and is to be commanded by Capt. Hinckley, late of ship Star of Peace, and who had charge of her at the time of her capture by the pirate Florida. She is chartered to load in Glidden & Williams' line in San Francisco.

☞ Capt. John S. Godfrey, late Provost Marshal of this district, has been recently commissioned Brigade Quartermaster, and is assigned to duty at Point Lookout, under Gen. Marston, relieving Capt. Platts, who is ordered to report to Gen. Butler.

☞ As previous engagements compel him to leave the State at once, Gen. E. W. Gantt, of Arkansas, is unable to accept the invitation of several of our citizens to address the people of Portsmouth at the Temple on Saturday evening.

A NEW TEMPLE.—Some plans are talked of which may result in placing a more extensive and more beautiful building on the site and neighborhood of the present edifice.—There is public need of a room in Portsmouth which will accommodate two thousand persons.

☞ Lt. Com. J. M. Bradford, U. S. N., Fleet Captain at Charleston, S. C., is at home upon a furlough, obtained on account of sickness in his family.

☞ The ship New Hampshire will be undocked at the Portsmouth Navy Yard today—Saturday.

☞ To-night there will be afforded our citizens a last opportunity to witness the Stratopateticon at the Temple, with its moving figures, and beautiful paintings, while Mr. Whistoo will we doubt not, only add to the number of those who have laughed at his wonderful changes in face and appearance. The exhibition this afternoon will afford a good opportunity for the children, as the hall will be darkened, and thus none of the effect lost.

☞ A dispatch from Nantucket, Feb. 4, gives the following:—

The ship-rigged screw steamer seen off the south side on Monday last passed eastward yesterday, steering east, under sail and steam. She is a large vessel.

The description answers very well for the U. S. steamer Colorado, which arrived in our lower harbor on Wednesday evening, and she is probably the "mysterious steamer" which dispatches from Nantucket have twice referred.

S. J. COURT, Exeter.—In the case Moses E. Emerson, Guardian of Edmund Morse v. N. K. Leavitt, a verdict was rendered for the defendant.

The next case tried was that of Edmund Adams v. David C. Palmer—action for contribution, to recover one-half the amount of two notes signed by the parties and paid by the plaintiff. Deft. confessed $22.—The jury were unable to agree.

In the action John J. Marsh v. Jacob W. Sanborn, the jury gave a verdict to the plaintiff for $355.45.

The case John G. Cutler, plaintiff in review, v. Nathaniel Welch, defendant in review, was commenced, but was taken from the jury and continued to the October term.

Tuesday morning the trial of the case John Knox v. Levi S. Bartlett was commenced. In 1859 Deft. sold to Plff. a farm in Kingston. This action is bought to recover damages for deceit and alleged misrepresentations made by Deft. to Plff., as to the condition and value of the farm in question at the time of purchase.

THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE
A PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency Joseph A. Gilmore,
Governor of the State of New Hampshire.

The General Government has determined to put down the Rebellion by the Fourth day of July next. By a Proclamation of the President of the United States it is

"Ordered, That a draft of 500,000 men to serve for three years, or during the war, be made on the 10th day of March next, for the military service of the United States, crediting and deducting therefrom so many as may have been enlisted or drafted into the service prior to the 1st day of March and not heretofore credited."

New Hampshire, having filled her quota under the call for 300,000 volunteers, will need to raise only her proportion of 200,000 men, in order to meet all demands upon her before the tenth of March. By telegram from the War Department I am informed that this call "is equivalent to a call for 200,000 men in addition to the 300,000 called for, October 17th, 1863." The quota of New Hampshire under this last call has not been officially announced, but will be, in round numbers, an advance of 67 per cent. on the quotas of each town as assigned under the call of October 17th, by circular from the Adjutant General's Office, bearing date November 9th. The whole number of men required of our State to meet the present call will not be far from 2000. A detailed statement of the additional men required from each town will be issued from the Adjutant General's Office as soon as possible.

Meanwhile I would urge upon the people of New Hampshire the importance of taking prompt and decisive measures to meet this new demand upon them. The Government bounties will not be paid after the first of March next; but till that time each fresh, recruit will receive from the General Government $300.00; each man who has seen nine months service, $400.00. By the advice and with the consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby declare that the State bounty of $100.00 to soldiers enlisting in New Hampshire Regiments will continue to be paid up to March 10th, 1864.

In order to meet this new requisition I am authorized by the War Department to recruit the four companies of New Hampshire Cavalry which have recently been attached to the First R. I. Cavalry to a full Regiment which shall be known hereafter as the First New Hampshire Cavalry.—This affords the sons of New Hampshire an opportunity to enrol their names in a regiment which is to be made up of picked men and will doubtless be assigned to special service. An accomplished officer of the regular army has already been detailed by the War Department to assist in the organization of this Regiment.

Re-enlistments under the recent call from members of New-Hampshire Regiments which have seen two years service will be credited to the quota of their respective towns, or any other town which they may prefer within the limits of the same Congressional District. Each man re-enlisting from these old Regiments will receive $400.00 Government bounty and $100.00 State bounty, and have the privilege of spending 30 days with his family. Many members of the 2d, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of infantry, the Sharp-shooters and the N. H. Battery have already re-enlisted, and will be credited under this new call, as our quota of 3768 men under the call of Oct. 17th, 1863, was filled at home, without counting these re-enlistments.

The men from New Hampshire can be raised by volunteering, and I am determined they shall be. By filling up the New Hampshire Cavalry to its maximum and encouraging the hearty disposition of our glorious veterans to re-enlist we shall meet all requisitions upon us by the 1st of March. I am confident that we shall do this. There will never be another draft in the old Granite State. Her sons will rise in their might and like an avalanche from their icy hills sweep the last traces of armed treason into the Gulf of Mexico before another return of our great national anniversary. Only one more effort and the thing is done.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

By His Excellency the Governor,
ALLEN TENNY, Secretary of State.

HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAPITAL $2,000,000.

TOTAL ASSETS, JAN. 1st, 1864, $3,386,270 00

That any Insurance corporation should possess a capital of One Million Dollars is in itself an astonishing fact, so greatly does this sum exceed the capital ordinarily employed. But when such a corporation increases its capital at one bound from one to Two MILLIONS, it simply astounds the observer, and makes him more than ever inclined to inquire into the grounds and the methods of such prosperity. And what is the secret of this remarkable success? It consists in the fact that the officers of the Home determined at the outset to make their company the foremost undertaking in the nation—to make it known, and trusted and esteemed, and admired everywhere. And they have faithfully labored for the attainment of this end. They increase their capital from $500,000 to one Million, and they found that the million capital would pay, and now they have increased it to Two Millions! When we state that during the year 1863 the Home received in premiums the sum of $1,286,000; that the dividends declared on its capital stock of 1,000,000 amounted to $100,000: that it has a gross surplus of $1,210,485 09, the intelligent reader perceives at once that its Directors were wise in trusting to the principle of doing business on a large and constantly increasing capital. The officers were unanamous for the increase; and experience demonstrates that they were right, and that the attributes of success reside in a large Stock Capital when well managed!

The property of the Home is not alone attributable to its large capital. The skill, fidelity, assiduous attention, and experience of its officers have largely contributed to the result now so brilliantly evident. The able report of President Martin testifies to his talents. He needs no commendation from us. There is, in that document, experience the most ample and through, as to the character and the history of Fire Insurance in this city, ripe judgment, dignity, taste—all the tokens of capacity for an eminent position. Nor is he destitute of worthy co-workers. Mr. Willmarth, the Vice-President of the Home, is an officer of great ability, and extensive and minute knowledge of the Insurance business. As such, indeed, he is throughly known and highly appreciated by the entire Insurance fraternity. So, too, is Mr. McGee, the Secretary, for many years an underwriter, and especially well versed in the details of the business in the West and throughout the "unpaved districts." It would be hard to find a more indefatigable worker. This latter remark applies with equal force to Mr. Heald, the Company General Agent and Adjuster, who has no superior in this peculiar and important department.

Moreover, the Home has strengthened itself in public confidence by its prompt payment of losses and its avoidance of litigation. It has had very few suits at law, and has been uniformly successful in all of them. At the outset—The Home being the first New York company to establish agencies throughout the country—it was naturally regarded with some distrust. But all distrust has long since vanished, under the warm sunshine and trust-inspiring influence of its splendid success. A score or more of new companies have sprung up, following in its footsteps—though a long way behind—and without in the least embarrassing the strong current of its prosperity. It has probably, with one exception, a larger list of agents than any company in the world; yet it has suffered but very little from the remissness or dishonesty of its agents. Indeed, its entire losses from this source have been but about one-fifth of one per cent. of its premiums received.

The existence, in the Metropolis of America, of such a corporation as the Home is a national honor, and should be a source of pride and pleasure, to all who appreciate the worth of solid, dignified, beneficent institutions. We honor it, therefore, most heartily—for its wisdom, its liberality, its energy, and its success in a great and worthy work.—Insurance Monitor.

NEW MILITARY PERIODICAL.—Charles B. Richardson, New York, has begun the publication of a new monthly, entitled "The United States Service Magazine," the first number just issued, bearing date January 1, 1864. It contains articles by Gen. Barnard, Admiral Davis, Gen. Barry, Captain Boynton, Mr. C. G. Leland, Dr. Jacobs and other gentlemen of approved fame. The list of papers is as follows:—A Word of Greeting; Chattanooga, (with a map;) The Northern and Western Lakes; A Few Facts About Artillery; A Modern Fable, with an International Moral; The Burial at Gettysburg, (Poetry) The Use of Iron in Fortifications; War Songs and their Influence in History; Greek Fire and other Inflammables; Modern War in Theory and Practice; Later Rambles over the Field of Gettysburg; French Military Phrases; Literary Intelligence and Notes of New Books; Editor's Special Department; and Official Intelligence relating to the Army and the Navy. The work is under the editorial charge of Prof. Coppee, well known both as a soldier and a scholar. The first number of the U. S. Service Magazine is a decided success, and we expect to see the periodical established as one of the most effective supports of the government, and of those measures through the triumph of which alone can a nation be rendered the scene of order and the possessor of power. The military interest ought alone to suffice to make the new publication a profitable one, but it will undoubtedly receive a great liberal support from the people at large. We may add that, in addition to its other merits, it is handsomely printed.

THE FORT ON SALISBURY POINT.—We improved one of the pleasant days of last week to visit the Fort at the mouth of the Merrimack. What was our surprise to find on that bleak and barren sand bank, such solid and substantial evidence of the industry and skill of those having charge of this important point. The chief engineer is Col. Macomb, who is stationed at Portsmouth, N. H.—The superintendent is Mr. Charles Pierce. After careful examination and inquiry we do not hesitate in saying there is no public work in the country where more much labor has been so faithfully performed in so short a time. In all the departments, skillful and reliable workmen are employed, and the government is getting value received for the money expended. As a matter of economy, a few hands only will be retained for some weeks to come. Early in the spring, as soon as the guns can be obtained, active operation will again commence, and we hope by next Fall our harbor will be in good condition to keep off all enemies to our prosperity.—Newburyport Herald.

TO GREENLAND.—We understand Hon. William Simes, Ex-Mayor, has purchased the country seat in Greenland formerly the property of Mr. Alonzo Brown, and purposes to make his residence there. And Capt. Samuel Billings, of this city, has purchased the property of Mr. James Packer, adjoining the residence of Rev. Mr. Robie, and purposes to reside there in future. The beautiful avenue from Portsmouth to Exeter, through Greenland and Stratham, is becoming the healthful and pleasant retreat of many of our retiring merchants and shipmasters.

CASUALTY.—A son two years old of Mr. Cornelius Quinn, who resides near the Portsmouth Bridge, when alone in a room caught his clothes on fire on Tuesday last. He crept into the cradle and was there found, so much injured as to cause his death the next day.

Morning Chronicle.

THE POWHATAN.— A letter from Havana, Jan. 12, gives the following account of the recent visit of the Powhatan:—

The steamer Powhatan, bearing the broad pennant of Admiral Lardner, left this port on the 29th ult., having passed a week in our waters. She was visited by many of our inhabitants, who returned wonder-filled with the immensity of her battery, and more than ever convinced of the power of the North and of the certainty of overcoming their domestic or foreign enemies. Particularly has every one been struck with Admiral Lardner; his whole appearance and manners inspired respect and confidence, and his visit has been particularly grateful to the Union Americans sojourning here. I met the Admiral in the public square one night, sitting most unostentatiously alone, almost lost in the crowd, enjoying the moonlight and the music, unaccompanied by the trammels of aristocratic rank. He displayed the true affability of a nature's nobleman, and we all wished him prosperity and fame as he left our port. His officers made many friends among us, who hope soon to see them again.

Captain Rockendorf will be pardoned by those who cavil over his refusal to attack the Alabama at Martinique if he overcomes her at sea, where his fears of embroiling us in a war with France will not embarrass his actions. Lt. Com't Boyd, Lieut. McNair, Lieuts. P. C. Pope and Pile, of the Marine Corps, Drs. Mayo and Johnson, Messrs. Baker, Wilkins, Wallack, Jackson, Cassel, Morris, Evans, Harris and Greer form, without doubt, one of the most pleasant ward-room messes in the service. An American glories in being represented wherever our flag is carried by such gentlemen. At Key West they attended a ball given on board Admiral Bailey's flag ship, the San Jacinto, of which doubtless your correspondent there has written you.

On the 8th the Powhatan came steaming into Matanzas, which visit was very opportune. She had scarcely anchored when Admiral Lardner was saluted by the man-of-war Cruz. The Powhatan then saluted the nation with twenty-one guns, which was with some trouble returned by the Fort (or castle, as it is called,) of San Severino.—Quite an accident occurred just after the fifteenth gun. A cartridge ignited, burst and set on fire several others, severely burning six soldiers, two of whom died soon after, and of the remaining four one is not expected to survive; three will probably be saved. The salute went on till the seventeenth gun, when there came a long, very long pause, and it was presumed that all was over, when two guns were fired with scarcely any interval. Our Acting Consul, Mr. Hall, was on board and waited some time that the Consular salute might not mix or interfere with that from the castle, but some fatality attended it, for after waiting a long time after the twentieth gun the salute of seven guns was fired, during which the twenty-first gun from the fort went off, accidentally, I was told.

However, it should be mentioned that Matanzas is no longer considered a port of salute, and it was reported there that permission from Havana would have to be obtained. I was told that the salute was fired at the expense of the Governor, who sent to Admiral Lardner his compliments, and placed at his disposal his palace, horses, carriage, &c. I was agreeably surprised to find so strong a Union sentiment as was expressed in Matanzas. Gentlemen stopped the officers in the streets, offered their houses and carriages, and it was gratifying to see how generally they were saluted.

I dare say Admiral Lardner was amused at a little incident which occured while he was walking in the square with Capt. Rockendorf. A little boy—a son, I am to d, of Rafael Sanchez (a rank Secessionist)—stepped up to the Admiral and asked, "Are you a Yankee?" "Yes, my boy," said the Admiral. "Well, I hate the Yankees," replied the youngster, running away. Thus are the Young Rebel ideas taught to shoot.

The Powhatan was visited by a great many gentlemen while in Matanzas, and many ladies sailed round and round her. She left on Sunday morning, thus disappointing a large number of ladies who had formed a party for visiting her, no doubt to ye digest of ye junior officers.

The pith of the situation, as regards the Danish quarrel, is comprised in two questions: Will the Germans enter Schleswig? Will the Conference take place? An affirmative answer to the first, means war; to the second, peace.

LAST AND BEST.
THE MODEL COOK,
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is supplied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept at hand as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

We hereby, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the casting being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plates, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which plates can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, so no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to cause headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, none possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which renders them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

E. & A. RAILROAD.—A large number the citizens of Bangor, friendly to the uropean & North American Railway, met the Bangor House on Monday afternoon, hear the explanations and statements of
r. E. R. Burpee, of St. John, in reference the recent Railway movements in New runswick. Mr. Burpee made a statement facts, showing the unanimity of sentiment
St. John in favor of the European & orth American Railway, and of the exten-
on of the line to the frontier of Maine, eeting the line as located in Maine by the ay of the Mattawamkeag. He also gave counts of the various meetings in other rts of the Province in its favor, and showthat a majority of the Legislature are faorable to the plan.

After remarks by several gentlemen, a solution passed, in substance, that the terests of Bangor and the State of Maine ll for the completion of the line from angor to a point of junction with the New runswick line at the boundary; and that surances should be given the people of ew Brunswick, of the readiness of Maine meet this line from St. John at the froner of Maine at the earliest day they may ease to name.

The Agency is not only the largest in New Engeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given rove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT

HE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; nd SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF DVANTAGES OR ABILITY. He would add hat he has abundant reason to believe, and an prove, that at no other office of the kind are he charges for professional advice so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during wenty years past, has enabled him to accumuate a vast collection of specifications and official ecisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and echanical works, and full accounts of patents ranted in the United States and Europe, render im able, beyond question, to offer superior facilies for obtaining Patents.

All necessary or a journey to Washington, to rocure a patent, and the usual great delay there, re here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable nd successful practitioners with whom I have had fficial intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors hat they cannot employ a person more competent nd trustworthy, and more capable of putting their pplications in a form to secure for them an early nd favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN pplications, on all but ONE of which patents ave been granted, and that is now pending. Such emarkable proof of great talent and ability n his part leads me to recommend all inventors o apply to him to procure their patents, as they an be sure of having the most faithful attention estowed on their cases, and at very reasonable harges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course
f his large practice, made on twelve rejected appli-ations SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of hich was decided in his favor, by the Commis-

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The rebel Gens. Early and Rosser were compelled to abandon their design in Western Virginia, and have retreated up the south fork of South Branch, towards Shenandoah Valley. Our forces captured quite a number of prisoners and released many of those taken from us; while the enemy have lost a large number of men by desertion.

The bands of guerrillas apparently have evacated Fairfax county, Va. A cavalry expedition made a long scout towards the Blue Ridge without finding anything except a few stragglers from Moseby's band.

The rebel forces are retiring from before Newbern, N. C. In the recent fights our loss was not heavy; perhaps 100 would cover the killed, wounded and missing.

Gen. Gilmore was still keeping up a slow but regular fire on Charleston on the 1st, averaging three shells every five minutes. The navy was still quietly picketing the harbor. The rebels have mounted five guns on Sumter, piled up sand-bags and cut through the rubbish.

Rebel dispatches report that Gen. Martin attacked the Union forces near Sevierville, East Tennessee, on the 28th, and after a stubborn fight drove them from the field; also, that on the 30th, a Mississippi regiment entered Corinth, Miss., and captured a quantity of arms, &c.

Longstreet's forces have been heavily reinforced from Virginia and North Carolina, and are concentrated at Sieversville. Our communication with Gen. Park at Cumberland Gap has been cut off by the enemy, but, it is paid, he announces by courier that he can hold the Gap for months. The battle at Tazewell on Sunday, Jan. 24, lasted some hours, and Gen. Wilcox was painfully though not seriously wounded. Our forces were repulsed, fell back to a good position, and had not been molested up to the 31st.

The N. Y. Times' letter from Chattanooga says rebel deserters are pouring into our lines by hundreds, and open mutiny is feared by the rebel leaders in consequence of their late conscription law.

News from Memphis says Corinth was evacuated Jan. 25, and every thing of value taken to Memphis. All our forces in that vicinity were concentrated at Memphis and the entire infantry and artillery have gone, under Gen. Hurlbert, upon boats down the river. This expedition is splendidly equipped and includes, among others, the 16th army corps. A great cavalry expedition has also been organized under Brig. Gen. W. L. Smith, Chief of Gen. Grant's cavalry, which will soon be heard from. The expedition will make an extensive raid into Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia. Gen. Grierson accompanies the expedition. The force is large and well appointed. A dispatch to the Traveller says, more definitely: A large Union force has crossed Tennessee river at Larkinsville, Ala.; it is rumored that it will attack Rome, Ga. 49 regiments left Memphis; two corps have gone from Vicksburg toward Jackson; a heavy cavalry expedition has started for interior Mississippi, Georgia, and Alabama. It is rumored that all these movements point to one result.

The N. Y. World's New Orleans letter says: Our forces at Madisonville are being constantly increased, evidently with a view of making it a base of supplies. Rumor says Gen. Banks will soon embark for Texas, betokening advance movements in that quarter.

☞ The Oswego (N. Y.) Palladium states that the coal dealers there have been notified by a Government officer not to export coal to Canada. The Canada coal trade has been an extensive one at Oswego, and the embargo will be severely felt. The reason assigned for the new regulation is this: Canada imports all her anthracite coal from the United States, and during the past two years the coal dealers of Canada have been doing a thriving business in supplying the rebel blockade runners at Nassau, with United States anthracite coal—without which they could not escape the vigilance of our blockading fleets, as a bituminous coal would make too much smoke. The attention of the United States Government having been called to this trade, it has been stopped.

A NEAT COMPLIMENT.—'Ah! Jemmy, Jemmy,' said kind hearted Dr. Ponsonby, Bishop of Derry, to a drunken blacksmith, 'I am sorry to see you beginning your evil course again; and, Jemmy, I am very anxious to know what you intend to do with that fine lad, your son?'

'Intend, sir,' said Jemmy, 'to do for him what you cannot do for your son.'

'Eh! eh! how's that—how's that?'

To which Jemmy, with a burst of genuine feeling, said:

'I intend to make him a better man than his father.'

As evidence of a woman's insanity one of the reasons cited on a recent trial out West was—"Her viewing the subject of religion from the esoteric stand-point of Christian exegetical analysis, and agglutinating the polysynthetical ectoblasts of homogeneous asceticism."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Willard Wilson, of Paper Mill Village, shot himself dead in his own house on the 28th ult.

—— Thomas Chase, Esq., of Nashua, County Commissioner, who has been dangerously sick for a long time, with but little hope of recovery, is out of danger.

—— The number of men enlisted in this State in the month of January was 692, making a total of 3506 mustered into the U. S. service under the call of 17th Oct., 1863.

—— The long talked of levee to be given in Nashua by the Cadets, comes off on Wednesday evening next, and the Telegraph says "it will undoubtedly be the most brilliant affair that ever occurred in the Old Granite State."

—— The citizens of Dover are to give Mr. Benjamin Barnes, jr., the projector of the winter's course of lectures in that city, a Benefit Concert, on the evening of the 17th inst., in consideration of his efforts and the loss sustained by the enterprise. Mr. H. C. Barnabee, of Boston, is to be one of the performers.

—— The Rochester Union gives the following items:—

A large hotel of J. B. Trickey, at Jackson Village, which was in a forward state of completion, was blown down one night last week.—The fright in Conway in regard to incendiaries has subsided. No watch is kept now at the hotels and large boarding houses.—Two men, a few days ago, killed five deer among the White Mountains.

—— The Colors of the Sixth N. H. regiment (nearly all the members of which regiment have re-enlisted, and are now home on furlough) have been lettered, and they bear the following inscriptions:

Camden, N. C., April 19, 1862; Bull Run, Va., Aug. 29 and 30, 1862; South Mountain, Md., Sept. 14, 1862; Antietam, Md., Sept. 17, 1862; Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 13, 1862; Vicksburg, Miss., July 3, 1863; and Jackson, July 16, 1863.

—— Arrangements are being completed for the observance of the one hundredth anniversary of the settlement of Lancaster, on the 14th of July next. Col. William H. Farrar, now of Oregon, will deliver the oration. Many former residents have signified their intention to be present, and as the time fixed is while the tide of travel to the White Mountains is at its height, as well as near the time of the College Commencements, a brilliant and successful gathering is expected. All natives and former residents are invited. Communications covering letters and toasts are solicited, and should be directed to Edward Savage, Esq., Secretary.

THE HARTFORD FIRE.—The fire which resulted in the destruction of one-half of the large building situated within Colt's Dyke, Hartford, Conn., known as Colt's Armory, and as the most extensive pistol and rifle manufactory in this country, and probably in the world, it is now estimated, destroyed a million of dollars' worth of firearms, half a million dollars' worth of machinery, and the balance of two millions of dollars' worth of other property. The fire was discovered about 8 o'clock in the steam attic of the centre wing, called the drying room, and spread quickly to other parts of the building, the floors being full of oil and burning like tinder. So fiercely did the flames come on, that hundreds of the workmen on the second story had barely time to escape. Some seized their tools, and others seized cases of machinery, and attempted to carry them out, but in many cases they had to drop them, and some barely saved their lives by leaping from the windows.

The fire is a serious calamity to Hartford. The sudden loss of work by between one and two thousand mechanics and laborers (most of them with families) will be seriously felt in all the local interests of that city. To the company it will be a great disaster, for it will take probably two years to rebuild and put their establishment in as good order as it was. The large government contracts of the works had been nearly all filled, and the armory was chiefly employed on regular sale work, for which there was a brisk demand.

The Springfield Union says, editorially, that when first discovered the fire could have been easily subdued, but it was found that the city water works, upon which the building mainly depended, had been tampered with and would not work. This leads to the suspicion that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

A dispatch from Hartford says that the amount of insurance on the property was only $660,000; that the works will continue to give employment to 700 or 800 men, and that about 900 men will be thrown out of work. As to the origin of the fire it declares it "a mystery."

— Recently a family in New York partook of some uncooked ham, which made them all sick and caused the death of a little girl two years old. Although to the naked eye the ham appeared perfectly good, yet a microscopic examination showed that it was filled with an insect known to science as the trichimas spiralis, which, in the opinion of the physicians, caused the illness of the family and the death of the child.

— A Paymaster's safe in New Orleans has been robbed of $35,000.

— Hon. Thomas Ewing lies very ill at his home in Lancaster, Ohio.

— The Springfield Republican urges a tax on lying,—says it would soon raise enough to pay off the national debt.

— A woman in New York jumped from a sixth-story window and killed herself, because her husband re-enlisted.

— A Board of Engineers is now in session in Washington, on the subject of coast defences and other matters of a similar character.

— The Richmond Sentinel states that two steamers—the Pet and Hercules—have run through the blockade at Wilmington. These are the first for a long time.

— It is said that a rebel spy was caught while dancing at the ball recently given at the headquarters of the 3d corps of the Army of the Potomac.

— A Portland paper says there is a ship belonging to that State, now at sea, forty-three years old, whose first owner, first master and first consignee are all living.

— A man in Gardiner, Me., was enrolled twice on the list of the 2d class, and once on that of the 1st. He was not much surprised when he was drafted.

— The Legislature of Virginia at Alexandria, has indefinately postponed the election of a U. S. Senator in place of Mr. Bowden, Democrat.

— In the U. S. House of Representatives, on Friday, Mr. Smith, of Kentucky, favored "the confiscation of all rebel property, and said we should whip down this hellish rebellion."

— The Maine House of Representatives have, by a vote of 68 to 63, indefinitely postponed the resolves relative to the proposed change of the State Capital from Augusta to Portland.

— The Richmond Whig says the time has come for the rebels to dispense with barbers. $1 for shaving, $2 for trimming the beard and $4 for trimming the hair and beard, it considers too much of a shave.

— An experienced teacher in the ways of society once advised his eleves to finish an evening call at such a point as should make the entertaining hostess wish they had stayed longer.

— Miss Hosmer, the sculptor, has received the amende honorable from the English newspaper which dared to say she did not do work which has given her so brilliant a reputation.

— The Richmond Examiner says several thousand Yankee prisoners are about to be sent to Georgia. Nine hundred of the seven thousand in Richmond were in the hospital on the 26th ult.

— A mosquito flotilla, which has been preparing for some weeks at New York, is about to sail for New Orleans, where it will be divided into several fleets, to operate in such rivers and lagoons as are impassable to larger vessels.

— The Governors of loyal States have been informed that they are to be credited with all men enlisted in the regular army since September 3, 1863. Hereafter trimonthly reports of regulars enlisted will be sent to the governors.

— The Gloucester Advertiser says that a small lot of halibut, the first of the season, arrived there from the Western bank, and sold at thirteen cents per pound—the highest price ever obtained by the fishermen for this description of fish.

— A man in Bangor hitched his horse to a tin wash boiler! The last seen of the horse he was rushing furiously down the street, and across Kenduskeag Bridge, frightened almost out of his wits, as well he might be.—Those Bangorians are fertile in new ideas.

— Commodore Palmer has been relieved of the command of the frigate Hartford, and takes command of the steamer Pensacola. He is placed in charge of the first division of the Western Gulf Blockaking Squadron, relieving Commodore Bell, who comes North.

— A grocer has been fined in England for an assault upon a young lady in a church. A quarrel arose in the church about the occupancy of a pew, when the grocer seated himself in the lap of the young lady, and would not rise until he was forcibly removed.

— A Halifax dispatch states that in the Chesapeake case the judge has decided to restore the vessel and cargo to the owners, subject to such conditions respecting payment of expenses as the Attorney General may exact. The latter demands surety against latent claims, to which the owners demur. The court adjourned to Wednesday next.

Some days since a lady called at a daguerrean establishment in Oxford, New York, to have a photograph taken of her niece, a little child then with her. The photograph was taken, and while the lady was waiting to have it finished, the little girl strayed into the laboratory and swallowed some kind of poison which she found there. When missed and looked for she was found in the laboratory, dead, having expired almost immediately. The aunt has since become insane.

☞ The new steamship Western Metropolis, from New Orleans Jan. 26, arrived at New York on Wednesday morning. On the morning of the 28th she captured the steamer Rosita. The captain informed them that he was from Havana on the 25th, bound to Nassau. Our officers on taking charge, found her to be in a sinking condition, some three feet of water already in her hold. In a short time she was reported safe, and to be quite free from water. The engineer on taking charge of her engine, found less than one cock of water in her boiler, with 35 pounds pressure steam, and the safety valve fastened down. It is evident that they intended to destroy her; and her officers and crew, learning that they had been captured by an unarmed transport, were somewhat vexed, and said, "had they been aware of the fact, they would have given us much more trouble." After proper preparation the prize arrived at Key West on the 29th. On his arrival Capt. Hilton immediately reported to Admiral Bailey, and delivered up to him the steamer, with her officers and crew who on being searched, were found to have on their persons over $1,000 in gold.

☞ On Wednesday, in the U. S. Congress, the House, in Committee of the Whole, refused — by the very decisive vote of 26 to 73—to repeal the exemption clause of the Enrollment act, and subsequently reduced the amount from $400, as it was fixed in the Senate bill, to $300, as in the old law. On motion of Mr. Stevens of Pennsylvania, the bill as reported from the Committee was amended by striking out the clause which held a person paying commutation liable in future drafts; and as the bill now stands such person is released for the full term of three years. The President and the United States Courts decided last year, in opposition to the War Department, that the payment of $300 must operate as an equivalent for the personal service of the drafted man during the period for which his service was required, and the House now takes the same view. It is manifestly the just one.

There is a place in New Hampshire, they say, where they never have any old maids. When a girl reaches the age of twenty, and is still unmarried, the young fellows club together and draw lots for her. Those who lose the chance, pay a bonus to the one who gets her.—Boston Transcript.

HEALTH FOR THE SOLDIER.—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to night air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man. Only 30 cents per box. 222

IMPORTANT.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.
